FITCH: SHIELD, CREST, AND MOTTO..... ..
(IN LAYMEN'S TERMS IS DESCRIBED AS)

SHIELD

THE FITCH SHIELD IS ONE OF THE 'HONORABLE ORDINARIES' (WHATEVER THAT IMPLIES) WITH GREEN BACKGROUND COLOR, WHICH IS REPUTED TO SIGNIFY THAT 'WE' ARE FULL OF LOVE, GLADNESS, SURROUNDED BY MIRTH; A GOLD CHEVRON (INVERTED 'V'), SIGNIFYING POWER AND / OR SOVEREIGNTY; AND THREE GOLD LEOPARD'S HEADS, ONE ON EACH SIDE OF THE TOP OF THE INVERTED 'V' WITH THE THIRD BENEATH THE BAR OF THE TWO PIECES THAT COME TOGETHER. THE LEOPARD (IT IS WRITTEN) WAS USED BY LORD'S OF THE REALM.

CREST

THE FITCH CREST (LOCATED ABOVE THE SHIELD) IS A GOLD-COLORED LEOPARD'S HEAD WITH A RED-HANDLED, STEEL SWORD THRUST DIAGONALLY THROUGH THE LEOPARD'S MOUTH UPWARD DIAGONALLY, THRU IT'S SKULL. THIS IS SAID TO SYMBOLIZE STRENGTH, BOLDNESS WITH HARDINESS. THE WREATH, OR ROPE, UPON WHICH THIS 'FULL-FACED' LION'S HEAD SITS SIGNIFIES THAT 'WE' VIEWED 'FULL-FACED', OVER-ACHIEVING, COURAGEOUSLY VALORED, WITH DEPENDABLE PROWESS IN FULL BATTLE DRESS. BATTLE, DEFINED IN MODERN TERMS AS: ANY CONFRONTATION OF WHICH WE HAVE SET UPON WITH OUR INNATE NEED TO BE - - - RIGHT..... ..

THE FITCH MOTTO IS: "PROMPT AND CERTAIN".

"PROMPT", LIBERALLY INTERPRETED TO MEAN THAT 'WE' HAVE A FETISH FOR PROMPTNESS, EVEN TO BEING TOO EARLY, AND EXPECT THOSE WITH WHOM WE'VE A PLANNED MEETING - - - TO BE (AT LEAST) AS PROMPT.

"CERTAIN", MORE EXACTING TO MEAN THAT 'WE', WITH RARE EXCEPTION, ARE ALWAYS RIGHT. HOPEFULLY, WE COVERED ALL BASES, BEFORE MAKING ANY UNQUALIFIED STATEMENT(S). ASK ANY FITCH WHO ATTEMPTS TO CARRY ON A SERIOUS CONVERSATION WITH ANOTHER FITCH.... ..

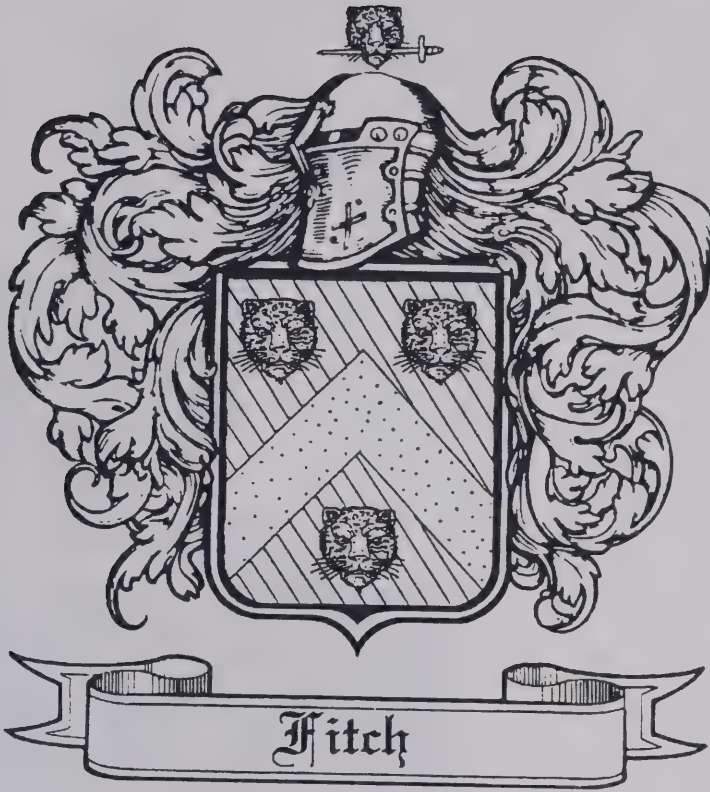
The Fitch Coat Of Arms

And Its History



Coats of Arms were developed in the Middle Ages as a means of identifying warriors in battle and tournaments. The present function of the Coat of Arms (although still one of identity) serves more to preserve the traditions that arose from its earlier use.

Heraldic artists of old developed their own unique language to describe an individual Coat of Arms. The Coat of Arms illustrated herein was drawn by an heraldic artist from information recorded in ancient heraldic archives. Our research indicates that there are often times a number of different Coats of Arms recorded for a specific surname. When possible we select and translate the Coat of Arms most representative of your surname or its variant for illustration.

THE FITCH COAT OF ARMS HEREBY ILLUSTRATED IS OFFICIALLY DOCUMENTED IN BURKE'S GENERAL ARMORY. THE ORIGINAL DESCRIPTION OF THE ARMS (SHIELD) IS AS FOLLOWS:

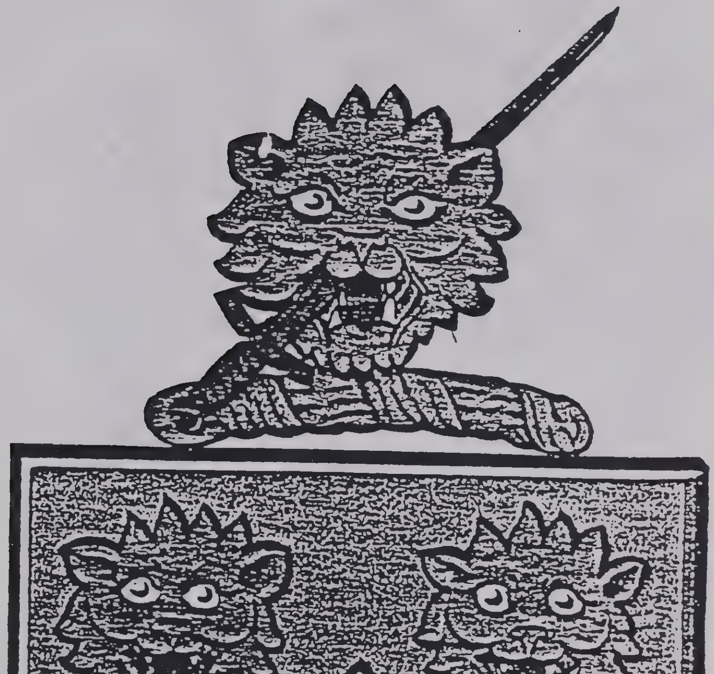
"VERT A CHEV. BETW. THREE LEOPARDS' FACES OR."

WHEN TRANSLATED THE BLAZON ALSO DESCRIBES THE ORIGINAL COLORS OF THE FITCH ARMS AS:

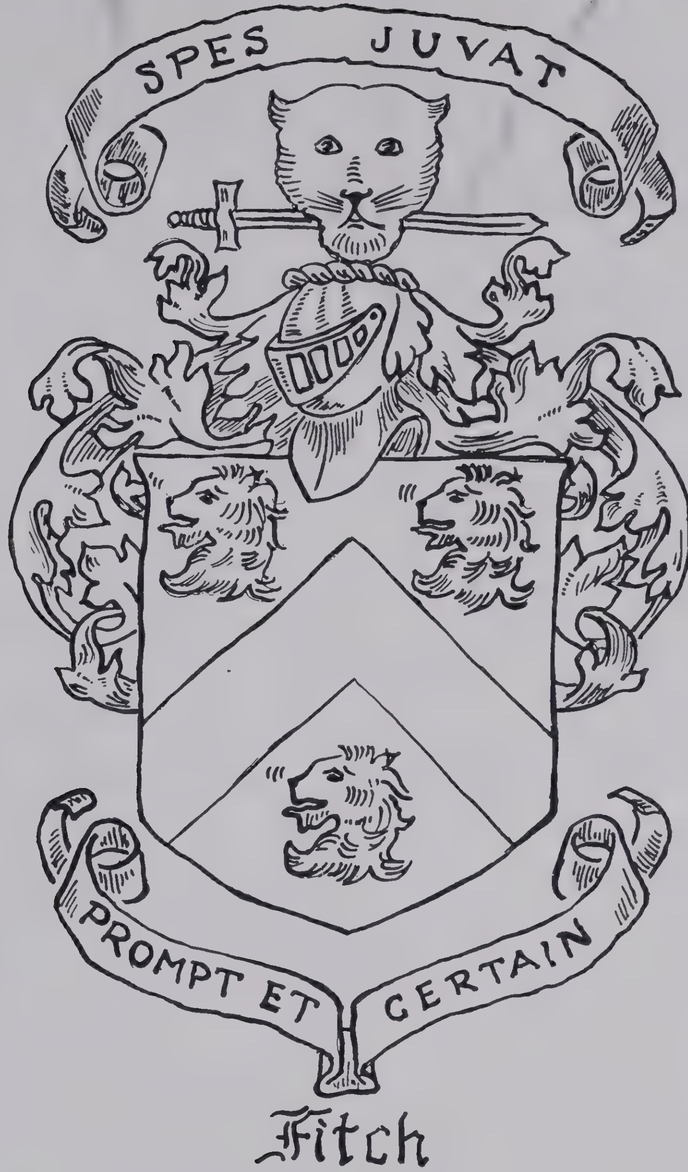
"GREEN; A GOLD CHEVRON BETWEEN THREE GOLD LEOPARDS' FACES."

ABOVE THE SHIELD AND HELMET IS THE CREST WHICH IS DESCRIBED AS:

"A GOLD LEOPARD'S HEAD, FULL–FACED, IN ITS MOUTH IS A NATURALLY COLORED SWORD WITH A RED HILT."



Fitch



Fitch Coat of Arms

The Fitch Coat of Arms has a very ancient origin and the right to the use of the Arms has been a proud perogative of succeeding generations through the centuries.

There are few families in America who can trace their ancestry as far back as the established English "Pedigree of Fitch" or use as ancient a coat of arms by official recognition.

The claim of the descendants of Thomas Fitch, Esq. of Bocking, County Essex, England, father of four Fitch brothers who settled in Connecticut to the use of both ancient and 16th century Fitch Arms was proven to satisfaction by the New England Historic Genealogical Society by Winchester Fitch, Esq. who submitted his proofs to the Committee on Heraldry and the Fitch Arms were included in the Society's "Roll of Arms".

JONATHAN (5) Fitch (Deacon Medina 4, Ebenezer 3, Major James 2, Rev. James 1)

Jonathan Fitch 5 was born Feb. 15, 1745, in Ellington Parish, now the town of Ellington, Connecticut. He was the son of Deacon Medina Fitch and Lydia (Avery) Fitch.

Died:

Jonathan and Elnathan Fitch had a tract of 7100 acres granted, on Albany records, according to Mrs. Coons

There were two Jonathan Fitches and some things in this report were apparently given to the wrong Jonathan. This report came from Pat Geisler of Utah and I think it is a part of the E. E. Rogers report from the Connecticut State Library in Hartford. Pat has already made some corrections that she knew were errors and I will box those in with notes.

Thomas

Jonathan married 1st Sarah Saltonstall who died at the birth of the 1st child. He is called "Of Farmington" in marriage record. Married before 1770 in Westmoreland Co., Pa. Try Saltonstah geneology.

The above should be attributed to Jonathan Fitch who was the son of Gov. Thomas Fitch of Norwalk except for the "Westmoreland, Pa" part.

Ellington is in the next county to Windham (north of Norwich and east of Hartford) (Farming is just west of Hartford)

Rev James

The Susquehanna Papers give the names of Jabez, Sr. and Jr., Eleazer, William, Capt. John, John Jr., as subscribers of the Susquehanna Company in vol.1, page 32. Most of these Fitch men were residents of Windham, Canterbury, and Norwich, Connecticut. These are the grandsons and great grandsons of Rev. James Fitch. and Jonathan Fitch spent several years in the Wyoming Valley, Pa. in the area of Wilkes-Barre.

Pat Geisler says the Saltonstah's were apparently from New Haven and that Johnathan, son of Gov. Thomas, spent his life there.

Wondering if these last two are attributed to the wrong family. Must do more search. Or possibly John T. Fitch's book will tell the true story.

The story continues with corrections by Pat Geisler:

Mrs. H.M Coons says her mother used to have letters from Asa Fitch of Norwich, Conn., or rather of Bozrah, and that she called him, cousin, and his father "Uncle Asa".

This Asa Fitch was a cousin to Mrs. Coon's grandmother, who related many stories of him. (Wrong P. G.)

Mary Gilbert, of Gilbertsville, New York, daughter of Jabez Fitch 6 used to visit this cousin Asa Fitch, who died in 1865, in Bozrah, Fitchville. When Asa died, Mary came to Smithboro, Tioga Co., NY, for Mrs. Coons grandmother, Lucy Fitch Knapp, to go the funeral with her. Lucy did not go but Mary Gilbert did attend the funeral.

Land Grants, Albany, New York. Jonathan Fitch and his brother, Elnathan, 7112 acres (Wrong) Jonathan and Asa Fitch are brothers of Jonathan and my uncles. Asa Fitch of Fitchville, Conn., is my cousin." Signed "Lucy Knapp".

If this last paragraph is wrong as Pat Geisler beleives, then it may be that this Lucy Knapp doesn't come from Jonathan of Wilkes-Barre, but another Jonathan. Somewhere there must be a mix-up.

It is true that Asa died in 1865 in Fitchville and he had a father by the name of Asa and they were decended from Rev. James. Asa's parents were Asa Fitch (from Stephen, Peletiah, Samuel, Rev. James) and Susannah Fitch, daughter of Benajah (Deacon Benjamin, Samuel, Rev. James) so they were both from Rev. James Fitch + Samuel.
above! Peletiah

So neither is from the Ebenezer , Medina family line back to Rev. James. It is possible that all of the family just called themselves "cousins" because they may have been 2nd, 3rd, or 4th cousins in reality. Asa was a well-known man and suppose a lot of the family went to the funeral, though Tioga, New York is quite a long way from Fitchville, probably 200 or 300 miles but guess in 1865 there was train service available for travel.

OR possible there was another connection with Asa

JONATHAN FITCH

The earliest Fitch noted in Luzerne Co., Pa. is ✓ Jonathan Fitch who was in Westmoreland as early as Au At a meeting of the Proprietors and Settlers on that committee was chosen of inspection for "ye town of Westmoreland" and he was voted a member of that committee. (Proceedings of the Wyoming and Geological Society vol. 4, p. 106).

The List of Taxables for the Wilkes-Barre District of Westmoreland, August 1776, gives Jonathan Fitch (Ibid vol. 5, p. 209) and the list of "up the river" for the same year gives Lemuel Fitch. The only record found later of Lemuel Fitch is administration of his estate. Hallet Gallup, administrator, bond of 500L, dated Aug. 21, 1794, with Nathaniel Landon as surety, and account Feb. 20, 1800. No record of an inventory or account was found in the probate files in the Register of ✓ Wills. Jonathan Fitch is also listed in 1778 in the Wilkebarry District (Ibid vol. 5, p. 232) and again in a "True List of the Polls and Estates of the Town of Westmoreland" of Aug. 20, 1780 (Ibid vol. 5, p. 241).

The Westmoreland Litchfield Co., Conn. Probate Records, Liber A. Jan. 6, 1777 to June 16, 1783, are in possession of the Wyoming Historical and Geological Society, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and the name of Jonathan Fitch appears therein as appraiser of estates and surety of administrators' bonds. (Ibid vol. 18, pp. 142, 171, 186, 199, 201, 203, 205 and 207). He was for five years High Sheriff of Westmoreland (History of Wyoming by C. Miner, published 1845, appendix p. 50) and a Representative to the Connecticut Assembly from the town of Westmoreland in 1780 and 1781 (Public Records of the State of Connecticut, 1780-1781, ✓ vol. 3, pp. 3 and 370). The land records of Luzerne County show that the married ----- Sill. "Pioneer and Patrict Families of Bradford Co., Pa., 1800-1825," by C.F. Heverly, published ✓ 1915, vol. 2, p. 213, state she was Esther Sill, daughter of Jabez and Elixabeth (Noyes) Sill who moved to the Wyoming Valley from Lyme, Conn., being one of the five families who settled at Wilkes-Barre in 1772.

The records of Luzerne County do not reveal from whence Jonathan Fitch came, but the following land records are noted in his name in Luzerne County:

Dec. 15, 1779. Thomas Porter of Woodbury, Litchfield Co., ✓ Conn., for 400L quits to Jonathan Fitch of the town of Westmoreland, county of Westmoreland in the said state, all interest in a tract of land lying in said Westmoreland beginning at a walnut staddle at the northeast corner of said lot bounding the highway running through the town plat of Wilkesbury District in said town of Westmoreland thence extending southerly with the

A study of records in Fairfield and Norwalk, Conn., was made for JOHN FITCH and NATHANIEL FITCH. Nothing was found to definitely connect with the Nathaniel, of Pa. In the Norwalk deeds between 1750 and 1800 there were only two JOHNS - JOHN FITCH, son of Theophilus who sold out in 1794, and JOHN son of John and Elizabeth (~~Lockwood~~) Beers. By elimination there could have been no other JOHN FITCH in the Norwalk Fitches between 1740 - 1750 unless son of Bushnell (4) Fitch and Lindel (4) Fitch. If there was an extra JOHN he has no deeds recorded. Stamford deeds were not examined but it is doubtful if much could be found there as there are so few Fitch vital records in Stamford before 1800. An examination was made, however, of a copy of Stamford Church Records, made by S.P. Mead and on file at Conn. State Library and only entry under JOHN Fitch was the baptism of Betsy Fitch, dau. of John & Molly Fitch of Norwalk On May 20, 1784 (St. John's Episcopal Church). Mead's Abstract of Stamford Probate Records, Vol. covering years 1729-1802, showed in the will of Sarah Mead, late of Greenwich, widow of Capt. Jabez Mead, dated June 28, 1786 and probated May 3, 1787, the names Ebenezer Fitch and Giles Fitch sons of a deceased niece, Lydia Fitch.

From Fairfield Probate Records in Fairfield, the following abstracts were made:

Vol. 21, p. 58 - John Lockwood, of Fairfield, will dated Feb. 13, 1784; probated Jan. 17, 1785; mentions wife Abigail; remainder to my children living and grandchildren of the deceased, viz., to the children of my son Jabez, of Fairfield, deceased, and to John Lockwood, Jr., and the children of Ephraim deceased, and Michael, Gideon and Albert and Samuel, and the daughters Anne, Abigail, Mary, and the Children of Elizabeth, decd., ★ and Susannah.

Confirmed facts:

· 6/11/1840-WHH was born in Gallia Cnty Ohio according to WHH.

Gallia Co. is South West in Ohio
near W.VA line

- 1855-According to sworn testimony, several individuals (including his own doctor) knew WHH as a child in Gallia County, Ohio

- 4/27/1861-His post office was Lincoln, Gallia Co., OH, he had just completed a construction job on the Raccoon Creek Bridg South of Gallipolis.

- 4/27/1861-The twenty-one year old, 5' 11" blue eyed, light haired and complexioned WHH enlisted @ Gallipolis, Gallia, O in the Union Army Ohio 18th Volunteer Infantry, Company G.

- 8/28/1861-Honorable discharge Comapany G, 18th OVI.(Ohi Volunteer Infantry)

- 9/13/1862 Enlisted in the Union Army Ohio 18th Battery Ligh Artillery, Company "C" for 3 years @ Camp Portsmouth.

- 10/23-29/1862-Marched to Camp Ellen Bishop, Lexington, K

- 10/29-12/26/1862-@ Lexington, KY. WHH had horse fall on him breaking left leg just above ankle. (The time on this accide varies by a year, but is always at Lex.) His "leg swelled to 3 time the size a leg should be." He was on crutches most of winter. This gave him a limp for the rest of his life, causing him to walk with a cane later. One individual recounts a great number of injured at that time.

- 12/26/1862-Moved to Louisville, KY, then to Nashville, Tenn.

- 2/7/1863-Arrived @ Nashville

- 2/21/1863-Brentwood Tenn.

GENEALOGICAL GLEANINGS IN ENGLAND

CAPTAIN ROBERT CHARLTON OF AMERICA AND LIVERPOOL, 1801

In February 1801 Daniel Tubbs, a natural born citizen of the United States but then resident in England, bought from William Marsden, merchant of Liverpool, an American-registered ship named The Sisters. In July 1801, having decided to return to America, Tubbs assigned the ship to her then Master, Edward Goodrich, also a U.S. citizen, and chartered her for a voyage from Charleston to Rotterdam under Robert Charlton of Liverpool as Master and on behalf of T. & R.J. Browne of Rotterdam, merchants. Tubbs had meanwhile accumulated many debts in England as a result of his trading there and was declared bankrupt on 2 December 1801, by which time he had fled to New York. His assignees William Lees, James Galan, James Thompson and Samuel Breeze in 1805 sued Edward Goodrich of New York and others (PRO: C33/546—Bill and Answers not found) for a share in the profits of The Sisters' voyage. During a voyage made later Robert Charlton was drowned at sea and limited administration of his estate was granted in the Prerogative Court of Canterbury in January 1804 (PRO: PROB6/180) to Tubbs' assignees. An advertisement was placed in the Morning Advertiser for Charlton's relatives to come forward but none were discovered, and it was thought that, if he had any, they were to be found in America.

SOME AMERICAN ADMINISTRATIONS IN THE P.C.C.

The following extracts are from the calendar of King's Warrants (Series II) in the collections of the Prerogative Court of Canterbury.

John Spencer of Augusta, Georgia, gave to Lachlan McGillivray and John Fitch certain estates and effects in trust for Thomas, his natural son by an Indian woman, Jane Miller. Thomas Spencer died soon after, an infant intestate. Administration granted to Henry Spencer. 7 November 1764.

← JOHN FITCH

George Pogson, of Charleston, North America, clerk, died a bachelor intestate and a bastard. Administration to Thomas Preston, D.D.. 25 July 1798. Revoked on the death of Preston and granted to Thomas Pogson of Kingrave House, Suffolk, natural brother of the deceased. 19 August 1816.

provided by the arrangement of names in the original census are lost by the alphabetical arrangement of the appendix. A helpful cross-index lists individuals of different surnames who have apparent collateral relationships to the families treated. The compendium does not include an index to baptismal sponsors, witnesses to wills and deeds, and others incidentally mentioned in the records. However, given the large number of families and individuals covered and the heftiness of the volumes, such omission is understood as an economic decision.

By its inclusive nature, this compendium becomes the first place in a genealogical library to look for Mohawk people.

FAMILY HISTORIES

A Fitch Family History: English Ancestors of the Fitches of Colonial Connecticut. By John T. Fitch. Published by Picton Press; Post Office Box 1111; Camden, ME 04843; 1990. xii, 273 pp. Appendixes, bibliography, glossary, illustrations, index. Hardback, $40.00.

This thoroughly researched, carefully documented family history is a "must read" for anyone who is, or will be, researching and publishing a history of English ancestors. Not only does it provide a model of how to handle such a study, but it also serves as a guide to the kinds of English sources that are available for genealogical research and to the meanings of the legal terms and language found in the old documents. The author has searched through manor-court rolls, deeds, wills, and other local records in order to track down the ancestors of Thomas, James, Samuel, and Joseph Fitch—four brothers who came to Connecticut from Brocking, county Essex, before 1650. By careful inspection of the records of the manor courts, he has been able to piece together evidence to dispute the assertions of the "visitations" that have been published by the heralds of the College of Arms regarding the lineage of this Fitch family. He has also made good use of secondary historical and reference sources, but he has always been careful to separate supposition and tradition from documented fact.

The narrative, written in an easy style with just a dash of humor, weaves in English history, geography, customs, and legal practices as it presents the line of descent from William^F, born about 1400, through five generations to Thomas^A, the father of the four immigrants. The latter are hardly mentioned, but a second volume primarily devoted to the line of James^1 is promised. The main body of this work follows the patrilineal descent and presents the story of the ancestor in each generation (as well as his siblings, where possible), as the ancestor is involved in litigations and other court appearances, buys and sells property, engages in various business dealings, and makes bequests in his will. Of course, the usual birth, marriage, and death events are cited—when they can be found—but the real strength of the book is its depiction of these individuals as actual people in their proper historical, geographic, and social context. A short genealogy, in Register format, is almost an afterthought.

Most of the documents that are used to support the narrative are fully transcribed and explained, right in the text. Exceptions are a few lengthy wills and land records that are relegated to the appendixes and fully transcribed there, with a summary in the text. On the whole, unfamiliar and archaic terms are defined at the time they are first used; but there is also an excellent glossary for quick reference. Photographs of the locales enhance the account, as do maps and charts. However, the family charts that are meant to sort out the various Fitch lines would be even more helpful if dates were given for the individuals.

This reviewer, with no Fitch ancestry, has found this attractively presented volume to be an absorbing study. Those descended from the four immigrants should find it truly fascinating.

Van Moos offers a list of all materials he was able to find, within certain limits. First, he does not include works on medieval nobility, as these are widely treated in other historical bibliographies. Second, he covers only published material—or typescripts or family trees found in libraries or archives. Third, he omits general genealogical matter because he has produced another bibliography of these works. Within these bounds, all compilations up to at least three generations of any family have found their way into the book. Included also are works on American families whose surnames hint that they came from Switzerland, as well as German and Alsace studies. The reader also finds families who emigrated in two steps—i.e., those who came to America from the Palatinate, after they had first immigrated there from Switzerland.

The primary section is arranged alphabetically by surname, with each source assigned a consecutive identification number. The volume's first index is a geographic one, arranging places in hierarchical order according to the actual administration; today's spelling is used. The second index is by subject—in most cases referring to professions. The third index contains surname entries not found in the alphabetical order of the book—as, for example, when a title mentions two families. The place-name index could have benefited from greater knowledge of Swiss geography or the help of a gazetteer.

The value of this work is both great and obvious.

FAMILY HISTORIES

Puritan in the Wilderness: A Biography of the Reverend James Fitch, 1622–1702. By John T. Fitch. Published by Picton Press; Camden, Maine. Available from Kalmia Co.; 71 Dudley Street; Cambridge, MA 02140; 1993. 320 pp. Illustrations, index. Hardback. $39.50 (shipping: $2.50; Massachusetts residents add 5% tax).

Dr. Fitch has produced a masterpiece of thorough investigative research, presented in a clear, flowing style. A retired engineer, he applies the precision of his earlier career to his quest for material to illuminate the life of one of New England's early clergymen—a man who, by the nature of his time, office, and personality, played a prominent role in the affairs of southeastern Connecticut.

To interpret the life of the Reverend Fitch, his descendant provides background on the many interrelated political and religious issues of the time. He describes with great clarity the fine points of the various religious issues: an account of church history through the Reformation; an analysis of the three types of Protestant dissent; and a discussion of predestination, the halfway covenant, and the Saybrook Platform. Those with New England ancestry will profit from the author's clear explanation of issues that affected all settlers of the region.

Puritan in the Wilderness follows Dr. Fitch's earlier work, in which he traces the ancestry of Norwalk and Hartford's James Fitch and brothers—extending their line back four generations into Essex, England. The present work presents the biography of the Reverend Fitch, reviews the ancestral line, and closes with a genealogy of the first two generations of the family produced by Reverend Fitch and his two wives: Abigail Whitfield, daughter of the Reverend Henry Whitfield of Guilford, Connecticut; and Priscilla Mason, daughter of Major John Mason of Windsor, Saybrook, and Norwich.

Dr. Fitch supports his statements with sound references to a variety of literature in the fields of history and religion, as well as to primary sources in both England and the colonies. Unlike some family historians who interpret history in light of their ancestors, Fitch correctly does the opposite. He describes the era and its issues, then demonstrates his ancestor's role in the proceedings—a role played with reason, compassion, and fairness. Proper perspective is maintained by telling the story of this Puritan minister in the context of his own time. Thus, no apology is made for the Pequot War; or for his friendship with the controversial Pequot, Uncas; or for his role in King Philip's War.

Puritan in the Wilderness is a definitive biography that sets a standard for both the investigation and the presentation of New England's founding generation.

Thomas Getzendanner of Maryland and South Carolina; His Descendants: The Getson and Danner Families of Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Arkansas, and Texas. By David Getzendanner. Published by the author; 5340 Wallace Road N.W.; Salem, OR 97304; 1993. vii, 294 pp. Index, maps, photographs. Hardback. $42.50; or $37.50 for family members (shipping: $2.50).

David Getzendanner's 1979 publication, Getzendanner Familie Gezendanner, carefully traces the origin of his ancestors from the canton of Saint Gallen in the Toggenburg Valley of Switzerland to the Pfalz in present Germany and to the immigrant and his family in this country. The work under consideration updates the Swiss research, trailing the family back to about 1570, and continues to document the family's history in America.

Christian Getzendanner traveled with kinsmen from Klein Schifferstadt in the Pfalz and arrived at the port of Philadelphia in September 1729 aboard the ship Allen. The family eventually settled in Frederick County, Maryland. Thomas Getzendanner, Christian's grandson, was born there in 1762. After the death of his wife and first child, he left Maryland for Union County, South Carolina, where he remarried and raised a family. Land records and other documents detail the gradual evolvement of the name from Getzendanner to Danner and map the family's dispersion. John Danner, a son of Thomas, migrated to Monroe County, Mississippi, in the late 1850s. From there, family members followed the well-worn migration route into Texas. There, a grandson, also named John Danner, was embroiled in a fight and believed he had killed a man. He fled his Texas home, never to return; changed his name to Jack Getson; and eventually settled in Arkansas, where he raised a family.

Aside from the family chronicle, this study offers several other useful features. For the slaves that the South Carolina Thomas inherited from his father in Maryland, the author includes information found in probate and other court records. A Thomas Getzendanner family tree includes six hundred descendants—although some are not documented. A supplemental chapter, written by Glenda Johnson Stone, covers Danners serving in the Confederate Army.

David Getzendanner has written a very readable history of Thomas, his children, and grandchildren. Most of the work is carefully documented; when proof is circumstantial or doubtful, he clearly sets forth the facts leading to his conclusions. Many family tales that have been substantiated over the years appear verbatim and add to the charm of the story.

Descendants of the Reverend James Fitch, 1622–1702, volume 1, The First Five Generations. By John T. Fitch. Published by Picton Press; Post Office Box 250; Rockport, ME 04856-0250; 1997. xii, 548 pp. Illustrations, index, photographs. Hardback. $45.00 (shipping: $4.00).

John T. Fitch has had an ambitious plan on behalf of the Reverend James Fitch family, and it comes closer to completion with this volume. Both predecessors, A Fitch Family History: English Ancestors of the Fitches of Colonial Connecticut (1990) and Puritan in the Wilderness: A Biography of the Reverend James Fitch, 1622–1702 (1993), have received deserved acclaim. The present volume focuses upon the first five generations of the reverend's descendants and lists the children of the sixth generation. Next on the author's announced agenda is a volume on generations six through eight.

If First Five Generations lacks some of the polish and readability of its predecessors, it gains strength from its comprehensive coverage—bringing together for the first time many of the family groupings treated elsewhere. In part, this achievement has been made possible without prolonged delay through the assistance of Patricia M. Geisler, a Fitch descendant and researcher in Salt Lake City, who is credited for working closely with the author and resolving a number of genealogical problems through her research in the Family History Library.

Several sizable compilations of unpublished Fitch material have been utilized. Throughout the book, following each family group, a numbered list of sources is presented; each item in the preceding text is linked with its source, usually by an abbreviated citation. A comprehensive, cross-referenced bibliography closes out the book.

Many genealogists will wish for better-formed and more-complete citations. The original date of a reprinted genealogy is important, and saying that a reference is part of the "Mayflower MFIP" series may not assist the less informed. Nevertheless, citation basics are usually fulfilled: identifying the source and its location.

Like many genealogists, the author felt a sense of urgency in undertaking this broad effort. To save time and assure publication within his lifespan, some of the finer points have been neglected. If two different dates are given elsewhere for the birth of a Fitch wife, for example, both are given and sources cited—leaving it to other researchers to resolve the conflict. Primary sources have been utilized wherever possible, but secondary sources lamentably include LDS family group sheets and the International Genealogical Index ("IGI-3.04") of the Family History Library.

Setting fine points aside, Fitch's broad coverage of the first five generations of this early colonial family will provide future family students with a new standard reference and a platform of choice for anyone departing on a more-rigorous examination of any particular branch of the family.

The Descendants of Cheney Boyce, "Ancient Planter," and of Richard Craven, for Seven Generations. By John Anderson Brayton. Published by the author; 326 Garland; Memphis, TN 38104; 1996. xxiv, 486 pp. Appendixes, indexes. Hardback. $40.00.

Reliability and consistency are hallmarks of a quality genealogical publication. The author of the present work strives for this by relying heavily on original sources. As in his earlier genealogies, he does an admirable job of pulling together abstracts and transcriptions of documents pertinent to the individuals discussed—thereby allowing readers to follow his reasoning in making genealogical statements. Too often, however, a statement is made for which readers must follow several other pages of text before finding the source. One would be in a far better position to determine reliability and relevance if a complete and accurate citation were attached to

*American Biographical LibraryThe Twentieth Century Biographical Dictionary of Notable AmericansVolume 3CCurtis, Greely Stevensonpage 76*Curtis, George William, author, was born in Providence. R.I., Feb. 24, 1824; son of George and Mary Elizabeth (Burrill) Curtis; grandson of David and Susanna (Stone) Curtis; great-grandson of John and Rebekah (Waites) Curtis; great great grandson of Ephraim Curtis, and great great great grandson of Henry and Mary (Guy) Curtis, who emigrated from England in 1635. His maternal grandfather, James Burrill, was chief justice of Rhode Island and a United States senator. In 1826 his mother died, and in 1830 he was placed in the school of C. W. Greene, at Jamaica Plain, Boston, Mass., and remained there until his father's marriage in 1835 to a daughter of Samuel W. Bridgham of Providence, R.I., when he returned to his native city and attended school until 1839. In that year he went to New York city, where his education was continued under private tutors. For a short time he was employed in a counting-room, but the work proved uncongenial and he left to join his brother, J. Burrill Curtis, who had fallen under the influence of the transcendentalists, then formed into the Brook Farm community at West Roxbury, Mass. The brothers spent the years 1842-43 as boarders at Brook Farm, then a winter in the New York home, and in the spring of 1844 went to Concord, Mass., where they joined a study club composed of Alcott, Emerson, Hawthorne, Ellery Channing, Henry Thoreau, George Bradford and themselves. In August, 1846, George sailed from New York for Marseilles, remaining abroad four years. The first winter was passed in Rome, the second in Berlin, the third in Paris, and the fourth on the Nile and in Palestine. Meanwhile he contributed frequent foreign letters to the Courier and Enquirer, and to the Tribune. On his return to the United States in 1850 he began his literary work in earnest, and in the spring of 1851 his first book "Nile Notes of a Howadji" appeared. Of this book the author said, "The Nile Notes I cannot hesitate to call successful, but not a great hit." That it was well received is shown by the fact that within six months 2500 copies had been sold. The "Howadji in Syria" soon followed, and met with a still more cordial reception. Before the issue of his "Nile Notes," however, Curtis entered the lecture field, and also went on the Tribune as "general utility man," working steadily until the summer of 1851 when he had a long respite among the various watering places of the country. His journeyings were reported quite regularly in letters to the Tribune and afterward collected into a third Howadji volume entitled "Lotus Eating." For the next few years Mr. Curtis lectured, wrote for the magazines, especially Harper's, assisted in editing Putnam's Monthly Magazine, 1853-57, and brought out "The Potiphar Papers" and "Prue and I." In 1854 he took charge of the "editor's easy chair" in Harper's Monthly, and continued his essays in that department during the rest of his life. In the spring of 1856 he invested all his money in the publishing firm of Dix, Edwards & Co., to whom Putnam's Monthly Magazine had been sold. In November of that year he was married to Anna, daughter of Francis G. Shaw of Staten Island, N.Y., and made his home with his father-in-law. The publishing firm failed in April, 1857, and Mr. Curtis assumed the responsibility of the indebtedness for which he was not legally bound, and which he did not completely liquidate until 1873. His first active work in the field of politics was during the Frémont campaign of 1856 when he made a tour through Pennsylvania previous to the state election, and [p.76] afterward spoke in other places in behalf of the Republican candidates. In May, 1860, he was a delegate to the Republican national convention at Chicago and from that time on his pen was busy in defence and support of the party. In 1863 he became the political editor of Harper's Weekly and in 1864 was a delegate to the Republican national convention held in Baltimore. In October, 1864, he was nominated for representative in the 39th congress and although convinced from the first that he could not be elected he entered upon an industrious canvass, speaking daily for six weeks. In 1866 he was a delegate-at-large to the convention for revising the constitution of the state of New York, and in 1867 was mentioned for the senatorial nomination, but declined to have his name used. He was chosen presidential elector in 1868, casting his vote for General Grant. During the next spring and summer he delivered lectures on English literature at Cornell university. On the death of Henry J. Raymond, founder and editor of the New York Times, Mr. Curtis was invited to succeed him but declined. He also declined the nomination of secretary of state of New York, offered him in September, 1869. In 1871 he was appointed by President Grant one of a committee of seven to draw up rules to regulate admission to the public service, and was chairman of the committee for three years, resigning because of a disagreement with President Grant regarding the enforcement of the rules. In 1877, after the inauguration of President Hayes, Mr. Curtis was offered the choice of the chief foreign missions, but declined because of his duties at home. In 1880, on the formation of the New York civil service reform association, he was chosen its president. When Mr. Blaine received the Republican nomination for the presidency in 1884 Mr. Curtis, through the columns of Harper's Weekly, condemned the action of the convention and advocated the election of Grover Cleveland. After the death of Chancellor Pierson of the University of the state of New York in 1888, Mr. Curtis was elected to the office, having been a member of the board of regents from 1864 and vice chancellor from 1881. He took office, Jan. 30, 1890, and continued to serve until his death. His last public utterance was in May, 1892, when he delivered his address on Lowell in New York city. He was among the earlier members of the Century association, was for many years a trustee of the Metropolitan museum of art, and was vice-president of the American Unitarian association. In August, 1896, the Curtis club of Ashfield, Mass., the summer home of Mr. Curtis from 1865, erected to his memory a tablet in the town hall, the address being made by Prof. Charles Eliot Norton of Harvard university. He received the honorary degree of A.M. from Brown in 1854; from Madison in 1861 and from Rochester in 1862; that of LL.D. from Madison in 1864; from Harvard in 1881 and from Brown in 1882; and that of L.H.D. from Columbia in 1887. His principal books are: Nile Notes of a Howadji (1851); Lotus Eating (1852); The Howadji in Syria (1852); The Potiphar Papers (1853); Prue and I (1856); Trumps. A Novel (1861); Charles Sumner: a Eulogy delivered before the Legislature of Massachusetts (1874); William Cutllen Bryant (1879); Robert Burns (1880); Washington Irving (1891); James Russell Lowell: an Address (1892); Essays from the Easy Chair (4 vols., 1892, Parke Godwin (1893); and biographies by John W. Chadwick (1893); by William Winter (1893); and by Edward Cary (1894). He died at Livingston, Staten Island, N.Y., Aug. 31, 1892. zzz

James C. was educated in the grammar school at Herkimer, N.Y., and in 1833 was apprenticed to Henry Ivison as a bookbinder, soon finding more congenial employment as a clerk in the bookstore. On reaching his majority he was aided by Mr. Ivison in establishing a bookselling business on his own account. His brothers, George, Henry W., and Chauncey, subsequently established with him branch bookstores in Geneva and Buffalo, N.Y., Cincinnati and Cleveland, Ohio, and San Francisco, Cal. He established the first subscription book business west of New York and had as partners at various times, Nelson Beardsley, Norman C. Miller, William Orton and James Jackson. He removed his business from Auburn, N.Y., to New York city in [p.221] 1853, and the firm of Derby & Jackson failed in 1861 by reason of a large credit extended to southern booksellers who were customers for his popular books by noted southern authors. He brought out a remarkable list of successful authors, publishing the first books of Thomas Bailey Aldrich, Henry Ward Beecher, Phoebe and Alice Cary, Augusta J. Evans, S. G. Goodrich, "Marion Harland," B. P. Shillaber ("Mrs. Partington"), Mrs. F. M. Whitcher ("Widow Bedott"), Henry Wickoff, and many others. His intimate acquaintance with literary and public men and women extended to every section of the United States, and besides the prominent authors of his time included such public men as Millard Fillmore, William H. Seward, Alexander H. Stephens, Jefferson Davis, George Bancroft, Commodore Vanderbilt, William H. Appleton, Horace Greeley, William Cullen Bryant and George W. Childs. He was U.S. commissioner for the Paris exposition of 1868 and received from Napoleon III. gold and bronze medals "for services." He was U.S. dispatch agent for the state department at New York in 1864-65, and transmitted by steamer to Charles Francis Adams, U.S. minister to Great Britain, the official dispatches giving to the old world the intelligence of the assassination of President Lincoln. He was an associate National academician and one of the early members of the Century association. From 1881 to 1883 he was associated with Dr. David Gill in investigating the parallaxes of southern stars, at the Cape of Good Hope observatory. In 1834 he attended Yale, continuing his observations at the Yale observatory. Among the results of his investigations are: Triangulations of the Pleiades and polar stars with the heliometer; parallax determinations of bright and large proper motion stars with the same instrument; measurement of the solar parallax in co-operation with other heliometer observers, and meteor tracks secured by photography. He was elected a foreign associate of the Royal astronomical society of London in 1892, and a member of the National academy of sciences in 1895. Yale conferred upon him the honorary degree of M.A. in 1893.

*American Biographical LibraryThe Biographical Cyclopææedia of American WomenVolume IDaughters of America; or Women of the CenturyBostwick, Helen Celia FordEducational Workpage 350*The name Bostwick is of Saxon origin, derived from Botestock Manor, and is variously spelled Bostoc, Bostok, and Bostock. The line is traced to Osmer, owner of the estates of Shipbrook, Davenham, Bostock, and others, in Cheshire, England, as is shown in the Domesday Book (1080). The twenty-first in descent from Osmer was Arthur Bostwick, who was baptized in Tarporley, Cheshire, December 22, 1603. He married, first, Jane, probably a daughter of the Rev. Robert Whittel, rector of St. Helen's Church, Tarporley (1613-1638), and was one of the first seventeen settlers of Stratford, Connecticut, where he occupied one of the original home lots, and was listed as a freeman in 1669. His name often appears in the town records, especially in connection with deeds of land. With him came to America his only son, John Bostwick (baptized in St. Helen's Church, Tarporley, October 18, 1638; died in Stratford prior to December 11, 1688), who married in Stratford, about 1665, Mary, daughter of John and Mary (Carter) Brinsmead (born in Charlestown, Massachusetts, July 24, 1640; died at Stratford before December 28, 1704). John Bostwick inherited his father's entire estate. He also acquired more land from subsequent divisions of the town lots. His son, John Bostwick (born in Stratford, May 4, 1667; died in New Milford) married, about 1687, Abigail, daughter of Joseph and Abigail (Prudden) Walker (born in Stratford, February 17, 1672-1673). He resided first in Derby, Connecticut, and in 1707 was the second settler at New Milford, where he was a man of affairs and a member of various committees. Their son, Joseph Bostwick (born in Stratford in 1695; died [p.350] in New Milford, September 27, 1756) married, at New Milford July 23, 1724, Rebecca, Lieutenant in the military company of New Milford, and in October, 1743, he was commissioned Captain of the First or North Company. Their son, Joseph Bostwick, Jr. (born in New Milford, August 19, 1728; died at Upper Merryall, November 18, 1808) married at New Milford, February 7, 1750-1751, Betty, daughter of David and Susannah Hurd (born at Stratford, September 26, 1729; died at Upper Merryall, June 17, 1759). Their son, David Bostwick (born at Upper Merryall, April 24, 1752; died at Meredith, New York, June 12, 1818) married at Newtown, Connecticut, Currence Hard (born at Newtown, March 21, 1753; died at Franklin, New York, October 23, 1855). Their son, Abel Bostwick (born in Meredith, New York, March 7, 1797; died at Westfield, Ohio, April 20, 1861) married in Franklin, December 30, 1820, Sallie FITCH (born in Franklin, July 4, 1791; died at Canaan, Ohio, August 29, 1869) of the same family as Esther FITCH, the wife of Ansyl Ford. Description:Founded in 1846, the State Historical Society of Wisconsin maintains an extensive archives, museum, library and statewide system of historical sites. This database is a collection of materials originally published by the society in the nineteenth century. The most important part of the collection is a series of papers detailing the British influence on the region between 1763 and 1814. It also contains a listing of American Fur Company employees, a chronicle of the Black Hawk War (1832), and a history of the early schools in Green Bay. Providing a wide variety of information, this database can be a useful tool for researchers of early Wisconsin history and ancestors.

His forefathers there were military officers, from the time of the Colonial wars. The family has preserved a commission issued March 24, 1760, by Governor FITCH to Jabez Hall as "first lieutenant of the fourth company of a regiment of foot," enrolled to invade Canada and "reduce Montreal." Another commission, signed by John Hancock, "Governour of Massachusetts," dated 1788, gives to "Lyman Hall, gentleman," who was a son of Jabez Hall, the rank of captain in the Revolutionary army. The son of Lyman Hall was a lieutenant in the same company, and his son, in turn, the grandfather of Harlan P. Hall, took part in the war of 1812, and in the line of duty contracted the illness of which he died.

The Burleson Family traces its ancestral roots in America to the 1600's when Edward Burleson was an early Puritan settler in Suffield, Connecticut. Another Burleson, Aaron, who is believed to have been Edward's brother, arrived in the Southern States about 1726 and settled in North Carolina. From these early footholds in the American Colonies, the family grew and spread across the continent, writing its story in the rich heritage of British North American and the United States. This database is a name index for the first 17 volumes of the "Burleson Family Bulletin," published quarterly since 1981. It contains over 70,000 names, and includes additional reference information on those persons in the "Bulletin" such as citing volume and/or page numbers. Yet, with equal nicety, she filled the orders that came from the messroom of the officers of our own brave boys in blue, and always tried to have a better kerchief and apron on the evenings that officers and orderly rode out to pay the bills.

cousin, Sen˜˜orita Leese, had taught me hemming. These young ladies were related to the Vallejos and also lived in large houses facing the plaza, and were always kind to Georgia and me. In fact, some of my sweetest memories of Sonoma are associated with these three Spanish homes. Their people never asked unfeeling questions, nor repeated harrowing tales; and I did not learn until I was grown that they had been among the large contributors to the fund for the relief of our party.

That this event, although so carefully preserved by tradition, must have occurred in a very remote period, is evident from an old French manuscript brought by General Cass from France.

Mary, b. 25 Oct. 1652; John, 1 May 1655; and Joseph; but the ""matchless"" registrar does not ment. the day or days of bapt. tho. our thanks are hearty for his care to name Hannah, b. 8 Aug. 1657, bapt. 17 June 1660; and Daniel, 14 Sept. 1662. But Hannah d. early in 1661, 25 Jan. acc. Mitchell, 25 Feb. by Harris Epit. 169; and Daniel, d. 14 May 1685. Ano. Daniel had preced. him, but liv. not, I presume, long eno. to be bapt. He was a millwright, and Dr. Bond conject. that he was s. of George of Watertown, and when that was seen to be impossib. he suppos. he was br. So numberless are the shoots of this name, that I dare not foll. even so judicious a leader in this expedit. That he was s. of Henry the first, as amiable credulity would assume, is highly improb. since he came twenty yrs. or little less after that great N. E. progenitor, and so long outliv. him dying betw. June and Oct. 1706, and his w. still liv. Rebecca m. 24 Nov. 1669, Nathaniel Patten, and d. 18 Dec. 1677; Mary m. John Eames of Watertown, and d. 1681. [p.12] Inconsistencies appear in the fam. geneal. as to b. of her and her br. John. JOHN, Chelmsford 1654, had been of Concord 1650, has been sometimes thot. s. of the first Henry; but the conject. is uncert. JOHN, Marshfield, s. perhaps, of John of Plymouth, m. 27 Dec. 1654, Jane James, and had Joseph, Martha, and perhaps other ch. JOHN, Hartford, s. prob. eldest, of Jeremy of the same, had Rebecca, b. Aug. 1658; Abigail, Feb. 1660; Sarah, Mar. 1662; Jeremy, Aug. 1664; John, Sept. 1666; Jonathan, 6 Nov. 1668; and d. 1670, leav. wid. in expecta. of ano. ch. Of the s. JONATHAN, Medfield, call. sen. when his inv. of 15 Feb. 1692, was produc. at Prob. Ct. had been thot. s. of the first Henry, tho. no other circumstance is to be discern. in support of such assumpt. than that Edward of M. wh. was a. s. of Henry gave to his eldest s. this name of Jonathan. Scrutiny has been applied, and Vinton, 296, could find two ws. Eliz. and Mary, but ment. no ch. JONATHAN, Boston, blockmaker, of wh. I learn from his will, made 1 Apr. 1707, pro. 8 May next, that his w. was Rebecca, and that [p.13] he had Samuel, eldest s. beside Jonathan, Nathaniel, and James, and four ds. Rebecca, Dorcas, Mary, and Lydia. His w. was d. of James Andrews of Falmouth, driv. up by the war. JONATHAN, Medfield, eldest s. of Edward of the same, m. 20 Mar. 1678, Mary Ellis, d. prob. of Thomas of the same; but my acquisit. reach no further. JOSEPH, Braintree, perhaps youngest s. of the first Henry, b. in Eng. a. 1626, was a maltster, freem. 1653 or 5, his name appearing on both years, as the wonderful carelessness of Secr. Rawson admits thirty, if not thirty-one (if we include Dwight), out of thirty-two of the earlier yr.to be reinsert. two yrs. later with the sole addit. of one name at the top and one at the foot of the list, m. 26 or 29 Nov. 1650, Abigail (not Mary, as Alden has it), d. of Gregory Baxter (not, as is giv. by Thayer, of John, wh. was her br.), had Hannah, b. 13 Nov. 1652; Joseph, 24 Dec. 1654; John, 13 Jan. 1657, or 11 Feb. it being uncert. wh. date is prefer. on the rec. Abigail, 27 Feb. 1659; John, and Bethia, tw. 3 Dec. 1661; Mary, 9 Oct. 1663, d. soon; Samuel, 6 Sept. 1665; Mary, again, 25 Feb. 1668; Peter, 7 Feb. 1670; Jonathan, 31 Jan. 1672; and Mehitable, bapt. 24 Nov. 1678, not as sometimes read 23 Nov. wh. was Saturday. His w. d. 27 Aug. 1692; and he d. 6 Dec. 1694. Thayer's Fam. Memo. in eleven pages furnish. large enumera. of descend. His eldest d. m. 10 Apr. 1672, Samuel Savil; Abigail m. John Bass jun.; Bethia m. 1680, John Webb; Mary m. 16 Dec. 1686, Samuel Webb; and Mehitable m. 21 July 1697, Thomas White. His will, of 18 July 1694, gives no ment. of s. Samuel or Jonathan, but provides for the others and the five ds. using the name of hs. for all but the last. JOSEPH, Braintree, eldest s. of the preced. m. 20 Feb. 1682, Mary Chapin, perhaps d. of Josiah, had Mary, b. 6 Feb. foll. and Abigail, 17 Feb. 1684. This w. d. 14 June 1687, and he next m. Hannah, d. of John Bass, by wh. he had Joseph, 1 Jan. 1690, H. C. 1710, min. of Newington from 16 Nov. 1715 to his d. 26 May 1783; John, 8 Feb. 1692, the deac. wh. d. 25 May 1761, and was (by Susanna, d. of Peter Boylston) f. of John, sec. Presid. of the U. S. b. 19 Oct. 1735, wh. d. 4 July 1826, and was f. of John Quincy, sixth Presid. of the U. This w. d. 24 Oct. 1705, and he d. at the mature age of 81, on 12 Feb. 1736; and his wid. Eliz. (by wh. he had Caleb, 26 May 1710, that d. in few days;) d. 14 Feb. 1739, aged 71. JOSEPH, Cambridge, s. of John of the same, m. 21Feb. 1688, Margaret, d. of Thomas Eames, of Sudbury, had Joseph, b. 1689, wh. liv. to the age of 85; Daniel, 1690; Cherry, if such be a possib. name in that day, bapt. 31 Jan. 1697; John, 18 Apr. 1697; and Abigail. [p.14] MOSES, Sherborn, s. of Henry the sec. m. 15 Apr. 1681, Lydia, d. of Jonathan Whitney of the same, had Benoni, b. 3 Nov. foll.; Lydia, 2 Feb. 1684; Eliz. 18 Sept. 1686, d. young; Hannah, 8 Feb. 1688; Eliz. again, 25 Oct. 1689; Moses, 26 Nov. 1691; James, 7 July 1693; Isaac, 4 Mar. 1695; and Abigail, 7 Sept. 1697; was selectman 1701, and d. 1724. NATHANIEL, Newport 1639, may be that one of Weymouth 1642, wh. had Abraham, b. 16 Jan. 1643. NATHANIEL, Boston, turner, m. 24 Nov. 1652, Eliz. d. of Philemon Portmort, but whether she d. soon, and he had ano. w. Sarah is wholly uncert. for one Nathaniel of B. d. Oct. 1675, and his w. Sarah d. May 1685. Ano. NATHANIEL, Boston, blockmaker, if the modern copy of supposed rec. contempo. may be confided in, as in about nine tenths of its contents it may be, by w. Mary alone had Nathaniel, b. 10 Sept. 1653; Mary, 20 May 1655; Sarah, 9 Aug. 1657; David, 30 June 1659; Joseph, 19 June 1661; Eliz. 2 Mar. 1662, d. soon; Benjamin, 10 Dec. 1665; Eliz. again, 2 Oct. 1667; Benjamin, again, 27 May 1671; Isaac, 7 Nov. 1673, and Mary, again, 23 Sept. 1677. No small part of this may have confirmat. in his will of 22 Mar. 1690, pro. 8 May next, in wh. his w. Mary, and s. Joseph and Isaac are well provid. for, as also d. Mary, wid. of Joseph Hipdich; Sarah, w. of Richard Hunnewell, and Eliz. w. of Ebenezer Chaffin, but all subject to the discret. of their mo. and he takes notice that his s. Nathaniel had not only rec. his share of prop. and more, but owed him or money lent, and refus. to acknowl. the debt, so that out of his fatherly regard he can give him but one shil. July 1638, in the Martin, as bef. dep.-gov. Dudley, he swore, in support of a nuncup. will of a fellow-passeng. dying on the ocean; was sett. at the Bapt. ch. 1642 after Roger Williams. It has been thot. by some, that he was earlier on our side of the water, and that imperfect rec. proves it, on p. 14 of the Vol. I. of Col. Rec. of R. I. as to his incorp. in town fellowsh. with others at Providence, wh. bears date 20 Aug. without a yr. Now the supplying of the numerals for the yr. can admit those wh. the transcriber used, 1637, by no means; for that day was Sunday, when no civil compact could have been enter. into, and bef. that day in the former yr. the place was kn. as Moshasuek, prob. the sec. use of the designat. of the mod. city being in the foll. mo. at the bapt. of the s. of Roger Williams, Providence, late in Sept. 1638. Earlier than Aug. 1638 his name, I suppose, will not be found. He brot. w. Eliz. and s. John, aged a. 8 yrs. prob. other ch. for we kn. not the b. of any of his five s. The other four were James, Jeremiah, Judah, alias Chad, and Daniel. No connex. is trac. betw. Chad and Henry, of the oldest proprs. His gr.ch. James was min. of the same ch. This is the progenit. of the fam. so much disting. as the patrons of Brown Univ. at P. CHARLES, Rowley 1648. CORNELIUS, eading, s. of Nicholas of the same, m. 6 Mar. 1665, Sarah Lamson, had Nicholas, b. 7 Apr. 1666, d. soon; Cornelius, 3 June 1667; Sarah, 23 Dec. 1668; John, 8 Aug. 1671; Abigail, 5 Apr. 1674, d. soon; Samuel, 13 Sept. 1675; Mary, 1 Jan. 1679; and Hannah, 28 Aug. 1680. CHRISTIAN, Salisbury, one of the first sett. 1640, a wid. brot. prob. three s. and d. 28 Dec. 1641. Her s. were Heary, George, and William. Martha, w. of John Saffin, d. of Willet. His wid. Dorothy d. at Swanzey, 27 Jan. 1674, aged 90. See Davis, in Morton's Mem. 295-7. JOHN, Salem 1637, freem. 2 May 1638, rul. elder of the ch. had John, bapt. Sept. 1638; and James, June 1640; d. 1685. JOHN, Hampton 1639, d. 28 Feb. 1687, a. 98 yrs. as is said. Much more prob. is the age set against his name, 40, on his embark. 17 Apr. 1635, at the London custom ho. especially if he be that baker, whose fellow-passeng. were two serv. James Walker, aged 15, and Sarah Walker, 17, the latter of wh. in 1640, bec. his w. as descend. suppose. By what I think the wrong statement, he was b. 1589, and this maiden was b. 1618. Beside the number and dates of his ch. disprove or make highly improb. the great age; Sarah; John, b. 1644; Eliz.; Benjamin; Jacob, 1653; Mary, 13 Sept. 1655; Thomas, 14 July 1657; and Stephen, 1659, wh. was k. by the Ind. at Scarborough 29 June 1677. JOHN, Maine 1641, s. of Richard of Barton Regis. Co. Gloucester, m. Margaret, d. of Francis Hayward of the City of Bristol, as he told Robert Allen of Sheepscot, for R. A. so swore on 21 Feb. 1659 at Bristol, Eng. (as there rec.) that he kn. for 17 yrs. J. B. of Newharbor, a mason, and that he was in good health in N. E. June preced. JOHN, Rehoboth, or Swanzey, s. of John of the same, b. prob. in Eng. m. a d. of William Buckland, had John, the eldest, Joseph, Nathaniel, Lydia, and Hannah, all of wh. in his will of 31 Mar. 1662, of wh. he made John, his f. the excor. he gave to his care, and d. soon. Hannah m. 7 Jan. 1676, her cousin Hezekiah Willet. JOHN, Ipswich 1641, may have come in the Elizabeth, 1635, aged 40, from London, or have been the tailor from Badstow, in Essex, near Chelmsford, in the Defence, from London, 1635, aged 27. But whichever sh. he came in, he had w. Sarah, and by her the ch. Sarah; John; Benjamin; and Eliz.; prob. b. there; and at Hampton had Jacob, b. 1653; Mary, 13 Sept. 1655; Thomas, 14 July 1657; and Stephen, 1659, k. by the Ind. 29 June 1677 at Scarborough. Sarah m. 13 Mar. 1661, John Poor; and Eliz. m. 23 Dec. 1669, Isaac Marston. JOHN, Taunton 1643, s. of Hon. John, may be the John of Providence 1646, and after. JOHN, Milford 1648, had John; Mary; and Esther; all bapt. 16 Dec. 1649; Joseph, 1652; Mary, 1653; John, again, b. 12 July 1655; Hannah, bapt. not 3, as the perpetual blunders of Davenport's ch. has it, but 2 May 1658 at New Haven; and Phebe, 1660. His w. was Mary, and he prob. rem. to Newark, N. J. JOHN, New Haven, prob. s. of Francis of the same, m. 1 Jan. 1661, Mary, d. of John Walker of the same, had Mary, b. 2 May 1664; John, 9 Jan. 1667; Hannah, 7 Aug. 1669; and Grace, 9 Jan. 1673. She petitn. for divorce, and obt. it Oct. 1674. JOHN, Newport, a freem. 1655. JOHN, Cambridge, call. a Scotchman, m. 24 Apr. 1655, Esther, d. of Thomas Makepeace, and in [p.271] her f.'s will, eleven yrs. after, is call. of Marlborough. He had Joseph, b. 8 Feb. 1656, k. casual. at 15 yrs.; Eliz. 26 Mar. 1657; Sarah, 18 July 1661; Mary, 19 Dec. 1662; all at C. and at M. had John, 27 Nov. 1664; Esther, 1667, d. soon; Thomas, 1669; Daniel, 1671; Deborah, 1673; Abigail, 9 Mar. 1675; and Joseph, 1677; next yr. he rem. to Falmouth, and prob. at the sec. destruct. of that town was driv. away, and came to Watertown, there dates his will 20 Nov. 1697, in wh. w. Esther, s. John, Thomas, Daniel, and Joseph, d. Deborah, w. of Jeremiah Meacham, and s.-in-law John Gustin, wh. had m. 10 Jan. 1678, Eliz.; John Adams, Thomas Darley, or Darby, and John Hartshorn, are ment. JOHN, Providence, wh. sw. alleg. in May 1666, may be the same as bef. ment. but ano. John of P. sw. alleg. in May 1682. JOHN, Salem, s. of Elder John, m. 2 June 1658, Hannah, d. of Rev. Peter Hobart of Hingham, had John, b. 4 Apr. 1659, d. next mo.; John, again, 21 Feb. 1662; Samuel, 14 Mar. 1663, d. at 9 mos.; Peter, 1 Mar. 1664, d. soon; and Abiel, 21 Mar. 1673. *JOHN, Reading, m. 12 or 18 Oct. 1659, Eliz. d. of John Osgood of Andover, had Eliz. b. 5 Oct. 1660, d. soon; Eliz. again, 22 Dec. 1661; Sarah, 3 Aug. 1664, d. young; Sarah, again, 19 Nov. 1667, d. young; Mary, 30 May 1671, d. at 2 yrs.; and his w. d. 31 July 1673. He was capt. freem. 1679, rep. 1679, 80, 2, and 3; d. 1717, aged 81. JOHN, Newbury, m. 20 Feb. 1660, Mary Woodman, had Judith, b. 5 Dec. 1660; and Mary, 8 Mar. 1662. He was s. of James of Charlestown. JOHN, Reading, eldest s. of Nicholas, m. Ann, d. of Rev. John Fiske, wh. d. 30 May 1681, had Ann, b. 1678; and he m. 1682, sec. w. Eliz. wid. of Rev. Joseph Emerson of Mendon, and she d. 4 Sept. 1693, aged 55. He m. third w. Rebecca, wid. of lieut. Samuel Sprague of Malden, wh. surv. him, and d. 8 July 1710, aged 76. He, instead of that former John of R. may have been the rep. or capt. or both. JOHN, Providence, s. of Chad, m. Mary, d. of Obadiah Holmes, the sufferer by the Mass. persecut. had John, b. 18 Mar. 1662; James, 1666; Obadiah, Martha, and Deborah. JOHN, Hampton, s. of John the first of the same, had a farm giv. 1666 by his f. at the Falls, and so may be suppos. to have m. bef. the Ind. war of Philip, in wh. he serv. longer time than any other man of his town; but no w. or ch. is kn. and he d. 29 Aug. 1683. *JOHN, Salem, m. 27 Jan. but by ano. acco. 30 June 1669, Hannah, d. of Francis Collins, had Priscilla, b. 1 June 1669; Margaret, 23 Apr. 1671; Joseph, 11 Sept. 1673; William, 1 Dec. 1677; Hannah, 22 July 1678; and Mary, 4 Jan. 1680; but some confus. evid. appears in rec. of dates of one or two. He was, perhaps, rep. for Marblehead, under the new chart. 1692, and for Salem 1707, 9, and 13; may have d. 14 Apr. 1719. JOHN, a passeng. emb. in Eng. 16 May 1679 on the Prudence for Boston, may have never arr. or soon went home, or sat down in some other town, or [p.272] (wh. is the least likely), he might have gone home to purchase goods in Eng. for trade here. JOHN, Duxbury, by w. Ann had Ann, b. 19 Sept. 1673; and John, 1675; was a capt. JOHN, Swanzey or Rehoboth, a capt. had John, b. 28 Apr. 1675. JOHN, Newbury, s. of sec. Newbury Francis, m. 20 Aug. 1683, Ruth, d. of Abel Huse, had John, b. 27 Oct. 1683; and Isaac, 4 Feb. 1685; and perhaps more. He was, I suppose, the man whose ho. was assail. by the Ind. on 7 Oct. 1695, and nine persons carr. into captiv. but all by fresh pursuit were retak. tho. some d. of wounds. See Coffin, 161, 2, and strange incidents of the case in Niles, 3 Mass. Hist. Coll. VI. 238. JOHN, York 1680. JOHN, Billerica, m. 22 Apr. 1682, Eliz. d. of George Polley, had John, b. 27 Mar. 1683, d. next day; John, again, 22 Jan. 1684; Eliz. 6 July 1685, d. soon; Eliz. again, 10 Feb. 1687; and Hannah, 27 Apr. 1689. JOHN, Middletown, prob. s. of Nathaniel of the same, m. 1 Apr. 1685, Ann Porter, had Thomas, b. 1686; Hannah, 1688; John, 1691; Mary, 1693; and Abigail, 1701. JOHN, Roxbury, by w. Eliz. had Edmund, b. 3 Jan. 1686, and Edmund, again, 16 Jan. 1687 ; is, perhaps, the one wh. d. at Dorchester, 14 May 1725. JOHN, Stonington, m. Oct. 1692, Eliz. d. of Ephraim Miner, had John, b. July 1693, d. next yr.; Jonathan, 15 Mar. 1695; Eliz. Mar. 1697; Hepzibah, Sept. 1699; John, again, Dec. 1701; Ichabod, 12 Mar. 1704; Prudence, 28 Apr. 1707; Jedediah, 28 Apr. 1709; Mehitable, Aug. 1712; and Mary, Aug. 1716. JONATHAN, Reading, a man of substance, whose d. Eliz. m. 30 Sept. 1663, Hananiah Parker. JONATHAN, Watertown, s. of the first Abraham, m. 11 Feb. 1662, Mary, d. of William Shattuck, had Mary, b. 6 Oct. foll.; Eliz. 19 Sept. 1664; Jonathan, 25 Oct. 1666, d. young; Patience, 6 Mar. 1669; Abraham, 26 Aug. 1671 ; Samuel, 21 Oct. 1674; Lydia, 31 Mar. 1677; Ebenezer, 10 Sept. 1679; Benjamin, 27 Feb. 1682; and William, 3 Sept. 1684; and d. 1691. His wid. d. 23 Oct. 1732, not quite so old as her gr.stone at Waltham says. JONATHAN, Salem, m. 28 June 1664, Abigail Burrill. JONATHAN, Windsor, s. of Peter of the same, m. 1696, Mindwell Loomis, had Mindwell, b. 1699. JOSEPH, Concord, made his will 26 Sept. 1671, wh. was witness. by Rev. Edward Bulkley, but all else is unkn. JOSEPH, Charlestown, s. of Hon. William of Salem, freem. 1673, was a preach. but not ord. tho. unanim. invit. to succeed Shepard 1678, a fellow of the Corp. involv. in the matter of Presid. Hoar; d. 9 May of that yr.; his w. Mehitable, d. of Gov. William Brenton, hav. d. 14 Sept. 1676. JOSEPH, Reading, s. of Nicholas of the same, m. 26 May 1674, Eliz. d. of Thomas Bancroft of the same, had Eliz. b. 15 Jan. 1676; Nicholas, 22 Sept. 1677; Joseph, 16 Nov. 1679; Thomas, 14 Apr. 1682; Ebenezer, 12 Jan. 1685, d. soon; Ebenezer, again, 16 June 1688, d. young; Hepzibah, 23 Feb. 1693; and a. s. 20 Feb. 1695, [p.273] d. soon; and the f. d. 16 Oct. 1723. JOSEPH, Lynn, m. 22 Dec. 1680, Sarah Jones, had Joseph, b. 12 Apr. 1682, may have been of Ipswich, when made freem. 1683. JOSEPH, Stanford, s. of Francis of the same, propr. there in 1683-1701. JOSEPH, Rehoboth, youngest s. of sec. John of the same, m. 10 Nov. 1680, Hannah FITCH, had Joseph, b. 21 Nov. 1681; Hannah, 21 Nov. 1682; Jabez, 30 Dec. of unkn. yr. JOSEPH, Watertown, s. of John of Marlborough, m. 15 Nov. 1699, Ruhamah Wellington, had Ruhamah, b. 15 July 1701; Daniel, 21 Dec. 1703; John, 5 May 1706; Joseph, 2 Sept. 1708; rem. 1709 to Lexington, there had James, Josiah, Benjamin, and William, was deac. and d. 11 Jan. 1766, and his wid. d. 1 July 1772, aged 92. JOSHUA, Newbury, s. of first Newbury Richard, freem. 1673, m. 15 Jan. 1669, Sarah, d. of William Sawyer, had Joseph, b. 18 Oct. 1669; Joshua, 18 May 1671; Tristram, 21 Dec. 1672; Sarah, 5 Dec. 1676; Ruth, 29 Oct. 1678; and Samuel, 4 Sept. 1687, H. C. 1705, wh. was first min. of Abington. JOSIAH, Marblehead 1668, was prob. s. of Nicholas of Lynn, and m. 1666, as is said, Mary Fellows. NATHANIEL, Hartford 1647, m. 23 Dec. 1647, Eleanor Watts, d. of Richard, rem. to Middletown 1654, thence to Springfield, had Nathaniel, b. 9 June 1649; Thomas, 31 Oct. 1655, both d. young; was mort. wound. 5 Oct. 1675; left Hannah, the eldest, b. 15 Apr. 1651, wh. m. 5 Nov. 1669, Isaac Lane; Nathaniel, again, 15 July 1654; John, 15 Apr. 1657, and Benoni, 15 Mar. 1659. NATHANIEL, Ipswich, m. 16 Dec. 1673, Judith Perkias, had James, b. 1 June 1685; freem. 1685; was, perhaps, of Rowley afterwards. *NATHANIEL, Salisbury, eldest s. of Henry, m. 16 Nov. 1666, Hannah, d. of Samuel Fellows; had Hannah, b. 3 Apr. 1668; may have liv. few yrs. and perhaps had ch. at Hampton, but back at S. had Abigail, 1 Feb. 1676; perhaps Ephraim; ds. Abra, 20 Nov. 1680; Ruth, 9 Aug. 1685; beside Nathaniel, 24 July 1689. He was a capt. freem. 1690, rep. 1691, k. by the Ind. at Andover, 22 Feb. 1698. NATHANIEL, Middletown, s. of Nathaniel of the same, m. 2 July 1677, Martha Hughes, d. of Richard of Guilford, had Mary, b. 2 Mar. 1678; Martha, 3 Feb. 1680, d. at 18 yrs.; Eleanor, 30 June 1681; Nathaniel, 18 Sept. 1683; and d. 9 May 1712. The wid. d. 30 May 1729. NICHOLAS, Exeter, or that region, d. early in 1648. *NICHOLAS, Lynn 1630, as Lewis conject. but I think 7 yrs. too early, s. of Edward, of Inkberrow, 8 ms. from Droitwich, Worcestersh.; freem. 7 Sept. 1638, rep. 1641, rem. to Reading 1644, and d. 5 Apr. 1673. His eldest s. John went in 1660 to Eng. but came back, and was excor. of the will of 29 Mar. 1673, made by his f. pro. 17 June foll. in wh. w. Eliz. other ch. Josiah; Edward, b. 15 Aug. 1640; Eliz. and Joseph, 10 Dec. 1647; possib. ano. Sarah, 26 June 1650, are ment. This fam. had e final. NICHOLAS, Portsmouth, [p.274] R. I. a freem. 1655. PETER, Plymouth, came in the Mayflower, 1620, m. two ws. and had two ch. by ea. says Gov. Bradford, after his com. here, and both of those by the first w. had been m. and one of them had two ch. when the Gov. wrote in 1650. For his first w. conject. assigns him the wid. Ford wh. had come in the Fortune 1621; but, of course, this must have been after the land div. in 1624; and he, at the div. of cattle, 1627, has assoc. with him Martha and Mary, perhaps w. and d. He is somewhere call. br. of John of P. and both liv. on Duxbury side. He d. 1633, and Standish and Brewster took his inv. 10 Oct. of that yr. PETER, New Haven 1639, had Mercy, bapt. 6 Apr. 1645; and Eliz. 1 Aug. 1647 ; rem. to Stamford, where his w. Eliz. d. 21 Sept. 1657 ; and he m. 27 July 1658, Unity, wid. of Clement Buxton, and d. 22 of the mo. foll. His s. Ebenezer had d. the day preced. but he may have also had Thomas, and Hackaliah, by the first w. both of wh. rem. to Rye. His wid. m. 9 Mar. foll. Nicholas Knapp. PETER, Plymouth, I suppose, s. of Peter of the same, b. after 1627, as his name does not appear in the div. of cattle that yr. He was with Gov. Bradford and thirty others among the first purch. of Dartmouth in 1652. PETER, Windsor, m. 15 July 1658, Mary, d. of Jonathan Gillett, had Mary, b. 2 May 1659; Hannah, 29 Sept. 1660; Abigail, 8 Aug. 1662; Hepzibah, 19 Nov. 1664; Peter, 2 Mar. 1667; John, 8 Jan. 1669; Jonathan, 30 Mar. 1670; Cornelius, 30 July 1672; Esther, 22 May 1673; Eliz. 9 June 1676; Deborah, 2 Feb. 1679; and Sarah, 20 Aug. 1681 ; the twelve were nam. at his d. 9 Mar. 1692, as all liv. Hannah was m. to one not kn.; Abigail m. 1683, Samuel Fowler; Esther m. 1700, William Barber; and Deborah m. 1696, John Hosford. PETER, Windsor, s. of the preced. m. 1696, Mary Barber, d. prob. of the sec. Thomas of the same. PHILIP, Salisbury, s. of Henry of the same, m. 24 June 1669, Mary, d. of the first Isaac Buswell, had Susanna, b. 8 Mar. 1670; Mary, 23 Feb. 1672, d. in few mos.; a s. 1 Apr. 1673, d. in few days; Abigail, 4 June 1675; Mary, 1676; Sarah, 18 Mar. 1678; George, 1 July 1680; Phebe, 2 Oct. 1681, wh. d. at 19 yrs.; and Hannah, 5 Feb. 1683. His w. d. 27 Nov. foll. and he d. 21 July 1729. * RICHARD, Watertown 1630, prob. br. of first Abraham, came in the fleet with Winth. freem. 18 May 1631, hav. req. the privilege 19 Oct. preced. was rul. eld. as he had been in a London ch. rep. at the first gen. et. of delegates 1634, and every time to 1639, and again 1647-55, exc. 1653; rem. to Charlestown, and d. betw. Aug. 1659 and Mar. 1661, the dates of mak. and prob. of his will. That instr. of wh. wid. Eliz. was extrix. nam. s. Thomas, and gr.s. Richard, and George; but the est. was not adequate, it is thot. to tempt either over the ocean. Winth. I. 58. His wid. m. 12 May 1662, Richard Jackson of Cambridge. RICHARD, [p.275] Ipswich, bef. 1638 rem. to Newbury, was br. of George, and with him came in the Mary and John, 1634, freem. 6 May 1635, d. 26 Apr. 1661; by w. Edith, wh. d. Apr. 1647, had Joseph, wh. d. young; Joshua, b. 10 Apr. 1642; Caleb, 7 May 1645; and by sec. w. Eliz. wid. of Giles Badger, m. 16 Feb. 1648, had Eliz. 20 Mar. 1649; Richard, 18 Feb. 1651; Edmund, 17 July 1654; Sarah, 7 Sept. 1657; and Mary, 10 Apr. 1660. RICHARD, Hingham, m. Nov. 1648, at Weymouth, Eliz. Marsh. RICHARD, Charlestown, call. old in 1658, d. Oct. 1660. Highly prob. is it, that he is the same as the rul. Eld. of Watertown. His will, of 16 Aug. 1659, names w. Eliz. made extrix. s. Thomas; gr.s. Richard, and George; beside apprent. Jonathan Simpson. RICHARD, Southold, L. I. made freem. of Conn. 1662. RICHARD, Newbury, s. of Richard of the same, m. 7 May 1674, Mary Jaques, had only s. Richard, b. 12 Sept. 1675, H. C. 1697, min. of Reading, wh. m. 22 Apr. 1703, Martha Whipple, had sev. ch. (of wh. one was John, b. 2 Mar. 1706; and ano. was Martha, m. 12 Mar. 1730, Rev. Samuel Wigglesworth, as his sec. w.) and d. 20 or 29 Oct. 1732. RICHARD, Providence, s. of Henry of the same, by w. Mary had Malachi, b. 1 Feb. 1698; Mercy, 12 Dec. 1703; William, 3 June 1705; and Richard, 28 Feb. 1712. This last liv. over one hundredyrs. of wh. very many he serv. as proprs. clk. Judge Staples remembers him, as seat. in his doorway within two yrs. of the latest. Gathering at his ho. on the hundredth birthday, rumor went, that his friends made him dance; but, at least, what was then done ""shortened his days."" I hope not much. ROBERT, Cambridge, came in the Truelove, 1635, aged 24, m. 8 May 1649, Barbara Eden, freem. 1649, d. 23 Nov. 1690, aged only 70, acc. inscript. on gr.stone, as giv. in Cambridge Epit. by wh. his wid. wh. d. 1 June 1693, is said to be aged 80. We may therefore doubt, that here must be error in that very correct work, as we kn. there is, when it marks him freem. 1639. This custom ho. date is inconsist. with the gr.stone; and no Robert B. is among freem. for many yrs. bef. or after. Mitchell's Reg. in Cambr. ch. Gathering, gives him no ch. SAMUEL, Salem 1629, br. of first John, and one of the patentees, nam. (tho. not an Assist. as his br. was), of the counc. to Endicott, 30 Apr. but never qualif. by tak. the oath as requir. and both by him sent back the same summer of their com. SAMUEL, Wallingford, was liv. at New Haven 1670, s. of Francis of the same, m. 2 May 1667, Mercy, d. of William Tuttle of the same, had Abigail, b. 11 Mar. 1669; Sarah, 8 Aug. 1672; Rachel, 14 Apr. 1677; Francis, 7 Oct. 1679; after wh. he rem. to W. there had Samuel, wh. was k. by his mo. 20 June 1691, with an axe, and she was convict. 1 Oct. foll. of murder; but the court had sense eno. to set aside the verdict, as it was clearly a case of insanity. [p.276] The f. d. in that yr. but, after the trial, sent an effective petitn. to the Court. Only three ch. were then liv. Sarah, w. of Joseph Doolittle, Rachel, and Francis; the wid. still liv. in 1695. *SAMUEL, Salem, perhaps br. of Hon. William, may be he, wh. m. at Boston, 9 July 1661, Mary, d. of James Mattock; rep. 1675. SAMUEL, Eastham, m. 19 Feb. 1683, Martha Harding, had Bethia, b. 22 Jan. 1684, d. next yr.; Bethia again, 9 Sept. 1685; Martha, 24 June 1688, d. young; and Samuel, 7 Nov. 1690; d. 3 Dec. 1691, aged 31. STEPHEN, Newbury, in his will of 3 Aug. 1656, names w. Sarah, ch. Sarah, w. of Ordway; Abigail, w. of Rogers; Ann; Mary; John; and Stephen. THOMAS, Newbury, a weaver, of Malford, in Wilts, came from Southampton 1635, by the James, in employm. of Thomas Antram, reach. Boston 3 June, bring. w. Mary, wh. d. 2 June 1655; freem. 22 May 1639; had Mary, b. 1635, the first Eng. ch. of the town; Isaac; and Francis; may have been of Ipswich 1641; d. by a fall 8 Jan. 1687, aged 80. Malford is a parish in the hundr. of North Damenham, a. 6 ms. from Malmsbury, and 5 from Chippenham, in Co. Wilts, on the map of that sh. in Camden's Britannia, call. Christian Malford, perhaps too long a name for modern maps. In this geogr. detail I am more full, bec. (tho. print. by me, in 1843, 3 Hist. Coll. VIII. 319), a descend. sent lately to Eng. to explore the seat of his ancestors, and his agent's ansr. was ""finds no such place in Eng. as Malford."" In despair, the inquir. accept. Walford, in Wales for the derivat. of his anc. as if, in those early days, from that distant principality, a weaver would travel with his w. so far as southampton to embark, when Bristol and other ports would have been so much nearer. Mary m. 13 May 1656, Peter Godfrey, and d. 16 Apr. 1716. THOMAS, Concord 1638, perhaps br. of Rev. Edmund, being among orig. proprs. of Sudbury 1637, freem. 14 Mar. 1639, by w. Bridget had Boaz, b. 14 Feb. 1642; perhaps Jabez, 1644 ; Mary, 26 Mar. 1646; Eleazer, July 1649; and Thomas, 1651. His w. d. 5 Jan. 1681, and he rem. prob. to Cambridge, d. 3 Nov. 1688. He was a deac. perhaps br. of Rev. Edmund, freem. 2 June 1641, a capt. and rep. under the new chart. 1692. WILLIAM, Gloucester, a selectman 1644, m. 15 July 1646, Mary, wid. of the first Abraham Robinson, had Mary, b. 28 July 1649; and he d. 3 May 1662. His will of 29 Apr. bef. names w. and d. Lydia, wh. d. 30 July 1680, aged 46, Mary, b. 23 Apr. 1657. Perhaps this is the man, m. by dep.-gov. Bellingham, 11 Apr. 1656 to some fem. in the Geneal. Reg. XI. 201, call. William Parchment. Surely we may presume this to be wanton folly, or inexcusab. carelessness. Was it design. for a sneer at the dep.-gov.? ‡‡WILLIAM, Salem, s. of Hon. William, m. 29 Dec. 1664, Hannah, d. of George Curwin; had William, b. 28 July 1666, d. soon; Hannah, 16 Mar. 1668, d. soon; Samuel, 8 Oct. 1669; William, again, 5 Sept. 1671, d. very soon; John, 2 Nov. 1672; Sarah, 10 Dec. 1674, d. at 14; and Mary, 22 Aug. 1679. His w. d. 21 Nov. 1692; and he m. 26 Apr. 1694, Rebecca Bayley, was freem. 1665, one of Andros's counc. 1687-9, and of the counc. of safety, when the usurp. was put down, not nam. by Increase Mather in the chart. of 1692, but chos. next yr. by a full vote of the reps. of the people, and d. 23 Feb. 1716. The benefact. to Harv. Coll. of this gent. of his f. br. and s. are honorab. commemo. by Quincy in his great work. One of his s. Samuel was rep. couns. and judge, and d. June 1731, f. of William, H. Sarah had John, b. 10 Oct. 1669; Joseph, Aug. 1672; and Benjamin, Aug. 1674. WILLIAM, Sudbury, s. of William, m. 11 Jan. 1676, Margaret, d. of deac. John Stone of Cambridge, and d. 1705. WILLIAM, Charlestown, m. 29 Feb. 1672, Mary Goodwin, wh. d. 28 July 1678, aged 22; and by her had Job, bapt. 3 Oct. 1675. He had sec. w. Mary Lothrop, m. 21 May 1679, wh. d. 23 Dec. 1713, aged 54. He d. 19 Oct. [p.279] 1724, aged 78. Of this name (some with final s, more without it), it seems impossib. to unravel the whole line and lines. It will be seen, that I have giv. at least, a fair sample. Thirty-six of the name had. in 1834, been gr. at Harv. alone, and Mr. Farmer says fifty-nine others at the various coll. of N. E. N. J. and Union of N. York. Of these, eleven had been clerg. from H. C. and the same number from the others.

Yet from the unusual distinctness of the Roxbury ch. rec. wh. I have examin. and the concur. later ones at Springfield and elsewhere, all doubt is dispel. Trumbull, in his Index, correct. the error of his text; and the 1853 Ed. of Winthrop's Hist. II. 441, has giv. the true name. *JEHU, Fairfield, s. prob. eldest, of the preced. perhaps b. in Eng. m. DAVID, Watertown, s. of the first Nathan, m. 15 Dec. 1675, Eliz. d. of George Reed of Woburn, had Nathan, b. a. 1676; and David, 11 Dec. 1678. He d. a. 1694. JAMES, Salem 1641, or ealier, s. of Thomas of Co. Suff. Eng. unless he were s. of Phineas, a to me seems more prob. freem. 18 May 1642, rem. to Haverhill, there by w. Ann had James, b. 8 Aug. 1649; John, 10 Dec. 1651; Ann, 1654, d. soon; Ann, again, 1656; and Samuel, 1 Nov. 1658. JOHN, Wenham, s. of that John wh. d. 1633 (and was s. of William, s. of Robert, wh. was s. of Richard of Laxfield in Queen Mary's time); b. as Mather tells (in Magn. III. c. 24), a. 1601, at St. James parish in South Elmham, a subdiv. of the hundred of Wangford, Co. Suff. bred at King's Coll. Cambr. there took his A. B. 1625, tho. Mather makes it Emanuel, m. a. eight and twenty yrs. of age, by the same auth. 1629, Ann Gipps of Frinshall, Co. Norf. had, as tradit. said, two ch. wh. d. inf. but two others he brot. with his w. and a younger br. perhaps William, to Boston, 1637, sat down first at Cambridge, but rem. the same yr. to Salem, freem. 2 Nov. 1637, taught the gr. sch. among his pupils one being famous afterward as Sir George Downing, min. for Cromwell and Charles II. at the Hauge, had John, b. 29 Aug. bapt. 2 Sept. 1638, d. under nine yrs.; Sarah, 24, bapt. 26 July 1640; Moses, b. at Wenham, 12 Apr. bapt. at Salem by Mr. Norris in June 1642, H. C. 1662; he had preach. occasional. for Hugh Peters, and rem. to be min. at Wenham, ord. 8 Oct. 1644, had there Ann, 15 Jan. bapt. 12 Mar. 1646, being the first bapt. in that ch. Eliezur, 8, bapt. 14 Feb. 1647, d. young; rem. in 1655 to and was min. of Chelmsford, where his w. Ann d. 14 Feb. 1672, ""after liv. with him a. 37 yrs."" This renders Mather's acco. of the m. in 1629, impossib. and also the tradit. of his hav. had four ch. in Eng. as she was his first w. and makes it prob. that he brot. only one ch. On 1 Aug. foll. he m. Eliz. wid. of Edmund Henchman, and he d. 14 Jan. 1677. His d. Ann m. Capt. John Brown of Reading, and d. 30 May 1681, aged 35. *JOHN, Wenham, s. of Phineas of the same, b. in Eng. constable 1645, rep. 1669, d. 1683, leav. wid. Remember, wh. m. 1689, William Goodhue, as his fourth w. and ch. John, freem. 1685; Samuel; Noah; Eliz. and Remember, wh. m. 1 Jan. 1690, Nehemiah Abbot; beside, it is said, one other ch. JOHN, Watertown 1648, m. 11 Dec. 1651, Sarah, eldest d. of Nicholas Wyeth of Cambridge, had [p.166] Sarah, b. 1 Feb. 1653; John, 7 Nov. 1654, d. in 3 mos.; John, again, 20 Nov. 1655; Margaret, 28 Nov. 1658; Mary, 5 July 1661; William, 23 Feb. 1664; Martha, 15 Dec. 1666; Eliz. 11 May 1669; Nathaniel, 11 Sept. 1672; and Abigail, 8 Oct. 1675; was never freem. prob. but took the o. of fidel. 1652, and d. 28 Oct. 1684, æt. 65. Mary m. 5 Feb. 1684, Joseph Mason; Martha m. 20 Jan. 1684, George Adams; Eliz. m. 27 Dec. 1688, Simon Mellen; and Abigail m. 14 July 1699, Jonathan Sanderson. JOHN, Chelmsford, s. of Rev. John, m. 1666, Lydia Fletcher, perhaps d. of Robert, had no ch. d. a. 1700. JOHN, Watertown, s. of John of the same, m. 9 Dec. 1679, Abigail d. of Thomas Park, had Abigail, b. 12 June 1684; Eliz. 20 Jan. 1686; John, 15 May 1687; Jonathan, bapt. 25 Nov. 1688, d. soon; Jonathan, again, 8 Dec. 1689; Hepzibah, b. 13 Jan. 1694; a d. 1695, d. soon; and David, 13 Apr. 1697. He took 2d w. Jan. 1700, Hannah Richards, wh. d. 1714, had Hannah, bapt. 8 Oct. 1704, was freem. 1690, and d. 1718. JOHN, a physician at Milford 1695. After long protract. search, I can add that he m. 17 Jan. 1682, Hannah, d. of first John Baldwin, was s. of John the constable of Wenham, and gr.s. of Phineas of Wenham; and beside Benjamin, bapt. 1696, and perhaps Ebenezer, and John, wh. join. the ch. at M. 1714, had s. Rev. Phineas, Y. C. 1704; but all these ch. were b. at Wenham. JOSEPH, Lynn, m. 22 May 1677, Eliz. Haman, had Joseph, b. July 1678. He prob. rem. to Ipswich, and there Joseph d. at 20 yrs. He had there, by sec. w. Susanna, d. Susanna, b. 18 Mar. 1700. It may well be assum. that he was a relative to some Wenham Fiske, but in what degree is unkn. MOSES, Braintree, s. of Rev. John, was at Dover, perhaps as preach. freem. 1666, was ord. at B. 11 Sept. 1672, m. 7 Nov. 1671, Sarah, d. of William Symmes of Charlestown, wh. d. 2 Nov. or Dec. 1692, hav. brot. him fourteen ch. of wh. 7 s. were John; John 2d; Samuel; Samuel, 2d, b. 6 Apr. 1689, H. C. 1708, min. of Salem; Moses; William; and Edward. He m. 7 Jan. 1701, Ann, wid. of Daniel Quiney, d. of Rev. Thomas Shepard, the first, of Charlestown, had one d. and one s. Shepard, b. 19 Apr. 1703, H. C. 1721, a physician. His w. d. 24 July 1708; and he d. 10 Aug. foll. NATHAN, Watertown, prob. br. of the first David, was of an honor. fam. in Co. Suff. bearing coat of arms so early as the days of Hen. VI., as appears on rec. freem. 10 May 1643, by w. Susanna had Nathan, b. 17 Oct. 1642; John, 25 Aug. 1647; David, 29 Apr. 1650; Nathaniel, 12 July 1653; and Sarah, wh*m. Abraham Gale. He d. 21 June 1676, made his will two days bef. nam. s. John excor. but of that s. we hear no more from Bond. Perhaps he d. unm. or rem. NATHAN, Cambridge, s. of the preced. freem. 1672, by w. Eliz. had Nathan, b. 9 Feb. 1666, d. young; Eliz. 11 Jan. 1668; Martha, 12 Jan. 1670; Nathan, again, 3 [p.167] Jan. 1672; Susanna, 7 Apr. 1674; Abigail, 18 Feb. 1676; William, 5 Dec. 1677, d. soon; William, again, 10 Nov. 1678; and Ann, wh. d. 11 July 1683; and he d. 1694. His wid. d. 15 May 1696. His s. Nathan, wh. m. Sarah, d. of Simon Cooledge, had eight ch. of wh. the eldest s. Nathan, b. 25 Feb. 1702, m. Ann Warren, was f. of Rev. Nathan of Brookfield, D. D. b. 9 Sept. 1733 at Weston, H. C. 1754. NATHANIEL. Watertown, youngest br. of the sec. Nathan, m. 13 Apr. 1677, Mary, wid. of John Child, d. of Daniel Warren, had Nathaniel, b. 8 June 1678; Hannah, 29 Aug. 1680; John, 17 Mar. 1683; Sarah, 4 July 1684; Lydia, 2 Dec. 1687; Mary, bapt. 20 Apr. 1690; Eliz. 24 June 1692; and Abigail, 28 Aug. 1698. *PHINEAS, Salem 1641, or earlier, perhaps f. but freq. call. br. of James, freem. 18 May 1642, rem. to Wenham 1644, was capt. rep. 1653, had James, John, and Thomas, all b. in Eng. SAMUEL, Wenham, s. of John, not the Rev. but the constable, freem. 1680, of wh. I kn. no more, exc. that bef. Mar. 1694 he had rem. to Milford. STEPHEN, Reading, call. by Eaton an early sett. *HOMAS, Wenham, s. of Phineas, came prob. with his f. in early youth was rep. 1671, 2, and often after, espec. in the Revo. time 1689--91, a capt. foreman of the jury in that sad case of witchcraft of Rebecca Nurse, after verdict of not guilty, prevailed on to convict by the wonderful perversity and extraordinary ignorance of the Court. His shocking confession against hims. and the judges is in Hutch. II. 52. THOMAS, Wenham, prob. s. of the preced. m. 3 Nov. 1678, Rebecca, youngest ch. of Rev. William Perkins, was freem. 1690. *WILLIAM, Salem 1637, br. of Rev. John, with wh. he prob. came, as he had gr. of ld. that yr. freem. 18 May 1642, rem. to Wenham, and was the first town clk. or clk. of the writs, 1644, had by w. Bridget Musket of Pelham, m. in Eng. William, Samuel, Joseph, Benjamin, and Martha, some, perhaps most, b. in Eng. but William was bapt. at Salem 4 June 1643, yet he may have been *d of the name; was rep. 1647--50, d. 1654. In the Col. Rec. I. 235, is settlem. of rights betw. him and his br. John, by wh. it seems that he was in Sept. 1638, under 24 yrs. of age. Endicot, Hathorne, and two other of the ch. men of S. made the terms of agreem. WILLIAM, Salem or Wenham, s. of the preced. was freem. 1670. WILLIAM, Watertown, s. of John the first, m. 20 Oct. 1693, Hannah, d. of John Smith, had William, b. 24 Aug. 1694, d. young; Hannah, 13 Oct. 1696, Mary, 1699, d. soon; Thomas, 12 Sept. 1701; William, again, 13 Mar. 1704; John, 24 Aug. 1706; and Samuel, 4 Jan. 1709. Of this name, sometimes spelled without e, twenty had many yrs. ago been gr. at Harv. of wh. 7 were clerg. and twenty at other N. E. coll. of wh. 9 were clerg. That the Coll. catal. capriciously divides the fam. is plain eno. as Rev. Moses has the authentic Eng. letters, and his s. Rev. Samuel loses the [p.168] final letter. Much of the foregoing is deriv. from a very val. tract on Suff. Emigr. by Rev. Joseph Hunter, F. A. S. in 3 Mass. Hist. Coll. X. 158, wh. informs us, that, at the Herald's office it appears, in early times, this fam. was entit. to coat armor.

He may have been of Johnson's comp. in Philip's war, and by a former w. had John, b. 5 June 1674; but neither her surname, nor bapt. name can I decipher from the MS. of my friend. correspondent. JOHN, Scituate, may be that youth bound 1653 to Michael Pierce for nine yrs. personal serv. as rec. in 1662, m. 1668, Mary, d. of Christopher Winter, had John; liv. some yrs. at Marshfield, and d. 21 May 1694. JOHN, Rye, rem. to Norwalk, prob. had John, as in 1687, he is disting. as sen. and both liv. there 1694. JOHN, Woburn, s. of Ralph, m. 21 Mar. 1682, Eliz. Holden, perhaps d. of Richard, had John, b. 22 Mar. 1684; Ralph, 6 Sept. 1686; Eliz. 25 Feb. 1691; and he took sec. w. 4 Dec. 1705, Abigail Baldwin, perhaps d. of Henry. JOHN, Woburn, s. of George the first, m. 10 Jan. 1697, Ruth Johnson, prob. d. of Matthew, but I hear no [p.517] more. JOHN, Boston, whose f. by no dilig. inquiry can be ascert. but seems to be entit. to insert. here, tho. the first ment. of him is as gr. at H. C. 1697, bec. it is so high a prob. that he was either b. on our side of the ocean, or at least had been here so many yrs. JOSEPH and JOSIAH, of Lynn, are among the freem. of 1681. The former came to Boston 1671, in the Arabella from London. JOSIAH, New London 1662, rem. to Norwich, m. at Marshfield, Nov. 1666, Grace Holloway, had Josiah, b. Apr. 1668; William, Apr. 1670; Eliz. Sept. 1672; Experience, 27 Feb. 1675; John, 15 Apr. 1679; Joseph, 12 Mar. 1681; Susanna, 20 Sept. 1685; Hannah, July 1688; and he d. 3 July 1711. His wid. d. 9 May 1727. MATTHEW, Norwalk, adm. to be an inhab. 1655, but his name is not found after. Hall's Hist. 48. MICHAEL, nam. in the will of William, pro. at London, 31 Oct. 1656, as one of three s. m. in N. E. but the name is not kn. to me as of an inhab. * MOSES, Rehoboth, s. of the first John, m. at Taunton, 6 Dec. 1677, Rebecca FITCH, had Zechariah, b. 25 Oct. 1678, d. in Jan. foll.; Zechariah again, 20 Oct. 1681; Rebecca, 14 Sept. 1683; was rep. sev. yrs. and d. 14 Dec. 1716. NICHOLAS, Danvers, apprent. of Edward Putnam, k. by the Ind. Sept. 1689, aged 18. OBADIAH, Boston, m. 19 Aug. 1664, Ann, d. of Obadiah Swift, had Eliz. b. 29 Mar. 1669; Sarah, 16 Apr. 1671, d. young; Ann, 3 Feb. 1673; Obadiah, 29 Nov. 1677, d. soon; Obadiah, again, 29 Nov. 1678, d. young; and James, 29 Feb. 1680. His w. d. 13 Sept. foll. aged 33; and by w. Eliz. he had Obadiah, again, 27 Mar. 1683; Mary, 4 May 1684; Nathaniel, 23 Aug. 1686; and Sarah, again, 26 Jan. 1688. PHILIP, Weymouth 1640, by w. Mary had Philip, b. 24 Oct. 1641; Samuel; and Mary, wh. m. 27 Nov. 1669, John Vining; was prob. the freem. of 1660, and his will of 15 Dec. 1674, was pro. 5 May 1676. PHILIP, Lynn 1669, a physician, is presum. to be that resident of Concord, wh. after liv. there 25 yrs. d. 10 May 1696. PHILIP, Weymouth, s. of Philip the first, by w. Hannah had Mary b. 21 Mar. 1669; Hannah, 18 Feb. 1672; Philip, 2 Nov. 1674; John, 16 Aug. 1676; and prob. these by w. Abigail, Samuel, 29 Sept. 1681; Prudence, 7 Oct. 1685; Stephen, 15 Oct. 1690; and Deborah, 30 Aug. 1692. RALPH, Woburn, s. of William of Dorchester, brought from Eng. by his f. in very early youth, by w. Mary, d. of Anthony Pierce of Watertown, had William, b. 1658; John, 1660; Joseph; Daniel; Timothy, b. 14 Feb. 1665; David; and Jonathan. RICHARD, Marblehead 1674, in June 1678 was witness with Samuel R. to the will of Samuel Condy. RICHARD, Boston, by w. Joanna, had Mary, b. 26 Mar. 1687, and perhaps others. ROBERT, Exeter 1638, was one of the first sett. at Hampton, but rem. to Boston, there by w. Hannah, had Rebecca, b. 29 Sept. bapt. 1 Nov. 1646, wh. prob. d. young; again went to Hampton, there had [p.518] Hannah, Mary, and Sarah; again rem. to Boston, perhaps, where he had the last ment. bapt. 1 Sept. 1650; and Samuel, 3 Apr. 1653; this s. d. the end of Mar. foll. and ano. Samuel was b. 28 Feb. 1655. His w. d. 24 June foll. and he went once more to Hampton, had ano. w. Susanna; and was drown. 20 Oct. 1657, by overset. of a boat. See Belkn. I. 58, f Farmer's ed. His wid. m. John Preston, and she join. with the childr. in convey. of est. in B. Hannah m. 11 Jan. 1661, John Senter of Boston. SAMUEL, Mendon, s. of John the first, freem. 1673, m. 1668, Hopestill Holbrook, perhaps d. of William the first, had Samuel, John, Josiah, and Ebenezer, beside Mary, w. prob. of Seth Chapin; but dates are not seen. His will was of 5 Apr. 1717. The s. John is said to be that gr. of H. C. 1697, wh. was held the greatest lawyer this country produc. bef. the Americ. Revo. exc. perhaps Judge Trowbridge. See full exhibit. of his esteem in Eliot's Biogr. Dict. SAMUEL, Marblehead 1674, perhaps br. of Richard. SAMUEL, Charlestown, s. of George the first, a physician, m. 19 June 1679, Eliz. d. of John Mousal, had Eliz. b. 3 Apr. 1680; Joanna, 16 Feb. 1681; Abigail, 10 Jan. 1683; Samuel, 16 July 1688, d. in few days; Mary, 9 Jan. 1690; Mercy, 29 Nov. 1697. THOMAS, Salem 1630, freem. 1 Apr. 1634, was made ens. 1637, had s. Thomas, Abraham, and perhaps others, and he may earlier have been of Lynn and Marblehead, at wh. latter he was a witness, 28 Sept. 1630, bef. coroner's jury. THOMAS, Salem, elder s. of the preced. by w. Mary, had Susanna, bapt. 23 Sept. 1649; John, 15 June 1651; Mary, 10 Apr. 1653; Eliz. 13 May 1655; Remember, 26 Apr. 1657; Jacob, 5 June 1659; Sarah, 15 Mar. 1661; but prob. the last two d. young, for ano. Jacob was bapt. there 7 Nov. 1663; and Sarah, again, 19 Aug. 1666. Yet here, without doubt, is some confus. and more omis. I feel sure there were two, and prob. three Thomases contempo. at Salem. The first had title of Col. and d. abroad a. 1663; left beside a sec. w. call. Elsy, two s. of wh. Abraham, the younger, was admor. By Wait Winthrop, his atty. Samuel, only s. of the other Thomas, calling hims. merch. of London, sold 28 June 1701, to Daniel Epps the farm at Salem that had belong. to his f. But Essex Inst. II. 16, gives inv. of ano. THOMAS, tak. 5 Apr. 1667. THOMAS, Milford 1646, may have been a promin. man at Newtown, L. I. 1656. THOMAS, Sudbury, may be the freem. of 1656, had Thomas, and perhaps more, d. 19 Sept. 1701, as Mr. Shattuck thinks. THOMAS, Boston, by w. Mary had Eliz. b. 28 Jan. 1657; and he d. 11 May 1661. THOMAS, Rehoboth, s. of John the first, m. 29 Mar. 1665, Eliz. Clark, bur. 23 Feb. 1675, aged 32; and m. 16 June 1675, Ann Perrin, perhaps d. of the first John, had John, wh. d. 4 Dec. 1676; Thomas, 25 Mar. 1678; Nathaniel, 30 Mar. 1680; and Hannah, 12 Apr. 1682; and he d. 6 Feb. 1696. THOMAS, Weymouth, [p.519] s. of William the first, by w. Sarah had Thomas, b. 12 Sept. 1671; John, 30 Dec. 1679; Samuel, 12 Apr. 1681; Ruth, 20 Feb. 1685; William, 4 Feb. 1688; Hannah, 25 Sept. 1689; and Eliz. 9 Nov. 1694. THOMAS, Sudbury, s. of Thomas of the same, m. 30 May, 1677, Mary, d. of John Goodrich of Wethersfield, had fam. was freem. 1678, then call. jun. One THOMAS of New Hampsh. 1689, pray. for jurisdict. of Mass. THOMAS, Woburn, youngest s. of George the first, m. 1 Feb. 1704, Sarah Sawyer. TIMOTHY, Woburn, s. of Ralph, m. 27 Dec. 1688, Martha Boyden, had Martha, b. 1 Mar. 1690; William, 5 Oct. 1694, so nam. for a bro. k. by the f.; Jonathan, 15 Dec. 1701, d. young; Eliz. 1 Dec. 1706; and Mary, 25 Dec. 1709; and by sec. w. Persis, had Persis, 21 July 1711; Timothy, 27 Sept. 1713; Jacob, 31 Jan. 1716; and Jonathan again, 19 May 1718. But it must be told, that the h. of Persis, to wh. these last four ch. are giv. is, by my correspond. call. s. of George the first. WILLIAM, Boston, perhaps very early, but more prob. not, as it seems likely that most, if not all of his ch. were brot. from Eng. So far as can be gather. or reasona. conject. they were Margaret, wh. m. 3 Mar. 1659, Richard Stubbs; Susanna m. 13 Dec. 1659, Samuel Smith; Esther m. 30 July 1661, John Canney, all at B. Edward, Richard, and Samuel, all at Marblehead, and it is said Christopher, wh. d. at Charlestown 1696. Tradit. tells, that he d. at sea, on a passage, 1667, hither from Ireland. * WILLIAM, Weymouth. freem. 2 Sept. 1635, rep. 1636 and 8, had John; William, b. 15 Dec. 1639; Esther, 8 May 1641; and prob. others, certain Mary wh. d. by rec. 16 Apr. 1655. But ano. Mary, d. of one William at W. m. 11 May 1657, John Vining, by the same rec. so that some mistake may be fear. Perhaps the earlier date refers to the mo. of the m. Mary. He had also Thomas, Margaret, and James. WILLIAM, Dorchester, came prob. in the Defence 1635, aged 48, with w. Mabel, 30; George, 6; Ralph, 5; and Justus, 18 mos. and had at D. Abigail, bapt. 30 Dec. 1638; was freem. 14 Mar. 1639; rem. prob. first to Rehoboth, or perhaps liv. at Woburn. WILLIAM, Boston, perhaps br. of the first John, there by w. Susanna, had Susanna; and, John b. 25, bapt. 27 Sept. 1646, a. 4 days old, as the ch. rec. says. His w. d. 12 Oct. 1653, and he m. 20 May 1654, Ruth Crook, had William, 3 Feb. 1655, d. soon; Isaac, 18 Apr. 1656; Ephraim, 23 Nov. 1657; Jonathan, 23 Apr. 1659; Timothy, 11 Aug. 1660; William, again, 7 May 1662; Hezekiah, 6 July 1663; Sarah, 26 June 1665; Eliz. 22 Dec. 1666; and Eliz. again, 22 Apr. 1669. He may have been of the first proprs. of Worcester, 1674. His d. Hannah d. 25 Nov. 1656, by rec. and d. Susanna m. 13 Dec. 1659, Samuel Smith. WILLIAM, Norwalk 1654, perhaps was only a transient man, and very soon aft. of Newtown, L. I. WILLIAM, Boston, by w. [p.520] Hannah had William, b. 26 Mar. 1665, unless there be error in town rec. wh. is not very improb. and John, 25 Apr. 1669. WILLIAM, Woburn, eldest s. of Ralph, by w. Eliz. had William, b. 23 Aug. 1682; Mary, 12 Mar. 1685; Eliz. 23 Feb. 1687; was casual. k. by his own bro. Timothy, 7 Nov. 1688, shooting at a deer. WILLIAM, Woburn, s. of George, m. 24 May 1686, Abigail Kendall. WILLIAM, Weymouth, s. of William the first of the same, not the freem. 1653, m. 1675 Esther Thompson, had William; Esther; John, b. 21 Oct. 1680; ano. ch. whose name is not in the rec. 24 May 1682; John, again, 10 July 1687; so that prob. the first John d. young; Jacob, 6 Nov. 1691; and Sarah, 21 Mar. 1694; beside others, as we are confident, for his will of 26 Oct. 1705, pro. 12 Sept. foll. names w. Esther; eldest s. William; John; Jacob, and ds. Bathshua Porter; Mercy Whitmarsh; and unm. ones, Mary; Esther; and Sarah. This name is very common, often written Reed, and under either form likely to breed confus. betw. sev. hav. the same bapt. title. Aft. spend. many hours of sev. days, I am unable to reconcile and fix the habita. of all. Farmer found 60 gr. in the N. E., N. J., and Union Coll. 1829. Twelve at Harv. and eleven at Yale had been gr. in 1834.

JOHN, Watertown, s. of Simon the first, b. in Eng. prob. brot. in his mo.'s arms in the Increase from London 1635, being 5 wks. old, when emb. 15 Apr. yet Bond says the W. rec. marks him b. 15 Aug. perhaps by blunder. By w. Sarah he had Sarah; Joanna, b. 11 Jan. 1665; John, 15 Dec. 1666; Ann, 8 Aug. 1668; Mary, 14 Sept. 1670; Eliz. 5 May 1672; Samuel, 14 Feb. 167; Hepzibah, 5 May 1677; Deborah, 25 Feb. 1680; and Rebecca, 22 Aug. 1682; was a deac. and d. 26 Mar. 1691. Sarah m. 15 or 18 Dec. for Bond ment. both dates, 1681, Manning Sawin; Joanna m. 9 May 1693, Simon Tainter; Eliz. m. 17 Nov. 1692, John Barnard, as his sec. w.; Hepzibah m. 7 Jan. 1702, as his sec. w. John Morse; and Deborah m. 9 June 1703, Ephraim Cutter. JOHN, wh. had his A. B. at our H. C. 1653, went to Eng. there was A. M. at Camb. Univ. but the time of his d. is uncert. tho. by the Mather Catal. it was bef. 1698. Farmer wh. was prob. mistak. thot. he was s. of Rev. Samuel of Hartford. JOHN, Milford, s. of John of Guilford, m. Susanna, d. of Rev. Roger Newton, and d. 1686, leav. ch. Samuel, John, and Ezekiel. JOHN, Beverly, s. of John of the same, d. a. 1691, leav. wid. Abigail, wh. brot. inv. to pro. 25 Sept. of that yr. JOHN, Groton, was among the early sett. on the sec. build. of the town aft. Philip's war, or certain. was in Mar. 1692 assign. to partic. garrison in one pt. and by w. Sarah had John, b. 23 Sept. 1699; and James, 23 Jan. 1701. JOHN, Watertown, s. of John of the same, by w. Mary, perhaps d. of John Barsham, had John, b. 10 Apr. 1697; Nathaniel, 23 May 1699; Isaac, 8 Feb. 1703; Mary, 22 Feb. 1705; and Barsham, 15 Sept. 1710. JONATHAN, Watertown, youngest s. of the sec. Simon, m. 15 Nov. 1699, Ruth, d. of Samuel Eddy, had Jonathan, b. 1702. His w. d. 7 or 13 Oct. of that yr. Bond gives both dates, and by sec. w. Mary, wh. d. 24 June 1720, he had no ch. but by third w. m. 15 Nov. 1720, Hepzibah, d. of Nathaniel Coolidge, he had tw. Hepzibah, 9 Oct. 1722, d. in few mos. and Ann; and Moses, 16 Dec. 1723; and d. 7 Jan. 1754, and his wid. d. 25 Mar. 1763, aged 83. MATTHEW, Lancaster and Sudbury, s. of Simon the sec. by w. Mary had Joseph, Mary, Adams, and Rachel. [p.207] The dates of neither are giv. by Barry or Bond, yet they interchange priority betw. 2d and 3d. He d. at S. of wh. ch. he was deac. and his will was pro. 9 Aug. 1743. NATHANIEL, Beverly, perhaps s. of John of the same, may have been of Ipswich 1648, and was freem. 1668. He may have been the same, wh. by w. Mary, had, at Boston, Nathaniel, b. 25 Mar. 1664. NATHANIEL, Guilford, s. of John of the same, was made freem. 1677, m. 10 July 1673, Mary, d. of George Bartlett of the same, had Joseph, b. 11 June 1674; Ebenezer, 21 Aug. 1676; Nathaniel, 7 Oct. 1678; Ann, 29 Jan. 1681, d. at 3 yrs.; Caleb, 26 Mar. 1683, d. next yr.; Caleb, again, 10 Nov. 1685; Noah, 9 Nov. 1687, d. under 16 yrs.; John, 7 Oct. 1689, d. bef. 10 yrs.; Ann, again, 17 June 1692; and Timothy, 16 Mar. 1696; and d. 11 Aug. 1709. His wid. d. 1724. NATHANIEL, Cambridge, s. of John of the same, m. 25 Apr. 1684, Sarah Wait of Malden, perhaps d. of Hon. John, had Nathaniel, b. 15 Oct. 1685; Ebenezer, 16 Apr. 1688; Jonathan, 24 Mar. 1690; Isaac; John, 13 Apr. 1702; Mary, 19 Dec. 1705; Sarah, 12 Oct. 1708; Hezekiah, 5 Mar. 1711; and Barry says his will, of 23 June 1732, was pro. 2 Nov. foll. NATHANIEL, Harwich, s. of Simon the sec. m. 15 Dec. 1698, Reliance, youngest ch. of Gov. Hinckley, and this union prob. led him to be first min. of that town, where a ch. was gath. 1700; ord. 16 Nov. 1700, bef. wh. Mather's Hecatompolis would persuade us he had three sev. flocks at once. He had Hannah; Nathan, b. 18 Feb. 1708, H. C. 1726; Nathaniel; Mary; Reliance; Thankful; and four other ds. but of the last eight ch. no dates are found; and he d. 8 Feb. 1755, aged 88. His wid. d. 24 May 1759. NICHOLAS, Boston, by w. Hannah had Hannah, b. 8 Jan. 1652; Josiah, 4 Feb. 1654; Hopestill, 7 Jan. 1656; Abigail, 20 Nov. 1658; Eliz. 25 Sept. 1661; and Benjamin, 17 Feb. 1664; was a shipwright, and perhaps rem. Barry says that his d. Mary m. 1671 Isaac Johnson of Charlestown; but such d. is not kn. by me. PETER, Warwick, s. of Hugh of the same, m. 25 June 1696, Eliz. d. of John Shaw, had Eliz. b. 25 Mar. 1697; Peter, 22 Oct. 1698; Sarah, 17 Feb. 1700; Abigail, 15 Sept. 1701; Priscilla, 2 Feb. 1703; and John, 29 Sept. 1704. RICHARD, Hatfield, k. by the Ind. 19 Oct. 1675. ROBERT, Salem 1652, perhaps br. perhaps s. of John of the same, by w. Sarah had Samuel, b. 1657; Robert; Benjamin; and others, says Barry, but names them not. In Nov. 1660, as Felt, II. 583, tells, his w. was prosecut. as a Quaker, but the sentence in her case was not, we may hope, that she should be hang. or sold for a slave to the W. I. as in sev. other instances. Prob. both d. in their beds in advanced age. ROBERT, Salem, s. prob. of the preced. had w. Hannah, and d. 1688, and his w. d. 17 Apr. 1691, aged 29, as by the gr. stones we learn. SAMUEL, Hartford, was, it is said, b. at [p.208] Hertford in Co. Herts (a. 20 ms. from London), usually sound. Hartford, and tradit. tells that the city in Conn. out of regard to him was thus nam.; perhaps younger br. of Gregory, and of Simon, certain. bred at Emanuel, where he was matric. 1620, and took his degrees 1623 and 7, came in 1633, with Cotton, Hooker, and other men of note, passeng. embark. at the Downs, in the Griffin, arr. 4 Sept. at Boston, went with Hooker to Cambridge, where 11 Oct. next he was made teacher and H. pastor of the ch. and adm. freem. 14 May foll. in 1636 rem. with Hooker, and they found. the ch. of H. there with univers. accept. they fulfill. the same duties as bef. at C. and in the Pequot war, 1637, he was chapl. to the troops under Capt. Mason. Aft. the d. of our judicious Hooker, he had a sad controversy with some of his people, equally bitter and unintelligib. of wh. Mather thot. the origin undiscov. But aft. many yrs. of fruitless attempts at reconcil. Gov. Webster and many friends of influence rem. up the riv. beyond the rancor, and S. d. 20 July 1663. He had sec. w. m. 1641, Eliz. Allen at Boston, by her had Samuel and Eliz. and three ch. were of a former one, Rebecca, Mary, and Sarah. The whole five are ment. in his will. More than one fifth of his inv. was in books. It ought to be told, that the town rec. has other ch. Joseph, bapt. 18 Oct. 1646; Lydia, 22 Jan. or Feb. 1648; a s. bapt. 29 Apr. 1649, wh. may be the Samuel of the will; and Abigail, b. 9 Sept. 1650; but prob. all exc. Samuel, and Eliz. wh. must be the same as Lydia, or Abigail of the town rec. d. early. His wid. m. Mr. George Gardner, of Salem, outliv. him, and d. late in 1681. Her will of 6 June pro. 4 Jan. foll. names her own two ch. Samuel, and Eliz. wh. had been w. of William Sedgwick, was aft. many yrs. of neglect, divorc. from him, m. John Roberts, had s. John, wh. in this will was provid. for by his gr.mo. She names her ds.-in-law, the ch. of his first w. Rebecca, w. of Timothy Nash of Hadley; Mary, w. of Joseph FITCH of Windsor; and Sarah, w. of Thomas Butler of Hartford. SAMUEL, Hartford, only s. of the preced. was much respect. in Conn. and qualif. to assist Gershom Bulkley, in 1676, at Wethersfield, in his work of the ministry, while giv. his devot. to the other work of Surgeon to the forces in the Ind. war. He also preach. at Wethersfield, Middletown, and other places, was never m. nor sett. but he had liberal gr. of ld. by the legisl. of Conn. for his f.'s services, bec. very intemper. in 1678 and 80 was punish. by fines for drunk. ""given over to the power"" of that evil habit; and d. 8 Oct. 1683, by falling down the bank of the riv. on the rocks. SAMUEL, Cambridge, fourth s. of Gregory, prob. b. in Eng. freem. 1657, was m. 7 June 1655 to Sarah, d. of the first Isaac Stearns, had Samuel, b. 1 Oct. 1656; Isaac; both bapt. says the Reg. of matchless Mitchell, tho. it gives not their dates; and Isaac prob. d. young; Sarah, 5 Feb. bapt. [p.209] 10 Mar. 1661, was adopt. by Richard Webb of Hartford, as a d. and he brot. her up until m. to Thomas Butler, and she had half of his est.; John, 12 May bapt. June 1663; Lydia, 25 Nov. bapt. 31 Dec. 1665; Mary, 22 Feb. bapt. 22 Mar. 1668, d. soon; Ann, 30 June 1673; and Joseph; he was deac. and d. 27 Sept. 1715 in his 80th yr. SAMUEL, Guilford 1676, propound. for freem. Oct. of that yr. was s. of John of the same, m. 1 Nov. 1683, Sarah Tainter, d. prob. of the first Michael of Branford, had Sarah, b. 1684, d. soon; Samuel, 1685; Abigail, 1687; Sarah, agin, 1689; Deborah, 1690; Mary, 1693; Bathshua, 1695; and Eliz. 1697; and he d. 5 Apr. 1708. SAMUEL, Concord, freem. 1682. SAMUEL, Beverly, perhaps s. of John of the same, m. Eliz. d. of Zechariah Herrick, but the date of her b. is giv. by Barry, as that of m. SIMON, Watertown, elder br. of Gregory, and perhaps of Rev. Samuel, came in the Increase, from London 1635, aged 50, call. husbandman, with w. Joan, or Jane, 38, d. of William Clark, and ch. Frances, 16; Ann, 11; Simon, 4; Mary, 3; and John, 5 wks.; bec. freem. 25 May 1636, deac. had b. here, Eliz. 5 Apr. 1639; took sec. w. a. 1654, Sarah, wid. of Richard Lumpkin of Ipswich, from wh. it may be presum. that he had acquaintance with her bef. they came from Eng. and as her h. had come from Boxted in Essex, perhaps S. was of that Co. Ano. infer. may be, that his w. Jane had not long been d. This w. by her contract of m. was permit. to make a will to dispose of her prop. of wh. a full abstr. is in Geneal. Reg. VIII. She d. in 1663, and he d. 22 Sept. 1665, aged 80. Frances m. Rev. Henry Green; Ann, perhaps, m. Lewis Jones; and in his will of 7 Sept. preced. pro. next mo. only ch. nam. are Simon, John, Frances, and Mary. Abstr. is in Geneal. Reg. III. 182. *SIMON, Watertown, s. of the preced. b. in Eng. freem. 1653, m. says Barry, Mary Whipple, d. I find, of John of Ipswich, had John, b. 23 July 1658; Matthew, 6 Feb. 1660; Nathaniel, 22 Feb. 1662, d. in two days; Ebenezer, 27 Feb. 1663; Mary, 6 Jan. 1665; Nathaniel, again, a. 1667, H. C. 1690, bef. ment.; Eliz. 9 Oct. 1670; David, 19 Oct. 1672; one, Aug. 1674, d. very soon; Susanna, 6 Nov. 1675; and Jonathan, 26 Dec. 1677; beside that Simon, as I think, earlier than the last four or even five, or perhaps the first b. His surname is misprint. in Geneal. Reg. XI. 76, as Stowe. He was town clk. selectman, and rep. 1679-86, and again, aft. the overthrow of Sir E. Andros, in 1689 and 90, and d. 27 Feb. 1708; and his wid. d. 2 June 1720, aged 86. Mary m. Comfort Starr of Dedham; Eliz. m. deac. Isaac Stearns; and Susanna m. June 1697, Edward Goddard. SIMON, Groton, s. of the preced. one of the orig. proprs. yet perhaps not actu. sett. bef. Philip's war, but in Mar. 1692 had long eno. been there to be assign. as also, John, wh. I judge to be his br. in the distrib. of garrisons [p.210] against Ind. hostil. by w. Sarah had, prob. Simon, not rec.; Susanna, b. 23 Oct. 1694; Isaac, 4 May 1697; and Benjamin, 12 Aug. 1706; beside Hannah, wh. d. 27 Sept. 1723; and Lydia, wh. d. three days aft. of wh. the b. of neither is found by Butler. THOMAS, Guilford, freem. 1677, was s. of John of the same, m. 13 Dec. 1676, Mary, d. of William Johnson, had Benjamin, b. 11 Mar. 1678; Mary, 6 Apr. 1680, wh. perhaps d. young; and Dorothy, the first and last being nam. in the will of their gr.f. 1695. WILLIAM, Guilford 1639, sign. the coven. of 1 June, perhaps br. of John of the same, by w. Hannah had William, b. a. 1642; Hannah a. 1644; Benajah, a. 1647; beside Samuel, wh. d. 1675; but this may have been by his sec. w. m. 1659, Mary, wid. of Richard Hughes of G. He d. Nov. 1683. Hannah m. bef. 1666, John Norton, and perhaps d. bef. her f. WILLIAM, Guilford, s. of the preced. m. 20 Feb. 1673, Hannah Wolfe, tho. the surname is uncert. had Samuel, b. 16 Mar. 1675, d. soon; William, 22 Mar. 1676; Hannah, 27 July 1678; Daniel, 27 July 1680; Eliz. 28 Nov. 1682; Josiah, 22 May 1685; Stephen, 1 Mar. 1689; Joshua, 3 May 1692; and Abigail, 1 Dec. 1697. He was propound. 1669, for freem. and d. 28 Sept. 1730. Of a sec. w. Mary we kn. not the date. Of this name, in 1834, Farmer marks thirteen had been gr. at Harv. six at Yale, and seventeen at the rest of the N. E. coll.

*Volume 4page 216*Stoughton, ‡‡*¶¶israel, Dorchester, a man of prop. and distinct. came, I presume, in 1632, when is found the earliest ment. of him, was adm. freem. 5 Nov. of the yr. foll. rep. at the first and sec. Thomas, was liv. in 1700, when his sis. Eliz. Eliot, gave him ££200. Stiles, 807, gives him many ch. bef. 1732, but aft. 1713 I see reason to fear, from comparison with his p. 539, that he was 21 yrs. older than his w. JOHN, Windsor, br. of the preced. m. 11 Aug. 1682, Eliz. d. of Thomas Bissell of the same, had John, b. 16 Oct. 1683, and [p.214] William, 10 Mar. 1686. His w. d. 17 July 1688, and he m. 23 Jan. 1690 Sarah FITCH, had Eli. b. 19 Feb. 1693, wh. three ch. are nam. in the will of their aunt Eliz. Eliot, 1700. Aft. wh. he had Nathaniel, 23 June 1702, and d. 24 May 1712. NICHOLAS, of New Eng. in the Geneal. of Sir Nicholas S. Geneal. Reg. V. 350 is, I doubt, a misnomer, perhaps for the first Israel. Yet a Nicholas of later date there certain. was, wh. liv. at Taunton, at least there m. 17 Feb. 1674, Eliz. Knapp, wh. may have been d. of Aaron, and there had Hannah, b. 4 July 1679. He took sec. w. 25 Feb. 1692, Sarah, d. of Hezekiah Hoar. SAMUEL, Windsor, s. of the sec. Thomas, tax. in 1691, had Samuel, b. 1702, perhaps others. *THOMAS, Dorchester 1630, br. of Israel, the first, came, no doubt, in the Mary and John, or next mo. in the fleet with Winth. desir. adm. as freem. 19 Oct. 1630, and was sw. 18 May foll. constable by appointm. of Court, Sept. 1630, in the exercise of wh. office, Mar. foll. he commit. the indiscret. of solemnis. a mar. betw. Clement Briggs and Joan Allen, for wh. he was fin. ££5, tho. some yrs. after it was remit. I hope the contr. of m. held good. Early in 1635 (after he had tak. for sec. w. Margaret, wid. of Simon Huntington, wh. says the Roxbury ch. rec. had d. on the voyage, of smallpox, bef. reach. Boston in 1633), the planta. of Conn. was project. by many people of Watertown, Newtown (since nam. Cambridge), and Dorchester, and from the two latter the majority of ch. mem. rem. to found new sett. on the gr. river, as it was call. but they were requir. to contin. under the jurisdict. of Mass. He was one of those, oft. rep. betw. 1639 and 48, not ment. later in my opin. (exc. that Windsor town and ch. rec. mark his d. mean. some other person, 25 Mar. 1661) and liv. the resid. of his days at Windsor, wh. was the nam. giv. to the Dorchester planta. How long this time was, is unkn. or what ch. he had, but as he was ens. 1636, and in 1640 made lieut. the freem. on the list of 1669, may well seem to be a s. Hinman, 243, says he d. Sept. 1684, leav. good est. to ch. six by name; but as the names all agree with those o the ch. of sec. Thomas, I doubt not the other circumstances belong to him. The same conclusion is drawn as to John, wh. follows on the same page. For this first Thomas, from the Conn. rec. Trumbull, I. 83, as to distrib. of the sev. portions of Mr. Stoughton's childr. and his w.'s 27 Mar. 1643, I infer, that he d. late in 1642, and 42 yrs. earlier than Hinman's date. Yet it is remarka. that Stiles in Hist. of W. has utterly sunk this first Thomas, one of the founders of his town, follow. Hinman inst. of the careful Hist. of Dorchester, wh. however he innocent. refers to. THOMAS, Windsor, s. of the preced. b. in Eng. an orig. propr. of Hartford, m. Mary, d. of William Wadsworth, had John, b. 20 June 1657; Mary, 1 Jan. 1659; Eliz. 18 Nov. 1660; Thomas, 21 Nov. 1663; Samuel, 8 [p.215] Sept. 1665; Israel, 21 Aug. 1667; and Rebecca, 19 June 1673. He was, prob. that freem. on the list of 1669, and had been many yrs. d. Sept. 1684, leav. fair est. we may believe, as also that his line was prolong. for in 1755, John S. was gr. at Yale. Mary m. 3 June 1677, Samuel Farnsworth; Eliz. m. first, 1680, James Mackman, a rich merch. and sec. in 1699, John Eliot, Esquire; and Rebecca m. 1694, Atherton Mather. THOMAS, Windsor, s. of the preced. m. 31 Dec. 1691, Dorothy, d. of the sec. John Talcott, had Mary, b. 4 Jan. 1693, and his w. d. 28 May 1696. He m. 1697, Abigail Lothrop, perhaps wid. of Samuel the sec. of New London, certain. not, as Stiles, in Hist. 807, calls her, d. of Rev. Timothy Edwards, for she was his sis. had Thomas, 9 Apr. 1698; Daniel, 13 Aug. 1699; Benjamin, 28 Apr. 1701; Timothy, 27 June 1703; Abigail, 21 Dec. 1704; David, 9 Sept. 1706; Mabel, 19 Aug. 1708; Jonathan, 7 Oct. 1710; Eliz. 20 Dec. 1712; Isaac, 2 Nov. 1714; and John, 11 Dec. 1719; was a capt. and d. 14 Jan. 1749. His wid. d. 23 Jan. 1754. ††‡‡WILLIAM, Dorchester, s. of the first Israel, perhaps b. in Eng. where, aft. gr. at Harv. he resort. and stud. at Oxford Univ. being by order of Parliam. creat. a fellow of New Coll. and preach. at a parish in Co. Sussex, says Farmer, but with unkn. authority, and by Calamy is put with min. eject. for losing his fellowship soon aft. the restor. Aft. coming back, he was disting. for preach. the Election serm. 1668, but would not confine his powers to the pulpit; and was one of the selectmen 1671-4, an Assist. 1671-86, some yrs. commissnr. for the Unit. Col. and in the end of Oct. 1677 went, with Bulkley, as agent to defend our cause at London. In the gr. contest with the crown he lost support of many friends, and stood the very lowest in the nominat. of the eighteen Assist. in 1686, being justly suspect. as guilty of moderat. He was appoint. by k. James one of the Counc. to Sir E. Andros, but partook of the N. E. spirit, when the Gov. was depos. and so gain. the favor of Mather, that he nominat. him for lieut. gov. in the new charter, in wh. office, as also ch. just. in 1695, he contin. till his d. 7 July 1701. Unhap. for his reputa. he was made chief in 1692 of the unlawful special court of oyer and terminer for trials of witches with the more amiable Sewall and Saltonstall, of wh. the one left the bench in disgust at the outrages on justice, and the other most bitterly repent. in public sackcloth; but Stoughton, a bach. was made of sterner stuff. From the unerring tribunal in the gr. day of retrib. justice, he may receive the mercy that he knew not how to show; and some tenderness might be felt even by fellow mortals for his murderous proceeding in the case of Rebecca Nurse, did not such conduct in a judge, aft. verdict of acquittal, necessarily stimulate execration. In the dark rec. of criminal adjudicat. no [p.216] instance can be found to parallel his blindness; yet if pity for delus. in the man must be express. what excuse may be fram. for ignorance in a magistrate presid. in such unlawful tribunal. See Quincy in Hist. of the Univ. I. 178-9. He join. in most unseemly union the various functions of legislat., judicial, and executive authority; and in execut. of his sad duty he was so virulent. possessed againt the accused, when he heard of reprieve of some under sentence of d. at a former term, as to complain of obstruction of justice, and withdrew from the Court. The recall of Sir William Phips left him in chief command in the prov. until arr. of Lord Bellomont in 1699, and he had the gratifica. of laying the corner stone of a coll. at Cambridge, built at his cost, and honor. with his name. Again he bec. ch. magistr. on d. of his superior. His monum. in the grave-yard at D. bears a long inscript. very closely imitat. from that of the learned Pascal, and has no reference to the judicial murders at Salem. See scrupul. Eliot's Biog. Dict. and Quincy's Hist. Harv. Coll. In his will, execut. one day bef. his d. pro. 23 of same mo. many good gifts out of his large est. are made, as beside others, ££50 to the ch. beside two pieces of plate, ££50 to the poor of the town, and ££150 to the sch. to the wid. and childr. of Rev. John Collins ££100, to Rev. John Danforth, wh. m. his niece, ££50, beside a negro slave, and an orchard to his w. and ££300 to Theophilus Minot, besides less sums to other relat. and made William Tailer, his neph. afterwards lieut. Gov. and nieces Eliz. Danforth, Eliz. Nelson, and Mehitable Cooper Excors. Of Theophilus Minot I find no other ment. and am led to conject. that he was a gr.ch. of the testator's elder sis. Hannah, wh. had m. James Minot.

Whence he came, wh. was his f. or when he d. is unkn. but he had been a serv. of John [p.261] Pynchon. JAMES, New Haven, a propr. 1685, of wh. no more is heard. JAMES, Reading, may have been that surveyor, much employ. in 1671 and 2, d. at R. 1703. *JAMES, Boston, by w. Eliz. had Eliz. b. 24 Oct. 1674; perhaps is the same wh. by w. Rebecca had Samuel, 5 Dec. 1687; Abigail, 2 Aug. 1690; Ann, 13 Nov. 1692; Sarah, 19 May 1695; William, 19 June 1696; Mercy, 13 Nov. 1700; and Mary, 15 July 1702; and prob. also, was rep. 1689, 93 and 4. JASPER, Barnstable, m. 6 Nov. 1668, Hannah, d. of Edward Fitzrandle of the same, had John, b. 29 Jan. 1670, d. soon; Mercy, 6 Nov. 1671; Hope, 24 Oct. 1674; Seth, 5 Sept. 1677; John, 24 Mar. 1680; Elinor, 6 Apr. 1682, d. in few days; and Jasper, 29 Apr. 1684. JOHN, Lynn, came prob. in the fleet with Winth. desir. adm. as freem. 19 Oct. 1630, and was sw. 18 May foll. Lewis tells, that he was from Haverhill, Co. Suffk. and that his w. and ch. d. on the passage. JOHN, Windsor 1640, but is not kn. to have ever been at Dorchester, was in esteem 1644, and no later is any ment. found, so that he may have had w. and ch. and rem. to some uncert. place. A Rhoda T. at W. 1659, had seat in the meeting ho. and may be thot. his wid. or ch. An Amos T. d. at Windsor, 1644; and Hannah d. there 1650, wh. may have been his ch. or possib. of Stephen. JOHN, Weymouth, in his will of 6 Jan. pro. 22 May 1668, names w. Rebecca, d. Rebecca, w. I suppose, of Richard Gurney, and s. John wh. is made excor. JOHN, Cambridge 1644, freem. 1651, by w. Catharine had Joseph, bapt. at C. H. C. 1669; d. 6 Sept. 1683, fill. the office of butler and was a faithf. serv. of H. C. a. 40 yrs. says the gr.-stone. JOHN, Damariscove 1651, by Sullivan, 287, is found there in 1665. JOHN, Weymouth, prob. s. of John of the same, by w. Phebe, I presume d. of the wid. Ann Rockwood, had Mary, b. 18 May 1660; John, 10 Apr. 1666; and perhaps rem. to Braintree. JOHN, Ipswich, a soldier, k. in the gr. battle with Philip, 19 Dec. 1675. JOHN, Salem 1671, a joiner, may have been s. of Richard of Boston, and rem. to Boston, there by w. Rebecca had John, b. 22 Nov. 1674; William, 21 May 1676; and Eliz. 1680; but I discov. nothing more. JOHN, Hampton, took the o. of alleg. 25 Apr. 1678; and later in the same yr. ano JOHN of Hampton was equal. patriot. One of the two, I suppose, by w. Deborah had Mary, b. 3 May 1687. JOHN, Hadley, m. 12 Dec. 1666, Mary, d. of the first Thomas Selden, sw. alleg. 8 Feb. 1679, as did JOHN of Northampton on the same day and this latter better kept his word in becom. freem. 1683. He may have been s. of John of Windsor, and certain. m. 18 Dec. 1662, Thankful, d. of Henry Woodward, had Thankful, b. 29 Oct. 1663; Joanna, 27 Sept. 1665; John, 10 Oct. 1667; Rhoda, 26 Sept. 1669; Eliz. 13 Jan. 1672, d. at 9 yrs.; Mary, 13 Oct. 1673;

Jonathan, 19 Sept. 1675; Mindwell, 19 Aug. 1677; Lydia, 18 Mar. 1679; Thomas, 4 Nov. 1680; Eliz. again, 17 Sept. 1682; Experience, Oct. 1684; and Samuel, {p.262| 30 Aug. 1688; was a very val. citiz. capt. of the troop of Hampsh. k. by the Ind. 13 May 170, then in pursuit of them aft. their destruct. of Pascomuck. The wid. liv. with s. John at Norwalk 1724. But of the Hadley John my acco. is equal. good; as that he had Esther, b. 9 Dec. 1667; John, 6 Jan. 1670; Thomas, 5 June 1672; Stephen, 1674; Mary, 12 Oct. 1676, d. young; Thankful, 1680; Jacob, 1685; Samuel, 3 Dec. 1688; and Ebenezer, 1 Mar. 1697. JOHN, Yarmouth, s. of Richard first of the same, m. 15 Dec. 1674, Sarah Matthews, had Samuel, b. 14 Dec. 1675; and John, 15 June 1678. JOHN, Suffield, s. of Stephen the first, m. 25 Sept. 1682, Sarah Younglove, d. of John, had Benoni, b. 15 June 1683, d. in few days, as had the mo. in four days. He m. again, 24 Mar. 1686, Eliz. Spencer, d. of Thomas of S. and had John, 17 Jan. 1687; Nathaniel, 20 May 1688; rem. to Windsor, and had Samuel, 11 Apr. 1691; Eliz. 11 Nov. 1694; and Ebenezer, 11 Sept. 1697; as Stiles, in Hist. of W. 812, gives the last three suspicious days. The time of his dec. is unkn. JOHN, Charlestown, by w. Catharine had Richard, aged 3, and John, 1, when both were bapt. 6 Oct. 1689; Thomas, 24 July 1692; Catharine, 18 Nov. 1694; and Sarah, 31 Jan. 1697. JONATHAN, Springfield 1649, by w. Mary had Mary, b. 1 Aug. of that yr. wh. m. 17 Jan. 1668, James Taylor; Ann, 6 Apr. 1651, d. in few days; Samuel, 8 Sept. 1652; Jonathan, 11 Mar. 1655; Rebecca, 4 July 1657, d. at 11 yrs. and Thomas 9 Aug. 1660. His w. d. 9 Sept. 1683; and he d. in few wks. aft. at Suffield, prob. on visit to his s. He took o. of alleg. 31 Dec. 1678, or the next day, as did, also, Jonathan his s. wh. m. 11 July preced. Sarah, d. of William Brooks of Springfield, had b. at Suffield, Sarah, 23 Jan. 1682; Mary, 3 May 1684; and Mercy, 6 Sept. 1686; and perhaps more. He was deac. at Suffield. JOSEPH, Fairfield, sold ld. there 1667. JOSEPH, Southampton, L. I. s. of John of Cambridge, was sometime fellow of the Coll. ord. Mar. 1680, as success. to Rev. Robert Fordham, had liv. at New Haven, where was b. his s. John, 5 Oct. 1678; may have had w. of that place; and d. 4 Apr. 1682, leav. John, and Joseph, wh. sold in 1702 the est. at Cambridge of their gr.f. JOSEPH, Exeter, sw. alleg. Nov. 1677. JOSEPH, Marshfield, m. 25 Apr. 1684, Experience Williamson. JOSEPH, Boston, by w. Thomasin had Mary, b. 30 Oct. 1686. NATHANIEL, Windsor, m. 17 Oct. 1678, Abigail, d. of Thomas Bissell, had Hezekiah, b. 23 Aug. 1679. PHILIP, freem. of Mass. 18 May 1642 may have been br. of Richard, wh. in the list stands next bef. him, but I am not able to say more, than that he was of ano. ch. than that of Boston. RICHARD, Boston, br. perhaps of the preced. join. our ch. 1 Jan. 1642, then ""a single man and a tailor,"" was adm. freem. 18 May foll. by w. Mary had John, b. 2, bapt. 6 Feb. 1647; d. 1673. His will of 30 July, pro. 2 Aug. of that yr. {p.263| names no ch. but John, sis. Joan in Eng. and w. Eliz. RICHARD, Charlestown, but a mem. of some other ch. when adm. freem. 18 May 1642, the same day with Boston Richard, d. 10 July 1659, of wh. I learn nothing but from his will, made 6 May bef. that his w. was Ann, and he had d. Frances Adams. RICHARD, Yarmouth 1643, m. says the fam. tradit. a Burgess, perhaps d. of Thomas, whose d. Ruth, also, m. ano. Richard T. His w. was drown. 4 Dec. 1673, and he d. next yr. leav. two s. six ds. John; Joseph; Mary; Martha, b. 18 Dec. 1650; Eliz.; Ann, bur. 29 Mar. 1650 aged a yr. and a half; Hannah, and Sarah, of wh. this last d. unm. 3 July 1695; Mary m. a Merchant; Martha m. 3 Dec. 1675, Joseph Bearse; Ann m. 25 June 1679, Josiah Davis; Hannah m. 19 July 1680, Job Crocker; and Eliz. m. 20 Dec. 1680, Samuel Cobb. RICHARD, Yarmouth, farmer, call. says tradit. rock Richard, from his first build. his cottage against a rock, m. a. 1646, Ruth Burgess, perhaps d. of Thomas, had Ruth, b. 29 July 1647, bur. next yr.; Ann, 2 Dec. 1648; Ruth, again, 11 Apr. 1650; Richard, 9 Jan. 1652; Mehitable, 23 July 1654; Keziah, 18 Feb. 1656; Joshua, 9 May 1659; Hannah, 17 Sept. 1661; Elisha, 10 Feb. 1664; and Mary, 12 June 1667; his w. d. 22 June 1693, and he d. 1 Aug. 1703. RICHARD, Charlestown, by w. Ann wh. join. the ch. 17 Sept. 1665, had Sarah, bapt. on Sunday foll.; Ann, 12 Jan. 1667; perhaps Thomas, 16 Apr. 1670; Richard, 16 Nov. 1673; and Alice, 2 Apr. 1676, was one of the tything men 1679. RICHARD, Yarmouth, s. of the sec. Richard of the same, serv. in the war against Philip, had Isaac, Joshua, Nathan, Ebenezer, and two ds. ROBERT, Newport, found by Dr. Stiles in the list of freem. 1655, m. Nov. 1646, Mary Hodges, whose f. is not found by me, had Mary, b. Nov. 1647; Ann, 10 Feb. 1650; Margaret, 30 Jan. 1652; Robert, Oct. 1653; John, June 1657; and Peter, July 1661. ROBERT, Boston, by w. Sarah had James, b. 17 Jan. 1661. SAMUEL, Ipswich 1648, had been ment. 1638, but never with indicat. of a fam. No w. or ch. is heard of, when at the age of 81 his will was pro. 29 June 1695, in wh. his ho. and ld. are devis. to Samuel Treadwell, perhaps a cous. as he calls Thomas, and Nathaniel Treadwell, Thomas, and Seaborn Wilson, Mary Gaines, Esther Hovey, and Martha Cross. SAMUEL, Windsor, had, as Parsons in Geneal. Reg. V. 365, quotes rec. d. Martha, wh. at the age of 20, m. 30 Oct. 1679, Josiah Ellsworth. But this is a sad mistake of Taylor for Gaylord. SAMUEL, Springfield, wh. sw. alleg. there 31 Dec. 1678, or next day, may be s. of Stephen of Windsor, was a blacksmith at Westfield, by w. Mary had a ch. b. 3 May 1672, d. in few days; Mary, 14 Dec. 1673, d. young; Mary, again, 1675, d. young; Samuel, 1677, d. young; a s. 30 Sept. 1679, d. in few wks.; Joseph, 1 May 1681, d. young; Eliz. 10 Mar. 1683, d. soon; Eliz. again, 27 July 1684;{p.264| Mary, again, 3 Mar. 1687; Sarah, 8 Oct. 1689; Hannah, 25 Aug. 1692; and Joseph, again, 4 Mar. 1694; beside a d. Mercy, in his will of 1723, nam. as dec. leav. ch. Mercy and Mabel Buck. This list varies slightly from that in Geneal. Reg. VI. 266, but seems to me of authori. His will names only s. Joseph, ds. Mary Bush, Eliz. Phelps, and Hannah Loomis, beside that Mercy, and Sarah, wh. had m. one of the innumer. tribe of Williams, was dec. leav. only ch. Sarah. SAMUEL, Wethersfield, s. of William of the same, by w. Sarah, m. 1679, had Sarah, b. 1680; William, 1683; Mary, 1685; John, 1688; Margaret, 1693; and Mabel, 1695. SAMUEL, Springfield, s. of Jonathan of the same, m. 24 June 1675, Ruth Cogan, had Rebecca, b. 4 July 1676; Ruth, 18 Aug. 1678, d. at six yrs.; Ann, 17 Aug. 1680; Mary, 1682; rem. to Suffield, there had Martha, 12 Feb. 1684; Ruth, 8 Apr. 1686; and Thankful, 19 May 1688; and he d. 7 Sept. 1689, leav. wid. Ruth and the six ch. SAMUEL, Westfield, s. of Rev. Edward, m. 1704, Margaret Mosely, had Eliz. b. 1705; and Margaret, 1707, d. the same yr. His w. d. 1708, and he d. next yr. SEABRED, Reading, s. of Thomas of Watertown, m. 22 Nov. 1671, Mary, d. of Richard Harrington, was freem. 1677, against wh. I hardly suppose that Farmer design. any imput. when he calls him Sinbred. STEPHEN, Windsor, perhaps br. of the first John of the same, m. 1 Nov. 1642, Sarah Hosford, d. of Rev. William, had Stephen, b. 11 Mar. 1644; Samuel, 8 Oct. 1647; and by sec. w. m. 25 Oct. 1649, Eliz. Newell, had John, 22 Mar. 1652; Thomas, 5 Oct. 1655; Abigail, 19 Mar. 1657; Mary, 18 June 1661; Mindwell, 5 Nov. 1663; and Nathaniel, 24 May 1668, d. at 14 yrs.; was in the list of freem. Oct. 1669. He d. 1 Sept. 1668, and his wid. d. 5 Aug. foll. acc. one rep. but Stiles says, 14 Dec. 1717. He call. hims. 66 yrs. old in 1684. STEPHEN, Hadley, m. at Hartford, Sarah, d. of John White, had only ch. Stephen, and d. 7 Sept. 1665. His wid. m. 15 Oct. 1666, Barnabas Hinsdale, wh. was k. by the Ind. 18 Sept. 1675; and she had third h. Feb. 1679, Walter Hickson. He may have been s. of John of Hartford, but whence he came, is uncert. STEPHEN, Boston, by w. Hannah had Hannah, b. 2 July 1668. STEPHEN, Suffield, s. of the first Stephen, m. 8 Nov. 1676, Joanna Porter of Farmington, prob. d. of Thomas, had Sarah, b. 16 July 1679; Joanna, 28 Mar. 1682; rem. to Windsor, had there Stephen, 9 May 1685; Stephen, again, 8 May 1688; William, 14 Mar. 1689; and perhaps others, and d. 3 Aug. 1707. THOMAS, Watertown 1642, by w. Eliz. ad Seabred, b. 11 Mar. 1643; rem. to Reading, and d. 1690. THOMAS, Norwalk 1666, m. 14 Feb. 1668, Rebecca, d. of Edward Ketchum, had Thomas, b. 26 Nov. 1668; Deborah, June 1671; and prob. others, for the name was long cont. in that town, where he was freem. 1670, but he rem. to Danbury, as one of the early sett. THOMAS, [p.265] Suffield, perhaps s. of the first Stephen, m. 15 June 1678, Abigail, d. of Hugh Roe, had Eliz. b. 24 July 1679; Abigail, 6 Sept. 1681; Nathaniel, 24 Aug. 1684, d. next yr.; Mabel, 1 Dec. 1685. His. w. d. a. 13 Oct. 1691, and he m. Hannah, d. of Lancelot Granger, had Jerusha, 1697; Hannah, 1699; Keziah, 1704; and Dorothy, 1710. His w. d. 1729, and he d. 1740. The f. of his first w. in leav. her a legacy by his will, declar. that ""Thomas Taylor shall have nothing to do with it, "" and that was caus. by his ill conduct. THOMAS, Springfield, s. of Jonathan of the same, m. 29 Dec. 1687, Mary, d. of John Petty, had Hannah, b. 18 Aug. 1690; and d. at Springfield Apr. 1691. WILLIAM, Lynn 1642. WILLIAM, Wethersfield, by w. Mary had Samuel, b. 1647, perhaps d. soon; John, 1649; Sarah; ano. Samuel; Mary, 1654; William, 1659; Margaret, 1663; Jonathan, 1666; and the seven ch. were liv. 1720. WILLIAM, New London, kn. there, says Caulkins, only 1650 to 3, perhaps was not the freem. 1669 of Wethersfield. WILLIAM, Concord, m. Mary Meriam, perhaps d. of Joseph, had John, b. 19 Oct. 1653; Samuel, 3 July 1655, d. in few ds.; Abraham, 14 Nov. 1656; Isaac, 1659; Jacob, 8 May, 1662; Joseph, 1665; and Mary; and Shattuck says, he d. 6 Dec. 1696. WILLIAM, Boston, merch. by w. Rebecca had Eliz. b. 17 May 1667; and Thomas, 18 Feb. 1674; was much disting. for active enterpr. but fell into melancholy, and d. by his own hd. 12 July 1682. See Russell's Diary in Geneal. Reg. VII. 53 and Bradstreet's in Ib. VIII. 332 or IX. 50. WILLIAM, Scituate, br. of Isaac of the same, and elder, as Deane thot. had Lydia, b. 1688; Eliz. 1692; and Mary, 1696. Of this name I see 20 gr. at Yale, and 15 at Harv.

Volume 4page 428[p.423] Warren, sometimes spelt WARIN, or WARINS, ABRAHAM, Salem 1637, was of Ipswich 1648, where he d. 1654, his will of 22 Apr. in that yr. (Essex Inst. I. 10) ment. d. Sarah, and wid. not her mo. ARTHUR, Weymouth, was in Mar. 1638, charg. withkeep. comp. with the w. of Clement Briggs, and in June foll. she was enjoin. not to come into his comp. but this does not, of necessity, prove any guilt, and soon after he m. and had Arthur, b. 17 Nov. 1639; Abigail, 27 Oct. 1640; Jacob, 26 Oct. 1642; and oseph, whose date of b. is not mark. nor is d. of the f. ascert. He was one of the petitnrs. 1645, for gr. of the Narraganset ld. suppos. to be forfeit. by the heresy of Gorton, Holden, and the others just proprs. Abigail m. a Wright. ARTHUR, Chelmsford, perhaps s. of the preced. m. Abigail, d. of John Rogers of Billerica, and d. 25 Apr. 1671. His will of 7 Mar. preced. speaks of w. and ch. and the young wid. d. 15 June foll. Her will, casual. burnt in Oct. was pro. 13 Nov. next. BENJAMIN, Plymouth, s. of te first Joseph, m. 1697, Hannah Morton, had Benjamin, b. 1698, d. young; Abigail, 1700; Hannah, 1704; Nathaniel, 1706; Benjamin, again, 1709; and Priscilla, 1712. By sec. w. Esther Cushman, d. or wid. of unkn. Cushman, m. 1716, he had Joseph, and Mary, wh. prob. both d. young, and he d. 1745. DANIEL, Watertown, s. of the first John, b. in Eng. m. 10 Dec. 1650, Mary, eldest d. of Ellis Barron, had Mary, b. 29 Nov. 1651; Daniel, 6 Oct. 1653; Hannah; Sarah, 4 July 1658; Eliz. 17 Sept. 1660; Susanna, 26 Dec. 1663, d. under 15 yrs.; John, 5 Mar. 1666; Joshua, 4 July 1668; and Grace, 14 Mar. 1672. He sw. fidel. 1652, was selectman betw. 1680 and 98, twelve yrs. Mary m. 29 May 1668, John Child, and next, 13 Apr. 1677, Nathaniel Fiske; Hannah m. 24 Sept. 1675, David Mead; Eliz. m. 6 Dec. 1681, Jonathan Tainter; and Grace m. 20 Jan. 1691, Joseph Morse. *DANIEL, Watertown, s. of the preced. freem. 1690, m. 19 Dec. 1678, Eliz. d. of John Whitney of the same, had Eliz. b. 16 Oct. 1679, d. at 16 yrs.; Ruth, 15 Oct. 1681; ary, 25 Jan. 1684, d. young; Daniel, 30 Apr. 1686; Hannah, 25 Jan. 1691; Sarah, wh. was bapt. 14 Dec. 1701; Jonas, or possib. Eliz. had Sarah, b. 10 Aug. 1685, but no more is kn. of him. HUMPHREY, a man of wh. no more is heard, but that in 1678 he was nam. by the crown with Edmund Randolph and some of the princ. gentlemen, to take the Gov's. o. of alleg. as told by Hutch. I. 330, of wh. the Gov. inform. the Gen. Ct. that in Aug. he perform the duty as in Col. Rec. V. 191. Perhaps he was nothing but an official and soon went home. JACOB, Chelmsford, freem. 1674, perhaps was one of the first sett. at Plainfield a. 1700, or it may have been a s. of the same [p.424] name. JAMES, Kittery 1656 or earlier, then had gr. of ld. was of the gr. jury 1666, liv. in the upper part, wh. bec. Berwick, made his will 9 Dec. 1700, which was pro. 24 Dec. 1702, names w. Margaret, s. Gilbert, and James, ds. Margaret, and Grizzel, and gr.ch. Jane Grant, and James Stackpole. JAMES, Plymouth, s. perhaps youngest of Nathaniel of the same, m. 1687, Sarah, eldest d. of the sec. Edward Dotey, had John; Edward; both d. young; Sarah; Alice; Patience; James, b. 1700; Hope; Mercy; Mary; and Eliz. of wh. the last three d. unm. He was gr.f. of the emin. James, Presid. of Mass. Counc. 1779. JOHN, Watertown, came prob. 1630, in the fleet with Sir Richard Saltonstall, then aged a. 45, and hav. w. and ch. (four certain. are nam. in his will, and of them only Eliz. could be b. here). There may have been others, but no rec. of b. or d. is found. He was adm. freem. 18 May 1631, chos. selectman 1636-40. Late in life he fell under the censure of the laws, unwisely levelled at dissent. from the relig. course of the major part of the inhab. and Bond informs us of proceedings against him in 1651, 4, and 61; but he d. in peace, 13 Dec. 1667, aged 82. His w. Margaret d. 6 Nov. 1662. She was prob. the mo. of al his ch. John, b. 1622; Mary; and Daniel, b. 1628; beside Eliz. wh. m. a. 1654, James Knapp. Mary m. 30 Oct. 1642, John Bigelow. He had good est. in lds. in W. His will of 30 Oct. 1667, names the four ch. and Mary, w. of Daniel, gr.ch. Daniel W. and Mary Bigelow. JOHN, Watertown, s. of the preced. prob. the freem. of 1645, m. 11 July 1667, Michal, d. of Robert Jennison, wid. of Richard Bloise of the same, had Margaret, b. 6 May 1668; Sarah, 25 Jan. 1671; Eliz. 8 July 1673; Mary, 25 May 1675; John, 21 May 1678; Grace, 12 Mar. 1680; and Samuel, 23 Jan. 1683; was a capt. and d. 1703. His will of 12 Jan. of that yr. was pro. 22 Feb. foll. It names all the ch. exc. Sarah, wh. perhaps d. young. Eliz. m. 18 Oct. 1705, Daniel Harrington; and Mary m. 30 Dec. 1698, Joseph Pierce. JOHN, Ipswich 1654. JOHN, Boston, tobacconist, or cardmaker, as in the will he is call. by first w. had Joshua; Thomas; Mary, b. a. 1665; and perhaps Sarah; but the name of his w. is unkn. nor is any b. found on the rec. so that it seems prob. that he had these ch. in ano. town, where the mo. may have also d. I think he was early of Exeter, there m. 21 Oct. 1650, Deborah Wilson, wh. d. 26 June 1668. In 1669, he m. Eliz. wid. of John Combs, wh. had d. in May of the yr. preced. She had first been wid. of Thomas Barlow. By this w. he had Nathaniel, b. 27 May 1670, and this w. d. next yr. or early in 1672, for in Feb. of this yr. he exhibit. inv. of her goods, and engag. to fulfil her desire towards her three ds. and his s. by her, in their distrib. to one Barlow, two Combs, and Nathaniel. This s. and Mary Combs, in 1685, chose for their guardian, Joseph Ryall of Charlestown, wh. they call. [p.425] uncle. A third w. Eliz. brought him Abigail, 10 May 1676; and John. posthum. 10 Feb. 1678. He may have been the freem. of 1670, and d. in July 1677, mak. his will 10, wh. was pro. 31 of that mo. and his wid. 4 Oct. 1681, bec. sec. w. of Samuel Lendall, by contr. of that date, in wh. he provid. good portion for her, as did also her third h. John Hayward, the Not. Pub. to wh. 1685, she bec. sec. w. and for her fourth h. she had a rich man, Phineas Wilson of Hartford. Neither of the last three hs. had by her any ch. He seems to have had small est. and in his will is nothing of interest exc. the gift to his s. Joshua, ""my engine with wh. I cut tobacco."" JOHN, Ipswich 1670, may have been the man at Salem long aft. wh. was a spinner, and in 1685 had loan from the town treas. of ££5. to pay his work people. See Felt, Ann. II. 159. JOHN, Watertown, s. of the first Daniel, m. 22 May 1683, Mary, d. of Jonathan Brown of the same, had John, b. 15 Mar. 1685; Jonathan, 26, bapt. 29 Apr. 1688; and Daniel, bapt. 1 Sept. 1689; was ens. freem. 1690, and d. 11 July 1703. His wid. m. 14 Mar. 1704, Samuel Harrington. JOHN, Watertown, s. of John sec. m. Abigail, d. of John Hastings, had John, b. 3 Apr. 1701; Sarah, 20 Sept. 1702; Samuel, 18 Mar. 1704; Thomas, 11 Mar. 1706; and David, 22 June 1708. His w. d. 19 July 1710, and he m. 14 May 1711, Lydia, d. of Nathaniel Fiske, had Benjamin, 4 Apr. 1715; David, 8 Jan. 1717; Abigail, 28 Oct. 1719; Lucy, 26 Oct. 1721; William, 21 Oct. 1723, d. at 15 yrs.; and John, bapt. 1725. He d. next yr. and his wid. m. 17 June 1730, Benjamin Harrington. *JOSEPH, Plymouth, s. of Richard, but not eldest in my judgm. tho. so call. in the Warren Geneal. that may have unconsciously been influenc. by the baptismal designat. was not brot. by his mo. from Eng. m. a. 1651, Priscilla, sis. of the famous rul. elder Thomas Faunce, whose f. had been fellow-passeng. with his mo. was held in gr. esteem 1677, rep. by ann. elect. 1681-6, and d. 1689. His wid. d. 1707. Of his ch. it will be very hard to find exact dates of b. but the order is confident. trusted; Mercy, b. 23 Sept. 1653; Abigail, 15 Mar. 1655, d. young; Joseph, 8 Jan. 1657; Patience, 15 Mar. 1660; Eliz. 15 Aug. 1662; and Benjamin, 8 Jan. 1670. Mercy m. Winsor says, 1674, or 5 Feb. 1675, as the Bradford Geneal. has it, John Bradford, liv. with him near 62 yrs. and d. Mar. 1747. Patience m. 1686, Samuel Lewis as the name seems prob. to be read, and Eliz. m. 19 Jan. 1688, Josiah Phinney. It is observ. that his male descend. since the fourth generat. are confin. to those of his gr.-gr.ch. Benjamin. JOSEPH, Plymouth, eldest s. of the preced. m. 1692, Mehitable Wilder, had Joseph, b. 1694; and Priscilla, 1696; and he d. the same yr. JOSEPH, Roxbury, housewright, sec. s. of Peter of Boston, m. Deborah, d. of Samuel Williams of Roxbury, had Samuel, b. 13 Aug. 1694, d. in few days; Joseph, 2 Feb. [p.426] 1696; Ebenezer, 26 Jan. 1699; Sarah, 27 July 1702; John, 18 Sept. 1704; and Hannah, 31 Mar. 1707; and he d. 13 July 1729. His wid. d. 6 Oct. 1743. In the Geneal. of Warren, print. 1854, p. 45, the most sumptuous vol. of genealogy ever issued from the press on our side of the water, they are said to have had eight ch. but the rec. contains no more than the above, nor does the pedigree at the opening of the book. In his will of 22 Jan. bef. d. he gives all his real and personal est. to s. Joseph, exc. the household goods giv. to w. orders him to pay her ££8. per an. keep a cow for her, find. 2 bls. of cider, and one cord of wood per an. for her, beside the choice of one room in his dw.-ho. during her wid. But of the ch. Samuel and Sarah are not ment. so that I presume the first was d. and the other had got changed into Deborah, wh. is the name marked aft. Ebenezer and John, yet bef. Hannah, and to ea. of these four, Joseph was direct. to pay ££65. He was gr.f. of the illustrious patriot, Maj.-Gen. Joseph Warren, k. at Bunker Hill. JOSHUA, Watertown, s. of Daniel the first, m. Rebecca, d. of Caleb Church of the same, had Lydia, b. 3 Nov. 1696; Joshua, 4 June 1698; Nathaniel, 25 May 1700; Rebecca; Eliz. 19 June 1704; Abigail, 20 Dec. 1705; Susanna, 2 Feb. 1707; Hannah, 2 June 1708; Prudence, 5 Dec. 1709; Daniel, 28 July 1712; and Phineas, 21 June 1718; and d. 30 Jan. 1760. *NATHANIEL, Plymouth, s. prob. elder of Richard, m. 1645, Sarah Walker, as the Geneal. says, and that work names ch. Richard; Jabez, wh. d. young; Sarah, b. 29 Aug. 1649; Hope, 7 Mar. 1651; Jane, 10 Jan. if Col. Rec. be true, or 31 Dec. 1652; Eliz. 5 Sept. 1654; Alice, 2 Aug. 1656; Mercy, 20 Feb. 1658; Mary, 9 Mar. 1660; Nathaniel, 19 Mar. 1662; John, 23 Oct. 1663, d. young; and James, 7 Nov. 1665; and d. 1667. Very short abstr. of his will is found in Geneal. Reg. VII. 177. His wid. d. 1700. Sarah m. somebody call. Blackwell, unkn. to me; Jane m. 19 Sept. 1672, Benjamin Lombard of Barnstable; Eliz. m. a Green, but the individ. is unkn.; Alice m. Thomas Gibbs; Mercy m. Jonathan Delano; and it is said that Mary m. but the h. is unkn. and the dates of all the ms. but one are defic. NATHANIEL, Plymouth, s. of the preced. m. Phebe Murdock, it is said, but left no issue, was a man of reput. and d. 1707. PETER, Boston 1659, mariner, purchas. 23 Mar. of that yr. from Theodore Atkinson, dwel.-ho. and ld. m. 1 Aug. 1660, Sarah, d. of Robert Tucker of that part of Dorchester, wh. soon aft. was incorp. as Milton, had John, b. 8 Sept. 1661, d. young; Joseph, 19 Feb. 1663; Benjamin, 25 July 1665; Eliz. 4 Jan. 1668; these three bapt. 29 May 1670; Robert, 14, bapt. 25 Dec. 1670; Ebenezer, 11 Feb. bapt. 2 Mar. 1673; and by sec. w. Hannah had Peter, bapt. 6 June 1675, d. soon; Peter, again, b. 20, bapt. 23 Apr. 1676; Hannah, b. 19 May 1680, whose bapt. is not found; [p.427] Mary, 21, bapt. 25 Nov. 1683; and Robert, 27 Dec. 1684, bapt. 4 Jan. foll. but the town rec. blunders the name of the mo. into Abigail. He had third w. Esther, whose name was, but whether as wid. or maid. is uncert. Woodward, rec. into the third ch. 11 Oct. 1687, as had been the first w. 22 May 1670, and the sec. 30 Apr. 1675. He d. 15 Nov. 1704, by his will of 20 June 1700, provid. for w. during wid. not otherwise, yet making her joint excor. with s. Joseph, and nam. other ch. only Ebenezer, Peter, Robert, and Hannah. I find no later acco. of any of them exc. Joseph, bef. ment. RALPH, Salem 1638, of wh. Felt could tell no more than that a gr. of ld. was that yr. confirm. to him. RICHARD, Plymouth 1620, came in the Mayflower, leav. w. Eliz. and five ds. to come in the third sh. 1623, d. 1628, hav. no other ch. but those b. in Eng. viz. Mary, wh. m. 1628, Robert Bartlett; Ann m. 19 Apr. 1633, Thomas Little; Sarah m. 28 Mar. 1634, John Cooke jr.; Eliz. m. 1636, Richard Church, d. at Hingham, 4 Mar. 1670; and Abigail m. 1639, Anthony Snow of Marshfield; beside the two s. Nathaniel, and Joseph, b. here, bef. ment. all liv. in 1650. His wid. wh. join.

with the first purch. of Dartmouth, d. 2 Oct. 1673, aged a. 90, says the rec. but fondness for exagger. makes it 93. RICHARD, Plymouth, s. of Nathaniel of the same, perhaps eldest, m. it is said, and rem. to Middleborough, there d. a. 1696, leav. s. James, b. 13 Jan. 1680, at P. wh. had no ch. and Samuel, 7 Mar. 1683, whose progeny is in that neighb. SAMUEL, Watertown, youngest s. of the sec. John of the same, m. 8 Jan. 1707, Lydia Cutting, had Sarah, and Lydia, tw. b. 19 Aug. 1714; Samuel, 19 July 1719; Eliz. 16 May 1721; Ephraim, 5 Apr. 1723; Nathan, 10 July 1725; John, bapt. 23 Aug. 1727; and Mary, 17 Aug. 1729. He d. 13 Nov. 1759; and his wid. d. 15 July 1766. THOMAS, Salem 1640, a witness to the will said to be the first brot. into Ct. for that shire. THOMAS, Boston, m. 14 Dec. 1694, Sarah FITCH; but as no more is heard of him, I doubt he was only trans. resid. But he may have been a soldier in Mosely's comp. Dec. 1675. WILLIAM, Hartford, freem. 1658, and perhaps was sw. again in 1665, ea. vol. of the Col. Rec. of Trumbull prov. the right, m. Eliz. d. of John Crow, had two ws. as in his will of 20 Oct. 1689, he tells, without nam. them, assign. to first w. three s. John, William, and Thomas, and to the liv. w. four ch. of wh. Abraham was one. He d. soon aft. for his inv. is of 1 Nov. in that yr. So we may see the wild work of tradit. that he had only Abigail, wh. m. 14 Jan. 1693, Richard Lord, and aft. Jan. 1713 m. Rev. Timothy Woodbridge. His wid. m. Phineas Wilson, a rich merch. it was erron. said, but she was very infirm or insane, and certain. Wilson found a better w. Strangely out of place is the confusion a. the wid. of Phineas Wilson, in the address of Mr. Day, Presid. of the Conn. Hist. Soc. 26 Dec. [p.428] 1843, at the foundat. of the beautiful edifice for the Wadsworth Athenææum, title to the realty being deduc. from her. But great uncertainty is found in the identity of the w. of Richard Lord; and aft. large investigat. it is clear, that no derivation from, or connection with, Hartford William can be traced. Certain. the wid. of Phineas Wilson did not m. Lord, but her d. Abigail did. WILLIAM, Boston, mariner, m. 1 Nov. 1690, Abiel Rogers, had Mary, b. 24 Sept. foll. but he had on 11 June preced. made his will in favor of the mo. and ch. unborn, nam. w. his excor. yet as it was not pro. bef. 10 July 1706, he prob. liv. to near this date, and had no other ch. or went on a voyage and d. abroad. So common. was this name in Eng. diffus. over the E. S. and W. shores, that I can find no proof of connex. betw. the Plymouth, Watertown, and Boston fams.

Holden, Gorton, and others, tho. he did not rem. with them, wh. purch. from Miantonomo, planting place on the W. shore of Narraganset, now Warwick, and sufer. by monstrous injustice from Mass. in 1643. Yet, tho. some of his est. was confisc. at the Court in Oct. 1643, he got off better than most of his fellow misbelievers wh. narrow. escap. sentence of death, still he was bound to appear in May foll. See Winth. II. 146-8. At the Gen. Ct. in May next ""being found erroneous, heretical, and obstinate, it was agreed that he should be detain. prisoner till the Quarter Ct. in the 7th mo. unless five of the magistr. do find cause to send him away; wh. if they do, it is order. that he shall not ret. within this jurisdict. upon pain of death,"" as the Col. Rec. II. 73 says; as also Felt's Ann. II. 579; but in his Eccles. Hist. I. 558, the tender heart of the writer prevail. over his judgm. to suppress the last words. Yet even an Ecclesiast. Hist. should not be afraid of the truth. He was ch. offic. of the milit. call. col. and d. 28 Oct. 1673. His wid. mo. of the ch. Bethia, d. 3 Dec. 1680. Mehitable m. a Fenner. Of the tradit. of his coming in the Lion with Roger Williams Feb. 1631, no respect is felt, but its origin may easily be referr. to the subordinate truth that he [p.433] was one of the first sett. at Providence, with R. W. tho. he was earlier than him at Salem. *ROBERT, Plymouth 1638, had been at Salem 1636, m. at Marshfield, 9 or 11 Dec. 1638, Eliz. d. of Thomas Bourne, and rem. to M. had Joseph, b. 1639; John, 1642; Thomas, 1644; Robert, a. 1652; and Joseph; was rep. 1644-9, and d. He m. 20 Feb. 1699, Sarah, wid. of Thomas Lincoln, d. of James Lewis of Barnstable, had Lydia, 13 May 1700; Thomas, 19 Jan. 1702; and Hannah, 22 May 1704; and his w. d. 30 Jan. 1732. He d. 18 May1741, aged 88. THOMAS, Roxbury, br. of Robert of Plymouth, had w. Hannah, wh. d. 5 June 1641; unit. with petitnrs. in 1645 for right from Mass. to plant at the settlem. of Warwick, whence the heretic inhabs. of wh. his namesake Richard was one, had been forcib. eject. and he d. 22 Jan. 1676, unless the town rec. wh. contains the notices of d. of both, and no account of m. or b. may be design. for differ. persons. Farmer, MS. makes a Thomas of Hingham 1679, to be only s. of the preced. but I fear he mistook the name of the f. THOMAS, Newport, among the freem. adm. 1655, was of Wickford 1674. THOMAS, Saybrook, by Miss Caulkins conject. s. of the preced. bec. one of the first sett. of Norwich, there m. Nov. 1668, Miriam, d. of lieut. Thomas Tracy. He was ens. and propound. for freem. 1671, had ten ch. as in the valua. Hist. of N. p. 114 is told; but the fair writer gives only the three s. Thomas, b. Sept. 1670; John, Mar. 1672; and Joseph, 15 Jan. 1685. Names are heard of five others, Eliz. b. Aug. 1675; Miriam, Apr. 1678; Martha, 6 Dec. 1680; Lydia, Aug.

1683; and Ann, Apr. 1689. Eliz. m. 10 July 1695, capt. John FITCH of Windham. Of this name, Farmer found in 1834, three had been gr. at Harv. four at Yale, and five at other N. E. coll.

See Geneal. Reg. IX. 149. No doubt he was bred up for the pulpit, but of his place of educ. we are ign. The common aco. of him is, that he was s. of a lawyer, b. a. 1597, sett. as min. at Ockham, a. 20 ms. from London, in Co. Surry, but others say Ockley or Okely in that sh. a. three ms. from the metrop. was one of the founders of the ch. at G. yet the establishm. of the ch. seems to be postpon. to 1643, prob. from the slow growth of the town. He had propty. eno. and disregard. the fulminat. of Bp. Laud for not read. the royal proclam. for sports on Sunday, resign. his place without dispute, after serv. at the altar neartwenty years in his native ld. Late in the autumn of 1650, he went home, publish. the two foll. yrs. relations of the spread of the gospel among our aborig. and d. in the city of Winchester, it is said, in the office of min. tho. of this I much doubt, if my construct. of the lang. of letters from his s.-in-law and neph. both nam. James FITCH, and Sarah, wh. m. Rev. John Higginson. JOHN, Dorchester 1634, rem. to Windsor, prob. next yr.

Magn. III. [p.519] cap. 28. It seems from Thompson's Hist. of Boston, 349, if Farmer, in MS. be correct, that he was bur. 11 Oct. 1689, so that the Coll. catal. wh. notes his d. 1723, is strangely at fault. JOHN, Lancaster, s. of Rev. NATHANIEL, Medfield, s. of the preced. was freem. 1672, driv. by Ind. hostil. to Roxbury, by w. Hannah had Jonathan, b. 9 Oct. 1677; and prob. had other ch. at M. for the name spread much in that vicinage. OLIVER, Billerica, s. of Rev. Samuel of the same, m. 22 Jan. 1690, Ann, d. of capt. Jonathan Danforth of the same, had nine ch. of wh. only Samuel, b. 6 Sept. 1702, f. of a respecta. line, is kn. to me; d. 22 Dec. 1736. SAMUEL, Lynn, b. at Boston, Co. Linc. 20 Nov. 1597, s. of John Whiting, the mayor of the borough, was matric. 1613 at Emanuel, the Puritan Coll. of the Univ. of Cambridge, as it was then stigmatiz. had his degrees 1616, and 1620, preach. as chaplain three yrs. in private fams. if Mather be correct, after his master's degr. and then went to Lynn Regis, Co. Norfolk, spent ano. three yrs. as collea. or curate of the rector, and being disturb. by his diocesan, rem. to Skirbeck, close to his native place. Aft. bur. his first w. by wh. he had two s. who d. in Eng. and one d. brot. to our country, Mather says he m. a d. of Oliver St. John, a Bedfordsh. man. of fam. nearly relat. to the Lord St. John of Bletso, wh. may all be true, but the writer confuses the time very cruelly, when he should tell the date of her m. or d. by saying she ""stayed with her worthy consort forty-seven yrs. went in the seventy-third yr. of his age unto him to whom her soul had been,"" &c. Taking the pains to extract meaning out of this gabble, by common arithmetic, we find reason to see that Mather need not be believed literally; as thus, W. was in his 73d yr. in 1669, and the union having existed 47 yrs. of course it began in 1622, wh. is rather early for him who had obt. his master's degree in 1620, m. one w. had three ch. and lost her. I have learn. to distrust the author of the Magnalia in all cases where he employs roundabout instead of direct phraseology, and even in this is sometimes careless. He came in the same ship with Wheelwright, who had been his neighbor in Co. Linc. arr. 26 May 1636, and sett. 8 Nov. next in the ch. of Lynn, freem. 7 Dec. foll. tho. the prefix of respect is not found with his name. Wih him came w. s. Samuel, b. at Skirbeck, 25 Mar. 1633, H. C. 1653, but not entit. to his A. M. until 1656, and two ds. of wh. one was Dorothy, b. by the first w. who m. 4 June 1650, Thomas Weld of Roxbury; and the other, Eliz. by sec. w. m. Rev. Jeremiah Hobart. At L. he prob. had John, H. C. 1657, bef. ment. and certain. Joseph, b. 1641, H. C. 1661, bef. ment. ano. s. and ano. d. [p.521] if Mather may be trust. whose names are not giv. His w. d. 3 Mar. 1677. The letter of 1 Oct. 1677 to Rev. Increase Mather, wh. he calls cousin, in Geneal. Reg. II. 198, is valua. and the s. and d. with him to wh. reference is made, were Samuel, jr. and prob. his w. But why Increase M. was call. his cousin or neph. is uncert. unless from his m. with d. of famous John Cotton, to wh. the Magn. asserts ""some affinity"" of W. He d. not 11 Nov. as Lynn Rec. in Geneal. Reg. V. 342 has it, but 11 Dec. 1679. In our Col. Rec. IV. 406, the liberality of governm. in giv. him 600 acres for the rights wh. his br. John, and Richard Westland, aldermen of Boston in Eng. had assign. him, aris. from the original stock taken in the comp. bef. settlem. wh. would have given them claim to 200, is to be read. SAMUEL, Billerica, s. of the preced. b. in Eng. freem. 1656, m. 12 Nov. of that yr. at Charlestown, Dorcas, d. of Leonard Chester of Wethersfield, had Eliz. b. 6 Oct. 1660; Samuel, 19 Dec. 1662; John, 1 July 1664, H. He was ord. 11 Nov. 1663, the first min. of B. tho. he had preach. there more than five yrs. bef. and he d. 28 Feb. 1713, his w. hav. d. a fortnight earlier. One of this name, perhaps a trans. stranger, d. at the ho. of capt. Thomas Lake, in Boston, 6 Sept. 1658. SAMUEL, Dedham, perhaps s. of the first Nathaniel of the same, m. 23 Nov. 1676, Sarah, d. of Thomas Metcalf of the same. SAMUEL, Billerica, s. of Rev. Samuel of the same, Farmer says, had issue, tho. he names neither w. nor ch. but adds that he d. 14 Mar. 1715. SAMUEL, Windham, s. of John of Hartford, m. at Norwich, when he was stud. in divin. 14 Sept. 1696, Eliz. d. of Rev. His wid. m. 1737 Rev. Samuel Niles of Braintree, and after his d. 1 May 1762, went to her youngest ch. at New Haven, col. Nathan, and there d. 21 Dec. 1766. TIMOTHY, Dedham, freem. 1690, was perhaps s. of the first Nathaniel. ‡‡*WILLIAM, Hartford 1636, a wealthy merch. who had been engag. in a patent for lds. at Swamscot with Lord Say and Lord Brook, and had w. JAMES, Dover 1646, may be the same wh. was of Watertown 1630, in serv. of Sir Richard Saltonstall, and then, by our Col. Rec. I. appears to have been not valua. citiz. JOHN, Watertown, s. of Richard of the same, brot. by his f. in the Eliz. 1634, aged 13, in Nov. 1639, partook of the paternal kindness of our governm. on a complaint ""admonish. to take heed of drink. strong water again;"" by w. Mary had {p.645} John, b. 20 Mar. 1650, prob. d. oung; rem. to Sudbury, where his w. d. 8 July 1654; next he rem. to Charlestown, there m. Abigail, d. of John Benjamin, wid. of Joshua Stubbs, had Rose, 18 Aug. 1659, wh. m. 10 Aug. 1686, Richard Norcross the sec.; again, at Sudbury, had John, 12 Dec. 1661; and Abigail, m. 13 Jan. 1682, Jeremiah Morse, was freem. 1690, and d. at W. 17 Feb. 1696, his will being of 10 Jan. preced. JOHN, Cambridge, s. of George of Watertown, liv. in that part wh. bec. Newton, m. Rebecca, d. of Richard Robbins of the same, had John, b. 7 Sept. 1674, d. in few ds.; John, again, 18 July 1675; Richard, 26 Sept. or Dec. 1677; Rebecca, 29 Oct. 1679, d. young; Daniel, 24 Sept. 1681; Rebecca, again, 2 Feb. 1683; Mary, 6 Oct. 1684, d. young; Jonathan, 28 Sept. 1685; Joseph, 26 Nov. 1688; Ebenezer, 12 Mar. 1691; and Abigail, 25 May 1695. His w. d. next yr. and he m. Sarah Goodnow, wh. d. 22 Sept. 1723. He had rem. to Newton a. 1681, and d. 3 Nov. 1732, in his will of 1728 names five s. of wh. Joseph was not one, and ds. Rebecca Hunting and Abigail Greenwood; and made Ebenezer, excor. JOHN, Northampton, only s. of Henry of the same, freem. 1680, m. 18 May 1671, Ann, d. of Thomas Dewey of Windsor, had Eliz. b. 17 Mar. 1672; John, 2 Apr. 1674; Samuel, 20 Mar. 1676, d. at 7 mos.; Henry, 18 Mar. 1680; Thomas, 22 Apr. 1682; and Israel, 6 Feb. 1685; rem. to Westfield, and in few yrs. more to Lebanon, Conn. Much distinct. in the science of med. has been attain. by descend. JOHN, Taunton, m. 11 Nov. 1675, Sarah Crossman. Perhaps he had John, b. at Taunton, 2 Mar. 1678; and Israel, 30 July 1681. JOHN, Reading, by Eaton call. one of the early sett. was freem. 1691. JOHN, sec. min. of Norwich, s. of Peter of Dedham, succeed. Rev. James FITCH, the first min. of that city, aft. long agitat. ord. Oct. 1699, m. 1703, Sarah, d. I think, of Richard Rosewell of New Haven, but Caulkins, from wh. is learn. most of the little kn. of him, in her Hist. of N. ment. no issue. He had been Secr. to the Assembly of divines that formed the Saybrook platform, almost as powerful in moulding the machinery of eccles. discipline in Conn. as for a few yrs. was the Westminster Assembly in Eng. The majority of the people were dissat. with his rule, tho. the greater part of the ch. sustain. him, and aft. sev. yrs. of contention, he was dism. 13 Sept. 1716. Whether he obt. ano. parish, is not heard, and by the Coll. Catal. he liv. to 1746. JOHN, Sudbury, perhaps s. of John the first, in his will of 2 Oct. 1736, ment. s. John and Daniel, and gr.d. Susanna Haines. JOSEPH, Providence 1676, there had liv. thro. Philip's war. NATHANIEL, Boston, a mathematician and surveyor, employ. as our Col. Rec. I. 237, shows, to run the line, 1638, betw. Plymouth Col. and Mass. and Mass. and Conn. Afterwards he was sent to the Merrimac survey. See Winth. I. 284. It {p.646} is great mortificat. that we kn. not any thing of his fam. exc. that he had s. John and Robert, of course b. in

Eng. allow. to have lots in Boston 1637. NATHANIEL, Boston 1633, perhaps s. of the preced. but on join. the ch. 1 Dec. of that yr. is call. serv. to our br. William Coddington, and possib. brot. by him that yr. when he ret. from Eng. was freem. 17 Apr. 1637, by w. Mary had Elisha, bapt. 21 Apr. 1644, a. 6 days old; Nathaniel, 12 Apr. 1646, a. 7 days old; and prob. other ch. but perhaps he rem. for in 1648, he sold dwell.-ho. and garden to John Langdon. *PETER, Dedham, freem. 18 May 1642, brot. a fam. of wh. the names of four may be prob. found in the rec. Peter, William, Rebecca, wh. m. 1666, Thomas Fisher, and Ann, wh. d. in that yr. He was rep. 1665, 9, and 70, but strange. miscall. 1669, Woodwine. He d. 9 May 1685, as the date of 11 May may be understood as that of the bur. from Sewall's Diary in Geneal. Reg. VI. 72. But when he calls him f. of the min. we must infer that he intends William. PETER, Dedham, prob. s. of the preced. by w. Mehitable, had William, b. 1 Jan. 1669; Ann, 2 Feb. 1670; John, 10 Sept. 1671, H. C. 1693; Ebenezer, 15 Sept. 1675; Mehitable, 17 Nov. 1677; Peter, 29 Dec. 1679; Judith, Mar. 1683; and Smuel, 26 Dec. 1685. Possib. he was b. in Eng. and his d. on 15 Feb. 1721, is noted as of the aged P. W. RALPH, Hingham, was of Dublin 1635, came in 1637, was freem. Mar. 1638, deac. ord. 2 Feb. 1640, says Lincoln, was honor. by our governm. 1649, with a commiss. to solemn. m. RICHARD, Watertown, came in the Elizabeth, from Ipswich, 1634, aged 45, with w. Rose, 50, and two ch. George and John, ca. 13, if we accept the custom.-ho. papers, was freem. 2 Sept. 1635. His w. d. 6 Oct. 1662, aged a. 80 yrs. says the rec. with the usual tendency to exagger. and he d. 16 Feb. 1665; but first he m. 18 Apr. 1663, Ann, wid. of Stephen Gates of Cambridge, wh. d. 5 Feb. 1683. ROBERT, Boston, carpenter, s. of the first Nathaniel, by w. Rachel, d. of John Smith of the same, tailor, wh. as his w. had join. the ch. 6 Nov. 1641, had Joseph, b. 24 Oct. bapt. 7 Nov. 1641, d. prob. soon; Nathaniel, bapt. 30 Oct. 1642, a. 4 days old; Smith, 4 Aug. 1644, a. 5 days; Robert, b. 14 Nov. 1646; John, wh. d. 23 Aug. 1652; Jeremiah, wh. d. 26 Nov. 1653; the f. d. five days bef. His wid. m. 7 July 1654, Thomas Harwood. ROBERT, Boston, s. of the preced. was k. in Philip's war at Pocasset, 1675. SMITH, Dorchester, perhaps s. of Robert, had w. Thankful, d. 15 June 1738, aged 66, by her gr.-st. His ch. were Sarah, bapt. 11 Sept. 1692; Thankful, 24 Dec. 1693; Mary, 15 Dec. 1695; Deliverance, 16 Jan. 1698; Ebenezer and Abigail, tw. 19 Nov. 1699; all in right of their mo. for he was adm. of the ch. not bef. 1701, aft. wh. were bapt. John, prob. 29 Mar. 1702; Silence, 20 June 1703; Submit, 10 Dec. 1704; Samuel, 12 Jan. 1707; and Abigail, [p.647] 1 June 1712. THOMAS, Boston, carpenter, rem. to Roxbury, m. 7 Mar. 1660, Mary, d. of William Goose of Charlestown, had Thomas; Esther, both bapt. 1 May 1664, the f. hav. join. the ch. in the preced. mo.; Hannah, 14 May 1665; Eliz. 30 June 1667; Mary, 17 Jan. 1669; Rachel, 27 Nov. 1670; Robert, 19 Oct. 1673; and Mehitable, 29 Apr. 1675; and he d. Oct. 1685, says Farmer, trust. the town rec. wh. I distr. because it ment. not the day of d. contains not a single name of the childr. and the ch. rec. of bur. or d. is 10 Sept. evidently nearer to a contempo. authority. WILLIAM, Dedham, perhaps s. of Peter the first, was a ""min. of the gosp."" d. at D. 26 June 1669, as by the Roxbury ch. rec. is told, and the Diary of John Hull calls him ""a young but powerful preach."" Of this name Farmer notes, that in 1834, twenty-one had been gr. at N. E. coll. of wh. I count ten at Dartm. five at Yale, four at Harv.

The discovery of what is called the Brewster Book adds to the confusion already* existing concerning the date of the death of Elder Brewster. The entry there made by his son Jonathan makes it April 10, 1644. Bradford says he died, as has been usually quoted, about April 18, 1643, but the photographic copy of Bradford suggests that April 16th has been miscalled April 18th. The church records say April 16, 1644, and this must be considered the true date.

He came to Charlevoix, Mich., with his parents, Archibald K. and Mary M. Dougherty in November, 1868. He resided in Charlevoix for ten years. Since that time he has lived in Elk Rapids. He was educated in common schools of Charlevoix and Elk Rapids, read law in the office of FITCH R. Williams, was admitted to the bar in the Antrim County circuit court May, 1899, and was principal examiner in General Land Office of Washington, D. C., during the Harrison administration. He returned to Elk Rapids in 1894, and was elected Prosecuting Attorney of Antrim County and re-elected in 1896 and 1898. He practiced law in Elk Rapids until January 1, 1913, when he was appointed Deputy Attorney General by Hon. Grant Fellows; served with him four years. He served in same capacity for another four years with Hon. Alex. J. Groesbeck, and for two years and nine days under Hon. Merlin Wiley, when he was appointed Attorney General by Governor Groesbeck.

*WOODBRIDGE N. FERRISpage 289*Governor of Michigan. 1913-17; and United States Senator, 1923–. Was born in a log cabin near Spencer, Tioga County, New York, January 6, 1853. His early education was obtained in the county school, Spencer Union Academy, Candor Union Academy and Owego Academy, all of New York State. His first teaching experience was when he was only seventeen years of age. Later he entered the Oswego Normal and Training School, and it was while there he met Miss Helen Frances Gillespie, who became Mrs. Ferris in December, 1874. To them were born three sons, Carleton G., Clifford, who died at the age of three months, and Phelps FITCH. Mrs. Ferris died in March, 1917. In 1873 Mr. Ferris entered the medical department of the University of Michigan with the idea of gaining knowledge that would aid him in the teaching profession. He organized the Freeport Business College and Academy in Illinois in 1875, but gave up this work to become principal of the normal department of the Rock River University. In 1877 he organized a business college and academy at Dixon and two years later was elected [p.289] superintendent of schools at Pittsfield, Illinois, remaining there five years. In the fall of 1884 Mr. and Mrs. Ferris and son, Carleton, went to Big Rapids, where he organized the Ferris Industrial School. The school grew rapidly and in 1893 the main building of the Ferris Institute was built. It was incorporated in 1894 with a capital stock of $50,000. Mrs. Ferris taught in the Ferris Institute until 1901. Her work and influence have been of great value to the institution and have made possible whatever success Mr. Ferris has attained. Mr. Ferris was a candidate for Congress in the Eleventh District in 1892. In 1904 he was a candidate for Governor on the Democratic ticket. Mr. Ferris was the Democratic choice for Governor at the primary election August 27, 1912, was elected November 5, 1912, and re-elected November 3, 1914. In 1920 he was again a candidate, but was defeated by Alex J. Groesbeck. At the election held November 7, 1922, he was elected to the United States Senate.

Search Terms: FITCH (4)Database: Michigan Historical Society Records, Vol. 10Combined Matches: 4 *INCIDENTSpage 32*A paper called the Mirror was edited by two of the students, who were elected as its editors. The Mirror was very popular, and among its numerous contributors were some able writers. It was "published" every Wednesday afternoon when the elocutionary exercises were over. Charles Beckwith and the writer of this address were the editors for 1845. I remember that, at the close of our editorial year, we divided the manuscript articles of the correspondents, he taking a portion, I the rest. Among my collection of these papers I lately found a package written in the years 1843, "44 and "45. The handwriting of many of them was familiar to me, and through the mask of a fictitious name signed at the bottom, I could read the name of some old classmate of forty years ago. As I looked over these contributions to the old Mirror, they seemed to "shed the light of other days around me" What thoughts and emotions crowded upon me as I recognized in these "noms de plume" the names of Edwin C. Hinsdill, Wyllis C. Ransom, Charles Beckwith; of James A. Duncan and Wells R. Marsh, both of whom died in full manhood, when there was the promise of a brighter future before them. And here was the name of Dwight May, distinguished as student, lawyer and for the high positions of trust he has held in this state, and whose death a few years ago we all mourned. Here were the names of Elias Cooley, Myron Hinsdill, Gibson Brown, and here I find "Justitia"--George A. Hinsdill, the Byron of our school--splendid fellow, with an intellect that a prince might envy, the fine things in whose conversation were always worth noting down. After having risen to prominence in the profession of law in the [p.32] west, he died when his usefulness was most needed in the upbuilding of a new state. The names of George Trask, John Goodrich and George FITCH bring vividly to mind three old school mates who have "gone to the other side." They made their mark, the first two as business men, the latter as editor and newspaper manager. And here, under the noms de plume of some of the fair correspondents of the Mirror, I read the names of Minerva Cornell, Caroline M. Swayzee, Eliza A. Hays, Genevieve Hinsdill, Cornelia A. Clark, Refella Brown, Zilpha Foote, and others of our old schoolmates. We hope during this reunion to read you some of these contributions to the Mirror.

ANOTHER PIONEER GONE--BENJAMIN M. KING page 184 Mr. King remained in Orange county until manhood, and then went to Wayne county, where he lived for several years. Here he learned the shoemaker's trade, and when relieved from his apprenticeship married Martha Wetherbee. Soon after this event the young couple started for the then considered "out of the world" territory of Michigan. They reached White Pigeon in the month of May, 1832, and concluded to make their home in the prospective village of Eschol, the landmarks of which can be found two miles south of Three Rivers, on the east bank of the St. Joseph, where the new bridge crosses that stream. In the same year he and Samuel FITCH were drafted as soldiers in the Black Hawk war. They served their country just one month at White Pigeon, when the capture of Black Hawk was announced, and the command to which they belonged disbanded. In 1833, the subject of this sketch removed to Constantine, and, together with Daniel Arnold, of Hull and Arnold's famous band, rented a room and worked at shoemaking for some time. In 1834 he removed to Three Rivers, and lived in the Jacob McIntaffer house, the first habitation erected by a white man in this now prosperous city. About 1835 he built one of the first frame houses in Three Rivers. It occupied the site of the old Frye homestead. In 1836 he purchased 120 acres of land, two miles southwest of this city, built him a house thereon, and commenced in earnest the work of preparing a permanent home [p.184] for himself and family. For many years he worked at clearing his farm in the day time, and at his trade evenings. In 1846 the mother of his family died, leaving him with five children, the eldest of whom was sixteen, the youngest two years of age. Two years later he married Miss Elza Van Buren, who died just six months ago. She was the daughter of Ephraim Van Buren, one of the earliest pioneers to Battle Creek. Mr. King, for many years, took a deep interest in public affairs. He was an active participant in the anti slavery struggle, and during the war of the rebellion the Union had no firmer friend than he. He fought the battle of life like a true soldier, and well performed his part as a husband, father, and citizen. He leaves to mourn his loss four children, namely, John, of Waukegan, Ill.; James W., of Fabius township; Mrs. C. H. Howe, of Raymond, Dakota; and Mrs. M. R. Dickinson, of Rockford, Ill. Henry, the eldest son, died at his home, five miles northwest of this city, fourteen years ago.

Search Terms: FITCH (2)Database: Michigan Historical Society Records, Vol. 11Combined Matches: 2 JOHN VAN ARMAN page 286 As a proof of Van Arman's high standing as a lawyer we have only to refer to the celebrated cases, in Michigan, in which he has been leading counsel. In the celebrated railroad conspiracy case, he represented the Michigan Central railroad against Abel FITCH. Mr. FITCH had secured William H. Seward for his counsel. This was a long trial, and drew the attention of the whole country, from the eminence of the counsel engaged in it, and for the great importance attached to the charges brought against the defendant, Abel FITCH. It is not too much to say that it was the masterly manner and great ability he displayed in conducting the prosecution that won this case for his clients. William H. Seward said that Van Arman's final speech on this trial was one of the ablest forensic efforts of the day. He was counsel in the noted trial of White and Ulum for the murder of Estabrook, which was held at Centerville. He was also counsel for Vanderpool in his trial at Kalamazoo, where he was acquitted. Since he has lived in Chicago he has added still fresh laurels to his fame as a great lawyer. But his declining health has, within a few years, interfered much with his legal practice.

GOVERNOR EPAPHRODITUS RANSOM page 297 FITCH and Gilbert, of Marshall, had attached Judge Lee's goods for debts, and in taking out the attachment Gilbert had made a great mistake, in swearing that Judge Lee was about to defraud them of the debt in removing his goods. This was not true, and Pratt, Lee's law partner, had Gilbert indicted for perjury. The case now became serious, as Pratt's hatred of FITCH, who was a radical abolitionist, now took a more violent political turn. Gilbert, alarmed, speedily secured Gordon, Bradley, Van Arman, and Stuart as his counsel. Bradley and Gordon withdrew, and Van Arman, whom all wished to retain, was considered too aggressive to get along with Pratt, for the case was lost unless Pratt was pacified. It was an admirable stroke of policy in giving Stuart the management of the suit. To add to the difficulty the "sworn twelve" were known to be bitter democrats. Pratt seemed to have the case entirely in his own hands, and thoughts of the penitentiary loomed up in Gilbert's mind. Stuart's defense was a masterpiece of legal tactics in managing Abner Pratt when mad. He based that defense on the proposition that his client did wrong in attaching Judge Lee's goods; that Pratt did right in indicting Gilbert. But the question with the jury was--did Gilbert intend to commit perjury? To convict him they must have proof of that. There was no proof that he even intended to swear false, or to misinterpret the case against Lee. It was a mistake, a blunder of an impulsive young man, with no intention of committing a legal or a moral wrong. Before he had been talking twenty minutes he had judge and jury in tears. Had that speech been preserved, says one who heard it, it would have been called the greatest forensic achievement of Stuart's life. Mr. Stuart himself is inclined to this belief. Stuart's style was eminently persuasive. It enabled him at this time to enforce the essential facts in the case[p.297] with a pathos that carried both judge and jury. And it set at naught the idea that his strength lay mainly with the jury, and in the blandishment of his oratory. This would excite laughter in those who knew Judge Pratt. To think that the tactful blandishments of oratory could move him. No, the reverse of this was true. There was so much hard sense, sound logic, and law, in the defense of his client, that the Achillean wrath of Abner Pratt was subdued by it, court and jury carried, and Gilbert acquitted.

Search Terms: FITCH (2)Database: Michigan Historical Society Records, Vol. 8Combined Matches: 2 *PIONEER LIFE IN OCEANA COUNTYpage 230*There was an Indian reservation of two townships in the northeast part of the county, to which the red men were given possession in 1858, when they were moved to the county by the government, from which they received an annual annuity averaging about &dollar;1,300. There were about thirteen hundred, a part of which number belonged to a like reservation in Mason county, but, as is remembered, all were paid off annually at Pentwater. As showing the tact of an agent and the influence of a good dinner, an incident might here be related. One year, when the government agent, Rev. Mr. FITCH, came to pay the Indians the stipulated annuity, they declined to receive it, because, as they contended, the amount offered was too small. The more they smoked and talked over it, the more determined they appeared to be. Finally, the agent, remembering that "a soft answer turneth away wrath," ordered two fat oxen, ten bushels of potatoes and other food in proportion, which were prepared by the Indians, and cooked, under the direction of the agent, in large kettles borrowed for the purpose. Long tables were constructed of boards, on which a bountiful dinner was spread, and a bugler sent out with his horn to notify the anxiously waiting children of the forest that the feast prepared by the "Great Father" at Washington was ready. They came to the table by scores and by hundreds, and, after grace, partook of a bountiful dinner, under the genial influence of which they received the amount first offered, less the cost of the feast, without a murmur or sign of dissatisfaction. Moral: If you have a difficult matter to adjust with your neighbor, call on him soon after dinner.

County, New York, December 8, 1830, the son of Abijah Young and Rachel Hill (Young). His parents were natives of Vermont. His father was a cabinet maker by occupation, a man in moderate financial circumstances, but a great reader and of considerable literary attainments. His wife was a woman of strong personal character, an earnest Christian, who impressed herself deeply upon her children. Soon after their marriage in Rutland County, Vermont, they removed to Fredonia, New York, where they resided until Abijah Young's death in 1837. Mrs. Young believed that the new West would afford more favorable conditions under which to rear her family of five boys, and removed to Dupage County, Illinois. Two years later she was married again and removed with her family to Cook County, where the subject of this sketch grew up on an Illinois farm. Austin H. attended the common schools of the neighborhood in winter, working on the farm in summer. At the age of seventeen he took a course at Waukegan Academy, Waukegan, Illinois, then one of the best schools of its kind in the West. This, with the experience of six terms of school teaching, comprised his early educational advantages. In 1853, at the age of twenty-three years, be began the study of law in the office of Ferry& Clark, of Waukegan. In 1854 he removed to Prescott, Wisconsin, and for a time was engaged in mercantile business. He was also elected clerk of the circuit court and held that office for several years. In 1860 he began the practice of law, forming a partnership with M. H. FITCH. Soon afterward he was elected district attorney for his county, which office he held till the fall of 1863, when he was elected to the State Senate. In 1866 Mr. Young removed to Minneapolis and began the practice of his profession here in partnership with W. D. Webb. In the spring of 1870 he formed a partnership with Thomas Lowry, which continued until June 1, 1872, when he was appointed judge of the court of common pleas. This court had recently been established by the legislature, and in November of the same year Judge Young was elected for a term of five.

*CHARLES WILLIAM BROWN.page 143*Captain Brown, as he is generally addressed by his acquaintances in Minneapolis, acquired his title which in command of an American vessel engaged in trade in Australia, Indian and China. Mr. Brown was born in Newburyport, Massachusetts, June 14, 1858. His father was Jacob B. Brown, who was for many years a well known shipmaster of New England, and directly descended from John Brown, who settled in Rockingham County, New Hampshire in 1644. The farm occupied and improved by him is still owned by his descendants. Captain Brown's mother's maiden name was Anna A. FITCH. Her ancestors settled FITCHburg, Massachusetts, but, being loyal to the crown at the time of the Revolution, they emigrated to Nova Scotia, leaving considerable property behind them. Charles William began his education at Allen's English and Classical School at West Newton, Massachusetts, continuing it in Dummer Academy at Byfield, and graduating at Newburyport high school. Following the custom among New England boys he went to sea at an early age, and was some time in the service of the Chinese Merchants Steam Navigation Company on the coast of China. At the age of twenty-one he had attained such proficiency as a sailor that he was placed in command of the American barque Agate, and sailed for Adelaide, Australia. He continued for several years in that capacity, trading mostly with Australia, India and Japan. In November, 1885 having left the sea and being attracted by the reputation of Minneapolis, he

*NELSON H. MINER. NELSON H. MINER. page 230*N. H. Miner was born on January 26, 1833, at Shoreham, Addison County, Vermont. He was the son of Hiram and Eliza Miner, a farmer and mechanic and in fair financial circumstances. His grandfather, Richard Miner, was a soldier in the Continental Army during the Revolution and participated in the Battle of Bennington under Stark. His early educational advantages were limited to a few months each year in the country school and to the use of a small school library, and a few newspapers and periodicals received by the family. After leaving home and working on a far for nearly two years he attended the district school for one winterterm and then entered Franklin Academy, at Malone, New York. Here he studied for about three years, paying his way from the savings of the two previous years, and by teaching and farm work during vacations. Instead of pursuing his studies further he commenced to read law in the office of Parmelee & FITCH, in Malone, New York, and was admitted to the bar in that state in 1856. He practiced law two years in St. Lawrence and Franklin counties, New York, and then moved to Waupun, Wisconsin, in 1858, where he built up an extensive practice. In November, 1860, he came to Minnesota and formed a law partnership with Judge

There are families in North Carolina named Dula, descended from an Irishman named William Dooley of Patrick County, Virginia, a soldier of the Revolution. We find Fitts and FITCH for Fitzpatrick, Gerould, Jarrell and Jerl for Fitzgerald, Opherl (with the short sound of o) for OFarrell, Maness for MacManus, Bryant and Obryant for OBrien, and so on. There are American families named Dennis, descended from one Dennis ODeave who came from Ireland to Maryland in the year 1665, and two years later he proved his rights to a grant of land in Talbot County. In the Lists of Early Settlers, 1633 to 1680,Winthrops Journal, p. 135.6 he was recorded Dennis ODeere, in the land patent books as Deer O Dennis, but he signed his will Dennis ODeave. Another such instance is that of Roger OCane of Somerset County, Md. At the Land Commissioners office in Annapolis there is a record of a land grant to him, under date of June 26, 1679. He called his home plantation Waterford, doubtless after his birthplace in Ireland. His name was written in the body of the document, Roger OCane, but in the margin it was entered Keene O Roger, and in the probate records he appears as Keine O Roger. On the marriage of his son, Donogh Dennis OCane, to Elise Nehulian at Hungars Parish Church, Northampton County, Va., on July 31, 1661, his name was recorded Donock Dennis, thus making it appear that his surname was Dennis.

Description:The counties of Cheboygan and Mackinac, in northern Michigan, have been home to a number of newspapers since the mid-1800's. Collected from 14 different newspapers published in the two counties, this database is an index of persons whose names appeared in these publications for one reason or another between 1871 and 1929. This update to the existing file brings the total to about 26,700. It was compiled from records contained in the Cheboygan Public Library, St. Ignace Public Library, Mackinaw Public Library, and the State of Michigan Library at Lansing. Death notices, marriages, anniversaries, divorces, adoptions, and naturalizations are among the most common reasons a person's name would appear in the newspaper. Married women are listed under both their spouse's name and their maiden name. An asterisk indicates that only a microfilm copy is extant. Copies of individual articles can be obtained by contacting the Cheboygan Public Library, St. Ignace Public Library, or Mackinaw Public Library.

Search Terms: FITCH (1)Database: Pennsylvania Biographical Sketches, 1868Combined Matches: 1 *Encyclopaedia of Contemporary Biography of Pennsylvania, Volume II*Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, was born in Bridgewater township, Susquehanna County, Pennsylvania, September 28, 1832. His parents were farmers, and, until he was seventeen years of age, he led the ordinary life of a country lad, alternating between the performance of farm labor and attendance upon the district school. It is interesting to note in connection with Justice McCollum's district school life, that one of his instructors was one of his present associates upon the Supreme Bench, Mr. Justice Williams, also a native of Susquehanna County. Being ambitious to obtain an education, and his parents being financially well circumstanced, young McCollun was, when he was seventeen, sent to the Harford Academy, an educational institution of high rank in those days, numbering among its students Charles R. Buckalew, Galusha A. Grow, Cyrus C. Carpenter, Henry W. Williams and many others who have achieved distinction as public men. Here he remained for the greater part of three years, assiduously prosecuting his studies. Subsequently, having decided to adopt the profession of the law, he pursued a course at the State and National Law School at Poughkeepsie, New York, graduating therefrom with the degree of LL. B. The Law School course was supplemented with a term of service in the law office of Ralph B. Little, Esq., of Montrose, one of the ablest and most successful lawyers in northern Pennsylvania, where he was thoroughly schooled in the intricacies of pleading and practice, and was called to the bar at the August term of court, 1855. Almost immediately after his admission to the bar, Mr. McCollum accepted a clerkship in the office of William B. Plato, a leading practitioner of Geneva, Kane County, Illinois, where he remained about a year, when he returned to Montrose, where he has ever since resided. In August, 1856, in conjunction with Andrew J. Gerittson, he engaged in the publication of the Montrose Democrat, in which pursuit he remained until January, 1858, when, having disposed of his interest in the newspaper to his partner, he began the practice of the law, with Nahum Newton as a partner. From the beginning of the year 1858, to the close of the year 1878, he devoted his energies exclusively to caring for the interests of his clients, the number of which steadily increased until he was concededly the foremost practitioner at the bar of Susquehanna County. He had as partners during his career at the bar, at different times, beside Mr. Newton, Hon. Daniel W. Searle, his brother-in-law, now President-Judge of Susquehanna County, Albert Chamberlain and A. H. McCollum, his younger brother. Each upward rung of the ladder to professional fame was gained by the subject of this sketch purely upon his own merits, unaided by family influence or adventitious circumstances. The bar of his county, during the years of his struggle for recognition and advancement, was at its best, and numbered among its legal giants such men as Ralph B. Little, William Jessup, William J. Turrell, William M. Post, Benjamin S. Bentley, Lafayette FITCH, William H. Jessup and Farris B. Streeter. One of the traits of character of the future Judge, which gained for him the confidence of the people of his county, was his untiring devotion to the interests confided to his keeping. His cases were always thoroughly prepared, every precedent marshaled, every point of attack doubly guarded, and even a weak case in his hands was well calculated to command success, because of the strength with which it was presented. A litigant who once became his client ever afterward turned to his office when counsel was needed. To his clientele he was not merely their wise legal counsellor and formidable advocate but as well a friend, ever solicitous for their personal welfare. Thus it came that "Bruce" McCollum's office was not merely a dispensary of law, but a trysting-place for all the county folk who made pilgrimages to the county seat on missions not connected with legal matters. Although a Democrat in a Republican stronghold, his staunchest friends and most ardent admirers were found among his political opponents. As a jury advocate, Justice McCollum was eminently successful. While he was not given to word painting or ornate oratory, he was ever forceful, logical, candid and convincing. He never appealed to the baser passions of men, nor stooped to subterfuge to wheedle jurors, but on occasion, when the emergency required and opposing counsel invited it, he was capable of the most biting sarcasm and withering invective. When thoroughly aroused the Scotch blood in his veins asserted itself, and the usually quiet-mannered and soft-spoken jurist would pounce upon his antagonists with a pugnacity which boded ill to the cause he riddled with his vehement forensic shafts. In politics the Judge has always been a consistent, out-spoken and active adherent of the Democratic party. Almost from the time of attaining his majority, he was prominently identified with the management of the local affairs of his party. For many years prior to his elevation to the bench, he was the favorite spokesman of the democracy in Susquehanna County, and frequently was heard in adjoining counties. In his political speeches he was argumentative, not vituperative, but he was never mealy-mouthed in denouncing what he considered wrong in the position of his adversaries. For several years he was Chairman of the Democratic County Committee, and was the candidate of his party in 1859 for District Attorney, in 1861 for Representative, and in 1870 for Congress in the Luzerne-Susquehanna District. In all these contests he shared the fate of his political associates in that Gibraltar of Republicanism, defeat, but each time his vote demonstrated that there were many Republicans who took pleasure in complimenting him with their support. During all the years of his professional and political activities he had been constantly growing stronger in the public esteem and confidence, until in the year 1878 he stood in the front rank as a lawyer, and with his popularity as a man having its ramifications in every hamlet in his native county. In that year a President-Judge of Susquehanna County, which constitutes the Thirty-fourth Judicial District of the State, was to be chosen to succeed Hon. William H. Jessup, who was serving by Executive appointment to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge Farris B. Streeter. The Republican Convention named Judge Jessup to succeed himself, and it was the natural expectation of the Judge and his friends that his election by a handsome majority would follow. It was in that year that the Greenback Party movement became rampant throughout Pennsylvania, and in Susquehanna County was well organized and numerically strong. It was made up about equally of those who had been previously Democrats and Republicans. Although Mr. McCollum in no way gave in his adhesion to the Greenback platform, but was on the contrary understood to strenuously oppose it, the Greenback Convention, without asking from him a pledge of any kind, named him as its candidate for President-Judge. The Democratic Committee, of course, did likewise, and the result was that McCollum was elected by over twelve hundred majority. This was a remarkable demonstration of his personal popularity, for the Republican candidate for Sheriff at the same election was successful by about eight hundred majority, and all the other Republican candidates were also elected, with the exception of Representative, in which case the fusion candidate was elected by less than one hundred majority. On the first Monday in January, 1879, Judge McCollum ascended the Common Pleas Bench at the age of forty-six years, thoroughly equipped for the performance of the arduous and responsible duties of the judicial office. The contest which had resulted in his elevation had been an acrimonious one, and he resolutely set himself to the task of allaying the animosities engendered by a bitter political strife, and to dissipate the fears entertained by many of his opponents that as a Judge he might make those feel his power who had been most conspicuous in the assaults made upon him. Before he had been upon the bench a year his freedom from personal prejudice and his perfect fairness were conceded by all. That he possessed a profound knowledge of the law no one doubted, but the ease with which he adapted himself to his new position not only delighted his friends, but commanded the admiration of those who had opposed his election thereto. Through his industry the trial list, which had long been loaded heavily with causes, the trial of which had been too long deferred, was reduced until instead of being obliged to wait two years to bring an action to trial, litigation was adjudicated with all requisite celerity. As a Judge, he knew no friends or enemies. Every suitor stood upon an equal footing in his court. His charges were models of impartiality and cogent statements of law and evidence, and his rulings, upon intricate legal questions arising in the trial of cases, were singularly free from errors. During his incumbency of the President-Judgeship, appeals from his court were so infrequent that Susquehanna County lawyers became strangers in the Supreme Court. In ten years the higher court overruled him but three times. His fame as a learned and just Judge spread throughout the northeastern section of the State and he was frequently called to preside in other districts. Wherever outside of his own district he held court once, when, thereafter, the local Judge was unable to preside, the bar would signify their desire that Judge McCollum be secured if possible. With the young members of the bar was he especially popular, for to them he was always extending a helping hand and dropping words of encouragement. His Chamber at the Court House was the favorite place of rendezvous for all the members of the bar, with whom the Judge always maintained most cordial relations. In his intercourse with the bar he possessed that happy faculty of unbending most graciously, so that in his presence there was no oppressive feeling of awe, but rather the existence of the most perfect entente cordiale. At the same time he preserved unostentatiously a judicial dignity which forbade the most intimate of his companions from trenching upon that ground which, in the interest of justice, must separate the upright judge from influences calculated to warp his judgment in matters of which he must take judicial cognizance. For a decade he underwent the close scrutiny of an exacting constituency, as to his ability as a lawyer, fairness as a judge, exemplary life as a citizen and kindness as a neighbor, and at the end of that time there was not one to criticise, but there existed a universal desire among those whom he had so faithfully and brilliantly served, that some higher honor might be conferred upon him. It needed, therefore, but the suggestion by the Montrose Democrat of his name as a proper person to be nominated for Justice of the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth, by the Democratic State Convention, to immediately solidify in his support the delegates thereto from all the northeastern counties and other counties wherein he had held court. At the State Convention held in May, 1888, at Harrisburg, as the result of earnest work in his behalf, without his consent or solicitation, the nomination was accorded him with substantial unanimity. At that time it was looked upon as more of a high professional endorsement than a substantial political honor, because, under ordinary circumstances, the Republican majority in the State was very heavy. The Judge accepted the nomination, however, thereby denying himself the opportunity which was considered at least good to continue upon the Common Pleas Bench, because of his disinclination to contest the honor with his brother-in-law, Daniel W. Searle, the Republican nominee, between whom and himself there had existed for many years the most ardent friendship, cemented by marriage ties and closest intimacy. But the State was not destined to lose his services in a judicial capacity. In July following his nomination, the Hon. John Trunkey, a Judge of the Supreme Court, died in London, England, whither he had gone seeking medical treatment. Thus was brought about the necessity of the election of two Justices of the Supreme Court at the ensuing election. By the Constitutional provision, that when in any year two Justices of that Court are to be chosen, no voter is permitted to vote for more than one, thereby providing for minority representation, Judge McCollum's election was assured, no matter how many more votes than he Judge James T. Mitchell, the Republican candidate, might receive. Of course when what was considered an empty honor materialized into an assured election as a Supreme Court Justice for the full term of twenty-one years, there was immediately set on foot all through the State the most eager and searching inquiry regarding the standing and personality of Judge McCollum. But the Judge came through the ordeal with flying colors, and the people of the Commonwealth congratulated themselves that, in the successor of Justice Trunkey, they were to have so eminent and worthy a jurist. His career on the Supreme Bench thus far has fully demonstrated that when Joseph Brewster McCollum became a member of the highest court in the State, it was indeed a stroke of good fortune to the public. His written opinions are notable for their terseness of expression and comprehensive grasp of the legal principles at issue. His style of composition is simple, direct, and with an utter absence of ornamental flourish. He is happily free from that penchant so common among judges of injecting dicta into opinions not necessary to the adjudication of the case in point. In private life Justice McCollum is a delightful companion, an angler of a great degree of skill, and capable of telling as well as enjoying a good anecdote. In 1862 he married Mary Jane Searle, whose active participation in all charitable work, devotion to her distinguished husband and family, and the gracious manner in which she presides over the comfortable family mansion in Montrose, have endeared her to her wide circle of friends. Two sons, Searle and Charles, are the fruit of this marriage, the former a young attorney, and the latter a lad, just entering his teens, at school. Name: Hon. Henry C. McCormick

Description:This informative database contains lists of emigrants from Great Britain to the United States from 1600-1700. The individuals include emigrants, religious exiles, political rebels, men serving prison terms, children, and women. The records include, where possible, the person's age, where they were from, the name of the ship they traveled in, the destination, and the year. Description:During the eighteenth century, two largely European wars spilled over into the North American colonies. This database is a listing of men called into service by Rhode Island in 1740-1748 and 1755-1762 as a result of these conflicts. Each record provides the soldier or sailor's name, and the war in which they served. Also included are notes regarding the branch of service, wounding or death information, and battles in which the individual was involved. It contains the names of over 3800 men. For those seeking information regarding colonial Rhode Island ancestors, this can be a useful database.

Description:Although the United States Navy did not take part in many World War I battles, thousands of American sailors died fighting for their country during the war. This database collects from disparate sources the death records for over 7200 sailors who died between 1917 and 1919. Each record reveals the sailor's name, rank, branch of service, death date, and cause of death. Additionally, the sailor's enlistment address is given along with the nearest living relative. For those seeking ancestors who died in World War I, this can be an extremely illuminating database.

Description:An important part of the Great Lakes region of the United States, Wisconsin boasted a population of nearly a quarter million around the turn of the twentieth century. Originally published in 1902, this database is a biographical listing of several hundred important male residents of the state. Each entry includes helpful information regarding the individual's occupation, distinguished achievements, and location of business. Although a number of the entries are for lawyers, judges, politicians, civil servants, physicians, bankers, journalists and educators are also represented. For researchers of ancestors from late nineteenth century Wisconsin, this can be a helpful source of information.

DescriptionIn 1917 and 1918, approximately 24 million men, (98% of men present in America), born between 1873 and 1900 completed draft registration cards. During these two years, three registration days were held in each district where the registrant completed the registration card. Information found on these cards generally included, among other information, birth date, birth location, father's birthplace, and the address of next of kin. This civilian registration is often confused with induction into the military; however, only a small percentage of these men were actually called up for military service.

Originally posted to Ancestry.com in January of 1998 and taken from the original draft cards, this database provides information on some of the men registered. This update, part of an ongoing project, adds over 300,000 names to the previously posted database and brings the total number of names provided to 1.2 million. It adds information on registrants from Florida, Mississippi, and South Dakota.

It should be noted that aliens were required to register but were not subject to induction into the American military. Persons already in the military did not register. Recent Italian emigrants wrote their last names first, resulting in some cards being filed under first names. Cards of Hispanics may be filed under their mother's maiden name surname if the registrant gave both parents' surnames. Also, men who resided in British territories sometimes listed themselves simply as British citizens without noting their origin in Canada, Australia, Ireland, Jamaica, etc. Illiterate men were unable to spell their names and birth location, so researchers should be quite flexible in searching for the spelling of names of illiterate men.

NOTE: This database, although providing information on over 5% of all men registered, represents approximately 13% of all counties nationwide. Researchers will find complete coverage of Alaska, Delaware, Florida, Idaho, Mississippi, and Nevada and a good representation from Alabama, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Hawaii, Illinois, Kansas, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Nebraska, New York City, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota, Texas, Utah and Vermont.

Steamboat John Fitch

Dear Betty:

WATSON'S ANNALS of PHILADELPHIA and PENNSYLVANIA Vol. I Written 1830 - 1850 Chapter 90. PERSONS AND CHARACTERS - Part III JOHN FITCH Among the wonderful things of this wonderful age, must be mentioned the oblivious neglect of this extraordinary man ! The only parallel case among us has been the long oblivion resting upon the name and fame of Godfrey. Scarcely any seem to have acquainted themselves with the individual history of Mr. Fitch. They only seem to know him, as being like "the man who the longitude missed on" -- and as he, who failed to make his profits out of the invention of the steamboat !!! The fame, and the rewards, have fallen into later hands : -- not unlike the labours of the late Captain Edmund Fanning, who first suggested and urged all the measures, means and benefits, for an exploration of the polar regions of the South Pole, whilst other names and persons are likely to engross the glory. "There are insects that prey On the brains of the Elk, till his very last sigh; Oh, Genius ! thy patrons, more cruel than they, First feed on thy brains, and then leave thee to die !" Finding that none -- so far, will interest themselves to exalt, or preserve the name and merits of "poor John Fitch", as he feelingly called himself, I shall herein endeavour to set down sundry facts belonging to his personal history. He went astray in the opinion of many in his religious faith; but so far as we know, he lived correctly; and in general conduct was much better than many who have juster theories to help their actions and morals. The ancestors of John Fitch -- for he had respectable ancestors -- with a vellum of pedigree and a coat of arms, were originally Saxon, and emigrated to Essex, in England; from thence, they went out to Windsor, Connecticut; where his great grandfather purchased one-twentieth of the original settlement, and left it to three sons -- Joseph, Nathaniel, and Samuel. John Fitch, the inventor, was born on the line between Hartford and Windsor, on the 21st of January, 1743. He served his time, after he was eighteen years of age, at clockmaking, with Benjamin Cheaney, in East Windsor. He had two brothers, namely, Joseph and Augustus, and three sisters, Sarah, Anne, and Chloe. He said of himself, that "take him all and all, he was the most singular man all his life !" He met with harsh treatment in early life from several, and especially from an elder brother with whom he lived -- (his "good mother" Sarah Shaler, having died when he was only four years of age) and he embraced infidel opinions when he was but seventeen years of age -- superinduced, as he himself thought, by some certain slights inflicted upon him about the building of a certain meeting house in his neighbourhood. He was in the earliest youth fond of books and study, which he probably inherited from his father, John Fitch -- (the son of Joseph) "who had a genius for astronomy, mathematics and natural philosophy, and was a truly honest and good man". John Fitch, the subject of this memoir, was married in the twenty-fifth year of his age, to Lucy Roberts, his elder, on the 29th December 1767, and had a son, born the 3d November 1768; but he only lived with his wife, with whom he dwelt in continual dissatisfaction, until the 18th January 1769; when, as he says in his MS book, he could endure it no longer, and so left his home, to seek more contentment in Trenton, N.J. There he remained and pursued the business of a silv ersmith and the repairing of clocks, until the breaking out of the revolutionary war -- when he estimated his property acquired to be worth £800. He then took to gunsmithing for furthering on the war; employed twenty hands at it, until the entry of the British, when they destroyed his tools and furniture. He then fled into Bucks county, to the house of John Mitchell, in Attleborough, and afterwards went to Charles Garrison's, in Warminster township. While there, his 4000 dollars in continental money depreciated to 100 dollars. After this, he went to the west in 1780, as surveyor in Kentucky, and in 1782, intending a voyage to New Orleans with flour, he was made prisoner by the Indians, near the mouth of the Muskingum, on the Ohio. He was then carried, or rather driven, twelve hundred miles bare-headed, to Detroit and Prison Island, where he was given up to the British as a prisoner of war. He and his party were the first whites who were captured after Wilkinson's massacre of the Moravian Indians; and they had just reasons to fear every evil from their revenge. Of that captivity, he used to relate many very stirring and affecting anecdotes.

It ought to be here mentioned, that many facts of himself are related with much apparent frankness in his MS. books bequeathed to the Philadelphia Library, and which being sealed, were not to be opened until thirty years after his death, and never to be lent out of the institution without a pledge of £500 for their safe return. Thus quitting his own age, and appealing to another, as if to say, that he forsaw that the next age could alone do justice to his memory. It may seem strange, that in such a reading community as Philadelphia affords, there should be found so many, so long indifferent to their examination and reading ! Wh o, even to this day, can say that they have read them ? There is however, I am assured, for I have not closely inspected them, much of deep instruction to be found in many of his observations. Speaking of himself while at Trenton, he says, that he had proved the fact, that "the best way to make the world believe him honest, was to be the thing itself" -- and to his sedulous practice therein he ascribes his rapid advancement in property. He had while there a greater run of business than any silversmith, even in Philadelphia itself : and his tools were certainly the best set then in America. A gentleman, (D.L.) who entertains warm feelings for John Fitch -- regarding him as an unduly neglected and injured man, has kindly made me acquainted with many facts concerning him, and among other means of information which he possessed, he had made considerable examination of the MS. remains found in the first volume in the City Library. He speaks of the work as being "essentially a part and parcel of the man, and as exhibiting him in bold relief every how, and in every way; in his shop, in his thoughts, and in fin□, in his very self". "You may there see a full portrait of the man as he was in his sympathies and in his aversions; there you may see the elaborate workings of an original and inventive mind." Will any consider? There were two individuals of Bucks county -- women who were the neighbours and frequent observers of John Fitch, whilst he was a resident at Garrison's, and whilst he was working for himself, at his inventions in Jacobus Scouter's wheelwright shop; they were named Mary McDowell and Mrs. Jonathan Delany. From Mary, I have learned some facts of Fitch's lands and property in Kentucky. He owned there 1600 acres -- and whilst he was engaged with his favourite object, the steam enterprise, others settled the land and built thereon a fine mill and sundry dwellings and outhouses. Being possessed of capital, and having possession, they were enabled to suspend and defer any legal action. She thinks that his friends, Joseph Budd and Doctor Say, were in partnership with Fitch, about its recovery. Fitch, while in Kentucky, was a deputy surveyor, and seems to have been intimate with Colonel Todd and Colonel Harrod, then men of consideration and consequence there. He had one of the best requisites of an efficient surveyor, in that he was a great walker; being tall, slender and sinewy. He told Mary that he had sold 800 of his Maps of the north-western parts of the United States, in the western parts of Virginia and Pennsylvania, making all his journey on foot; and on such occasions, he could always out-travel a horse. In walking he pitched forward, and went onward with a great swing. On one occasion, when he was robbed of his silver and gold, to the amount of £200, which he had buried for its better security at Warminster, he walked to Spring Mill and back, before sunset -- making forty miles in the journey. One of his Maps is now at Warminster, preserved as a relic of the genius of the man. It is inscribed as "Engraved and printed by the author" and with equal truth it might have been imprinted thus -- "Engraved in Cobe Scout's wheelwright shop, and printed on Charles Garrison's cider press, by the author" -- for such were the facts in the case. All these efforts of the man were specially designed to raise funds, whereby to push forward to completion and success the absorbing subject of his steam invention. THAT was the theme and the purpose of all his thoughts and wishes. "Slow rises worth by poverty depressed !" It was observed of Mr. Fitch, that frequently when engaged at his work in the shop aforesaid, he would suddenly let fall his tools, and sit in an inclined posture, meditating for two hours at a time. The "worthy Nathaniel Irwin", the Presbyterian minister at Neshamany, was a frequent visiter of Fitch while employed at Cobe Scout's (i.e. Jacobus Scouter's) and would often stay examining the mechanical operations, and holding conversations with the inventor, for half a day at a time. Fitch deemed his visiter a "worthy man", and would frequently attend his sermons at the Neshamany church. His friend Cobe Scout lived to the year 1829, and died at the age of ninety years. I am indebted to Mary McDowell for the fact, that Fitch had a daughter by his wife, born not long after he left his home. She (Mary) says, that the cause of his leaving his wife was an unfounded jealousy, and coupled with the fact, that she united herself with the Methodists against his will and expressed desire. This last may seem a small offence in the eyes of those who now understand and respect that sect; but when they were "the sect every where spoken against", and who went about every where "turning the world upside down" in their progress of proselyting, who can now appreciate the measure of offense to Fitch's hopes and wishes ! Besides, he was, as I learned, a man of quick temper -- easily provoked -- not "slow to anger" -- and in the case of his wife, hard to reconcile. We understood it to be a fact, that Mrs. Fitch, after the death of her father -- who left her a good estate to herself and her two children-- sent her brother-in-law, Burnham, with a letter to her husband, urging his return again to Connecticut, and offering "to maintain him like a gentlemen for life" -- but he was inflexible, and peremptorily refused the proffered benefit. His spirit was entirely unbroken, though the winds and the fates were adverse in so many other things. He sent a pair of silver shoe-buckes to his son, and a gold ring to his daughter; but to his wife he refused to send any token of regard, or rememberance -- although he was much importuned thereto at the time, by Garrison's wife. When I first became acquainted with the fact of John Fitch having left a son and a daughter to inherit the name and fame, and yet knew not that any could say who they were, or where they dwelt, I felt a strong desire to find out the facts of their cases. The result has been, that I have ascertained, after much inquiry, that his son was Shaler Fitch, a farmer of respectable character and circumstances, leaving six children; and his eldest son, John B. Fitch, is a respectable and intelligent gentleman, in the same vicinity and has a family. The daughter of John Fitch, named Lucy, married Colonel James Kilbourne, of Worthington, Franklin county, Ohio; he is a gentleman of respectability and influence, and has a family of six children. The wife of John Fitch is buried at Harford, Ohio. I have other facts concerning other members of the other branches of the family, not needful to be mentioned here. Some of the original stock still remain about Windsor, Connecticut; but the most of them have emigrated to Ohio. Colonel Luther Fitch, postmaster, at Sharon, Ohio, who died there in 1841, and left a family, was the son of John Fitch's brother Joseph. The writer, in his boyhood, has himself seen the inventor, and feels prepared to endorse the personal description which he now gives from Mary McDowell's recollection. It agrees substantially with what I have understood from Miss E. Leslie's recollections of him as seen by her when visiting her fathers house in London; for it seems, though doubted by some, that in his wanderings for patrons, he actually visited that metropolis, and there published two of is pamphlets in 1793, now in the Philosophical Library, in Philadelphia, numbered 330. He was in person upright and "straight as an arrow", and stood six feet two inches in his stocking feet; was what was called, "thin and spare", face slim; complexion tawny; hair very black; and a dark eye, peculiarly piercing; his temper was sensitive and quick, but soon over -- the case of his wife to the contrary notwithstanding. His general character in Bucks county among his immediate friends was that "he bore anger as the flint bears fire, which being much enforced, shows a hasty spark and quick is cold again". His countenance was pleasing and somewhat smiling. "In point of morals and conduct, he was perfectly upright; sincere and honourable in all his dealings; and was never known to tell a wilful falsehood, or indeed to use any guile". This was certainly a good reputation among his neighbours, by quoting from the Prophet Samuel, his challenge, and saying in effect, "let my religion be appreciated by my life". We avoid here, purposely, to say any thing of the peculiarities or merits of Fitch's invention, because the little we have to say on that subject will be told under the head and chapter of our notice of steam operations generally. We may, however, remark that it was at this place he received the first impulse to consider and investigate the subject. It was also here, in Southampton run, on Garrison's farm, that he first tried his model. I ought to add in conclusion, that the first person who ever stimula ted my mind to consider again, and to think better of the character and worth of "poor John Fitch" as he called himself, when seeing the oppositions he was called to encounter -- was himself a Christian man of the Society of Friends, of the same neighbourhood of Warminster, and that he told me feelingly, that he deemed it his Christian and civic duty, to endeavour to see some justice done to the name and character of the deceased. He became first concerned, as he assured me, in this matter, "when he first read the insinuations and sometimes open slanders of Colden and others". They had the effect to stimulate his inquiry and research, and the result was, at the end of several years, that the inventor was either a misunderstood, or a neglected, rejected and injured man. Whatever the mass of the public may have considered or believed, it was a fact, that John Fitch had, in Warminster and thereabout, a worthy band of warm admirers and enthusiastic friends; and the few of them who still survive, are at this moment heartily desirous to give reminiscences and anecdotes in confirmation of their steadfast attachment to the name and memory of the injured benefactor of his race. In all this, "I will the tale as I've been told." A second thought, inclines me to add a few supplemental facts, to wit: The MSS. books of John Fitch in the Philadelphia Library, consist of five volumes. Volumes 1 to 3 contain the memoirs of his life brought down to the 26th October 1792; the other two, contain the history of his steam invention, with diagrams, &c. They occupy about 550 folio pages of cap, and are dedicated "to the worthy Nathaniel Irwin, of Neshamany" the minister before named. Mr. Fitch was a ready writer with his pen, although careless as a composuist. He wrote much as he wo uld have talked, and seems to have resorted, on many occasions, to writing rather than speaking, as if preferring to present himself for consideration in that way, in his intercourse with men in his business concerns, rather than by conversation. In a power of attorney given by him to Jonathan Longstreth in 1786, he speaks of his lands as lying in Jefferson, Lincoln and Fayette counties, Kentucky; and mention is made in a letter to J. Fitch, of Thomas Speed and John Rogers on Salt River, Mercer county. In another letter, dated from Madison county, mention is made that Wilson, who lived on Fitch's land, had a lawsuit with one Kite, about it. I mention these facts to elicit, if possible, some future inquiry by others. All things considered, it appears probable that Fitch must have died about the year 1798, at or near Bardstown, Nelson county, Kentucky. This inference is made, because he would be likely to be called there to prosecute his claims. These he was earnest to make good for his son, to whom he thus manifested parental fondness and regard. At this crisis of his affairs, feeling "impatient of the law's delays", he is said to have said at the court, "I'll wait no longer", and feigning illness, he told a physician that he could not sleep (very probably, very truly) and wished to take an anodyne. This he received from time to time in the form of opium, without using it, till he had enough to take at once, and wrapt himself in eternal sleep ! Thus perished the man, as the Longstreth family have been informed, whose sensitive and disappointed mind could not brook the cold apathy of the world, which was sneeringly looking upon his darling project as the impulse of a diseased and deranged mind. It has also been said by his host, one McCown, an innkeeper at Bardtown, who managed to take to himself a parcel of Fitch's land after his death, that he had, in a fit of desperation, drunk to excess and died. The truth of these matters may be hereafter investigated. In the mean time, it is ascertained that he made a will in June 1798, in favour of some of his creditors, who had been before known as assisting him with funds for his steamboat experiments, &c. He died a few days after. He had often been heard to say, before this catastrophe, that if he failed to attain his legal rights, he should not choose to survive his disappointment. We have been thus particular as to names and places, on purpose to awaken some inquiry, even yet, in the minds of others, who may have chances to elicit future facts for the benefit of his family. His patents of 1782, from Virginia, for 1600 acres, we have seen. If he, in mistaken faith, took a Roman's remedy for "the ills of life" which a Christian may "keep beneath his feet", what must be "the recompense of reward" to those who "by covetousness" took the sin of his desperation, and their own injustice too, upon their own souls ! How mortifying to contemplate, that the man who should have had the whole civilized world as his willing admirers, and willing contributors to his due reward, should nevertheless have died, and have been so little inquired after in the time of his disappearance, as to have left ME the frequent occasion of asking the American public where is his grave and where are his lands ! One published account says he died of the yellow fever at Philadelphia in 1793; another printed account says he drowned himself at Pittsburg in the same year; both setting the time when he was actually in London, printing two of his publications ! In truth, he was allowed to come and go, without notice and without observation ! It was only after much search and much inquiry that I lately found out his remains at Bardstown, interred there in June or July 1798; and now I propose to stimulate a few of the right kind of men, to have a suitable monument erected to his memory, and over his remains, somewhere on the banks of the Ohio, and within sight and sound of the steamers, which owe their existence to his invention. I ought here to add, that I have been well assured, from those who knew the fact, that Fitch was wholly original in his conceptions; none of them in the beginning were deduced from books. The over boiling of a tea-kettle first suggested to his mind the power of vapour. It is known from his friend, the Rev. Mr. Irwin, that when he brought him some engraved specimens of a steam apparatus of some kind, found in some European work, that he showed much chagrin and mortification, to have found himself not so wholly unique as he had before presumed himself to be. It is known also, that his first idea, told at the time, of propelling land carriages by steam, was suggested to his mind in April 1785, while walking from meeting with James Ogilbee, and was caused by his noticing the motion of a wheel in a passing chaise. This fact has been certified by James Ogilbee and James Scout in 1788. The thought of steam carriages he entertained for a few weeks, and then gave up that for steamboats. In June 1785, after making the drafts of his boat scheme, he went to Philadelphia and showed them to Doctor Ewing, Professor Patterson, and others. In August, he laid his models before Congress. John Fitch, in his MSS. makes this admission, to wit : -- "although I knew that the thought of applying steam to boats had b een before known, yet I was the first that ever exhibited a plan to the public -- when, therefore, I had shown it to General Washington, I felt all the elation of hope and expectation". He admits that William Henry of Lancaster, Pennsylvania, in conversation with Andrew Ellicot in 1775, had intimated the thought that steam might be applied to the navigation of boats. Fitch was an honest dealer to others, and admitted in his certificate to Henry Voight, of May 9th 1789, that the said H. Voight "had invented a new boiler for creating steam in a cheap and expeditious manner" and in another paper of 23d December 1789, he certifies that "H. Voight is a great genius, and that except in a few instances, Fitch had given up his opinion of Voight". "Honour to whom honour is due!" One account which I have seen, says that his friends helped him to a fund to go to France, at the request of Mr. Vail, our consul, who wished to introduce the invention into France; but the progress of the Revolution there prevented any sufficient attention to his schemes and his interest. It is added that Mr. Vail afterwards subjected to the examination of Mr. FULTON, when in France, the papers and designs. It is certain that Mr. Vail is one of the legatees in Mr. Fitch's will. If Mr. Fitch was in France, it probably furnished the occasion and the cause of his also visiting England about the same time. Captain Wood, of East Windsor, says he went to France before the Revolution (the French) and came away so poor that he had to work his passage to Boston. In June 1792, Mr. Fitch addressed a letter to Mr. Rittenhouse, in which he said emphatically, "This, sir, will be the mode of crossing the Atlantic in time, whether *

I * shall bring it to perfection or not." At the same time he urges Mr. R. to assist him, by buying his lands in Kentucky. To a smith, who had worked upon his boat, he said "If I shall not live to see it, you may, when steamboats will be preferred to all other means of conveyance, and especially for passengers; and they will be particularly useful in the navigation of the Ohio and Mississippi". Jacob Graff was his smith; Boyer Brooks was his boat-builder. When the project first presented to his mind of propelling by force of condensed vapour, "he had not (as he himself affirmed) ever heard of such a thing as a steam engine in existence". The Hon. N. Boileau, then of Bucks county, remembers well, that Mr. Fitch had, besides his paddles, the conception of using wheels also, for he actually engaged him, as an ingenious boy, to cut out small ones from drafts, to serve as models, to direct in the construction of larger ones. Some of the models were made in brass. Mr. Fitch did not admit that James Rumsey, though before him in his schemes of a boat without steam, had preceded him in any of his proper inventions for a boat with steam. This is tested by a publication of May 1778, printed by Z. Poulson, Philadelphia, entitled, "The original Steamboat supported, or a Reply to Mr. James Rumsey's pamphlet, showing the true priority of John Fitch, and the false datings, &c., of James Rumsey" in 34 pages, 8vo. The particulars of this will be seen under the article, in this work, on steamboats. John Fitch's pamphlet, which he published in London in 1793, entitled "An Explanation for the keeping a ship's traverse at sea, by the Columbian Ready Reckoner", is another manifest proof of the inventive and ingenious faculties of his mind; such as was never idle ! In cross ing the Atlantic, in his voyage to Europe, he had observed the navigators using a round board with the points of the compass cut on it, with holes in the points, into which they put a peg as often as they had run an hour, and thus marking the point they had run. Meditating upon this as his text, he, although no mariner, soon formed his idea of a plate to be made of paper, skin, wood or metal, to be so inscribed "as might reduce the art of navigation to the comprehension of the smallest capacity, and greatly simplify it, so as to save much trouble in their reckonings". "I have (says he) endeavoured to bring the art of navigation into one focal point, and to make it unnecessary to tease themselves with logarithims, signs, tangents, and trigonometry. So that he believes that the use of the plate and the keeping of the ship's traverse can be resolved in much less time than in the common way now used." It might be learned, says he, in six hours' teaching, and the possession of a moderate share of arithmetic; nay more, "a person who has not the use of a pen may cross the Atlantic, without the necessity of making a figure !" To those who are curious in this matter, the pamphlet, in 20 pages, may be seen in the Library of the Philosophical Society in Philadelphia. It certainly manifests a very generous spirit in the inventor, to have thus offered his services gratis to the use of the mariner. Mr. Fitch while in Indian captivity, made himself a great favourite with the Buffalo chief, by making for him metal ornaments, and engraving his powder horn, &c. Before his adoption of him, he had to run the usual gauntlet, and received many blows. At one time, when he was descending the Ohio with flour for New Orleans, when it was bringing forty dollars per barrel, it was all captured by the Indians, and thus all his prospects were frustrated. When he exchanged Indian captivity for the place of a prisoner of war to the British at Detroit, he fell into money making, by making metal ornaments for the officers. After eight or ten months as a prisoner, he got from Quebec, round by sea, and arrived again in Bucks county, at the house of his old friend Cobe Scout; where they rushed into each other's arms, like warm-hearted brothers. Next day they went to meeting, and public thanks were offered there, by his reverend friend Irwin. At one time he was lieutenant in the army at Valley Forge. At another time he was sutler to the army in the west, and made money. Often he was out on foot expeditions with articles of silver made by him and to be sold through the country. He was, in a word, essentially "a universal Yankee". As soon as I had ascertained the place in Kentucky where rest the remains of John Fitch, I took measures to have them brought thence, to be deposited at the Laurel Hill Cemetery, where they might have a suitable monument erected to their memory. But it has been deferred from the interference of sundry gentlemen there, who have solicited to have them remain in that state, with a view to have them deposited under a monument, to be erected on the margin of the river Ohio, below Louisville; in sight of passengers passing in the steamboats. This, in accordance with his known expressed wishes -- and therefore to be inscribed on the tablet, to wit : "His darling wish (he said) was to be buried On the margin of the Ohio, Where the song of the boatmen might penetrate The stillness of his resting place; And where the sound of the steam engine Might send its echoes abroad." "Nihil mihi optatius accidere poterat !" Another inscript ion, with equal fitness, might be inscribed on another side of his monument, equally forcible, from his own pen -- to wit : "While living, he declared -- "This will be the mode of crossing the Atlantic in time, Whether I shall bring it to perfection or not." "Steamboats will be preferred to all other conveyance, And they will be particularly useful In the navigation of the Ohio and Mississippi." "The day will come, when some more potent man Will get fame and riches for my invention." Should the Kentuckians be faithful to themselves, they will of course see to the execution of this monument; but if not, we know of another disposal of his remains, which will give them perpetuity of honour at Laurel Hill -- where they will be equally near the scenes of his early operations and associations. In fin□, from what we have gleaned of John Fitch, and his perils, adventures, and adversities of life, we feel satisfied, that he has left enough of his written facts to make a lively work of romance and tale; even if none should be found "to do him reverence", by making a true book of his memoirs and biography. Will any take the hint?

FITCH'S BRIDGE, TOWN OF DELHI

Fitch's Bridge was originally at Kingston St. in the village. It was erected there in 1869 and replaced by an iron bridge some sixteen years later. The wooden bridge was marked, dismantled, and moved up river three miles to its present location where it was pieced together in a turned around position so that its wood would weather more evenly.

CHAPTER I.

BIOGRAPHY USEFUL, AGREEABLE; IF CORRECT, DIFFICULT—DR. FITCH—HIS EXCELLENT ANCESTRY.

BIOGRAPHY is a species of composition which happily unites the useful with the agreeable. If written with truth and fidelity, it can hardly fail to be useful; since it is, as an ancient said of history, "philosophy speaking by example." It shows us what qualities we must possess to be useful and happy. It discloses the trials of human life; and teaches us how difficulties may be met, and dangers averted or overcome. It likewise sets before us the means by which the human character may reach its highest attainments and usefulness.

Nor is it easy to see how the biography of the wise and good can fail to be agreeable. It introduces us to the acquaintance of individuals, whose names have awakened our curiosity, and perhaps our admiration. It shows those finer and better traits of character which we could not otherwise narrowly inspect. It makes us the companions of their toils and trials, their sufferings and joys. It points us to that world where their virtues are matured and their spirits made perfect.

It is painful, however, to think that some great and good men — such as manifest great talents, and exert a wide and salutary influence on society — leave behind them so few materials for the biographer. The traces of their lives and characters soon become dim and obscure. When a few years have swept over their graves, it seems next to impossible, from the few scattered notices now to be found, to delineate with any good degree of accuracy the features of their moral and intellectual character. The good Isis is represented as going forth, wandering and weeping, to gather up the parts and fragments of her murdered and scattered Osiris; fondly yet vainly hoping that she might recover and recombine all the separate parts, and once more view her husband in all his former proportions and beauty. So we often do with the scattered mementos of our departed friends. From a few imperfect sources we attempt to give a faithful history of their lives, and a facsimile of their moral and intellectual features. Hic labor, hoc opus est.

Impressed with sentiments like these, we have undertaken the preparation of a brief biographical sketch of the Rev. EBENEZER FITCH, D. D., for twenty-two years President of Williams College. He possessed a mind of a high order, and for uniformity of deportment, consistency of character, ardor of piety, kindness of feeling, diligence and fidelity in discharging the various duties to which he was called, had but few superiors. It has long been a source of regret to many, that some memorial of this excellent man has not been placed in some permanent form. A simple, uncolored biography of him, even at this late day, and though prepared under great disadvantages, will, we trust, be acceptable to our readers,—especially to the numerous friends and alumni of Williams College. Besides, "some information of this kind is commonly required as a tribute, due to the memory of those who have distinguished themselves in the walks of learning and religion; and may animate others who are devoting their lives to similar pursuits."

President Fitch was a lineal descendant of the Rev. James Fitch, who was born at Bocking, County of Essex, England, December 24, 1622; and came to this country with a brother by the name of Thomas, in 1638. The ancient way of writing the name was Fytche. Thomas settled in Norwalk, Ct., and from him, according to Alden, descended the Hon. Thomas Fitch, who was for a number of years Governor of Connecticut. The Rev. James Fitch came to this country when he was sixteen years old. He had already acquired a correct knowledge of the learned languages; but spent seven years in preparing for the ministry, under the private instruction of the Rev. Messrs. Hooker and Stone, of Hartford.

He was first settled in Saybrook, in 1646. In October, 1648, he married Abigail Whitfield, daughter of the Rev. Henry Whitfield, of Guilford. Their children were James, born Aug., 1649; Abigail, Aug., 1650; Elizabeth, Jan., 1652; Hannah, Sept., 1653; Samuel, April, 1655; and Dorothy, 1658. Mrs. Fitch died at Saybrook, Sept., 1659.

In the year 1660, the Rev. James Fitch removed to Norwich with a large part of his congregation. In October, 1664, he married, for his second wife, Priscilla Mason, daughter of Major John Mason, who distinguished himself as a commander of the New England forces against the Pequot Indians. The children of Mr. Fitch by his second wife were, Daniel, born at Norwich, Aug., 1665; John,[*] Jan., 1667; Jeremiah, Sept., 1670; Jabez, April, 1672; Anna, April, 1675; Nathaniel, Oct., 1679; Joseph, Nov., 1681, and Ebenezer, May, 1683. These fourteen, except the last, lived to have families of children, from whom a numerous posterity has descended.

In his old age, the Rev. James Fitch removed to Lebanon, to live with one of his children, and died there in November, 1702, in the 80th year of his age.[†]

[*] John Fitch settled in Windham, and from him descended the Rev. Eleazer T. Fitch, D. D., Professor of Divinity in Yale College.

[†] The following is the inscription upon his monument, said to have been written by his son, the Rev. Jabez Fitch, of Portsmouth, New Hampshire:

In hoc sepulchro depositæ sunt reliquiæ Viri vere Reverendi Domini JACOBI FITCH, Natus fuit apud Bocking in Comitatu Essexiæ in Anglia, anno Domini 1622, Decembris 24; qui postquam linguis et literis optime

The Rev. James Fitch's oldest son, James, settled in Canterbury, about 1690, and was among its original inhabitants. He built the first framed house and barn in that town. He was one of the brave men who were engaged in the famous Philip's war, in 1675–6; and received a captain's commission before 1680. He was chosen major in 1686. He was a magistrate, or member of the council of the colony, as early as 1683; and continued to be reëlected till 1708 or 9. "He was the first donor to Yale College, who was not of the board of trustees. In October, 1701, he gave the college 637 acres of land in the town of Killingly, and all the glass and nails, which should be necessary to build the college edifice. This benefaction had great influence in procuring the charter, and in encouraging the friends of the college in promoting its interests, and on this account is deserving particular consideration." This James Fitch, Esq., — he is likewise called Major Fitch, in Trumbull's History of Connecticut, — married Elizabeth MASON, Jan., 1676. Their children were James, born (and died within a week after) Jan. 1, institutus fuisset, in Nov-Angliam venit, ætatis 16, et deinde vitam degit Harfordiæ per septennium sub institutione virorum celeberrimorum Domini Hooker et Domini Stone. Postea munere pastorali functus est apud Saybrook per annos 14. Illinc, cum ecclesiæ majori parte Norvicum migravit et ibi cæteros vitæ annos transegit in opere evangelico. In senectute vero præ corporis infirmitate necessarió cessabat ab opere publico; tandemque recessit liberis apud Lebanon, ubi, semi-anno fere exacto, obdormivit in Jesu, anno 1702, Novembris 18, ætatis suæ 80; vir ingenii acumine, pondere judicii, prudentia, charitate sancta, laboribus, et omnimoda vitæ sanctitate, peritia quoque et vi concionandi, nulli secundus.

1677; James, June, 1679; Jedidiah, April, 1681; Samuel, July, 1683; and Elizabeth, in 1684. Mrs. Fitch died in October, 1684. Major James Fitch married, May, 1686, Alice Adams, for his second wife. Their children were Abigail, born 1687; Ebenezer, 1689; Daniel, 1692; John, 1695; Bridget, 1697; Jerusha, 1699; William, 1701; and Jabez, 1703.

In 1722, Major James Fitch (who died in 1727, aged 78) gave to his son Jabez, "moved thereto by love and parental affection," by deed, a piece of land. This Jabez Fitch married Lydia Gale, in 1722, and settled on the land which his father gave him. He became captain, colonel, justice of the peace and quorum, and was for many years a Judge of Probate. His children were Jerusha, baptized in 1723; Alice, afterwards the wife of the Rev. Dr. James Cogswell, 1725; Perez, 1726; and then there is a chasm in the records till 1734; when the record of baptisms commences again, and Lydia is baptized; Lucy, in 1736; Asahel, in 1738; and Abigail, in 1741. Mrs. Fitch died in 1753. Col. Jabez Fitch married for his second wife, Elizabeth Darbe, in 1754. Some years afterwards, he buried his second wife. He was married a third time when about 78 years old. He died in 1784, aged 81. We have unquestionable authority for stating that Colonel Fitch was a man of superior talents, unblemished character, devoted piety, and of almost unbounded influence in his native town.

Jabez, son of Colonel Jabez Fitch, was the father of President Fitch. He was born in the parish of Newent, May 23, 1728 or 9; it is uncertain which. According to Norwich records, he was born in 1729; but according to the record of his baptism by the Rev. Mr. Kirkland, he was born in 1728. He married Lydia, daughter of Dea. Ebenezer Huntington, of Norwich, Aug. 22, 1754. Their children were Perez, born Sept. 5, 1755, and died the next day; Ebenezer, the subject of this memoir, Sept. 26, 1756; Lydia, Oct. 9, 1758, and lived ten months; Lydia, June 14, 1760; Abigail, July 24, 1762, and lived just nine months; Jabez Gale, March 20, 1764; Sarah, April 28, 1766; Anna (afterwards the wife of the Rev. Dr. Sanders), Feb. 3, 1768; Chauncey, Jan. 17, 1771; Samuel, March 3, 1773; Lucy, March 24, 1777; and Alice, June 2, 1781. The father of President Fitch did not receive a college education. He was, however, a physician of considerable eminence. Medical students in great numbers resorted to him for instruction. Of his twelve children, three died in infancy; the rest lived to mature age, and became heads of as many families. His five daughters all married men of college education. Two married clergymen; two, physicians; and one a lawyer. One son, Col. Jabez G. Fitch, was for twelve years the United States' Marshal for the district of Vermont, under the entire administrations of Washington and Adams. Another son, Chauncey Fitch, was a physician, and afterwards a judge of a court in Franklin County, Vt.; and Samuel Fitch was a merchant in Burlington.

Mrs. Fitch, the mother of the President, died at Vergennes, Vt. To an intimate friend, President Fitch thus writes: — "My mother left this evil world, I trust for a better, on Monday, April 4, 1803. We have good ground to believe that she has made a happy exchange, — that she has gone to that rest which is prepared for the people of God. Her funeral was attended on Thursday. The Rev. Job Swift was expected to preach; but he and my brother Sanders, as my father was afterwards informed, were both detained on account of sickness. After waiting some hours, the large assembly moved to the court-house, where they sung a funeral anthem. As there was no one present who was willing to offer a prayer on such an occasion, under his heavy affliction and disappointment, my father attempted it. And he states, 'I trust I was enabled to cast my burden on the Lord. By his assistance I was carried through, and felt more able to speak when I closed, than when I began.'" To see a man, who was himself standing on the verge of the eternal world, before a large congregation where a minister was expected to officiate, leading the devotions of the people at the funeral of his own wife, is said to have been a sight so affecting as to draw tears from the eyes of all who were present.

Dr. Fitch, the father of the President, died December 19, 1806, in Sheldon, Vt., at the house of his son, Dr. Chauncey Fitch, while on a visit. He died of a lingering consumption. He was a man of eminent piety, and remarkably gifted in prayer. He made a public profession of religion when a young man; and for a number of years held the office of Deacon in the church of Canterbury. "That religion," writes President Fitch, "which he had so long professed, afforded him the greatest consolation to the last. The near approach of death did not appear to terrify or alarm him. He regarded death as a kind messenger sent by Heaven to release him from a world of sin and trouble, and convey him to mansions of eternal rest, there to meet his dear departed friends, and spend an eternity with them in contemplating the glory, and adoring the perfections of their God and Saviour."

President Fitch's mother, her father, her only brother (Dea. Simon Huntington, of Norwich, who was graduated at Yale College in 1741), and all her sons, died suddenly; most of them without an hour's warning.

We shall now be excused for a brief recapitulation. President Fitch's father was Dr. Jabez Fitch, and his mother was Lydia Huntington.

His grandfather was Col. Jabez Fitch, and his grandmother was Lydia Gale.

His great-grandfather was Major James Fitch, and his great-grandmother was Alice Adams.

His great-great-grandfather was the Rev. James

Fitch, and his great-great-grandmother was Abigail Whitfield.

President Fitch could truly make the sentiment of the admired Cowper his own: —

"My boast is not that I deduce my birth
From loins enthroned, and rulers of the earth;
But higher far my proud pretensions rise, —
The child of parents passed into the skies."

CHAPTER II.

THE TIME AND CORRECT PLACE OF DR. FITCH'S BIRTH — HIS PRIVATE JOURNAL WHILE IN COLLEGE — HIS STANDING AS A SCHOLAR — PRONOUNCES THE VALEDICTORY.

PRESIDENT FITCH was the second child of his parents, and was born* Sept. 26, 1756. We must here be pardoned for a brief digression. The Rev. Dr. James Cogswell, who was graduated at Yale College in 1742, and who was for a number of years a minister in Canterbury, married an aunt of President Fitch, whose name was Alice Fitch. Their son, Samuel Cogswell, was about the same age with President Fitch. They were both fitted for college by Dr. Cogswell, were classmates, and very intimate friends. They were admitted members of Yale College in 1773, and were graduated in 1777. Of this Samuel Cogswell further mention will be made in another place.

* It is stated in the history of Berkshire County, and on his tombstone at West Bloomfield, N. Y., that Dr. Fitch was a native of Canterbury, Ct. This is evidently a mistake. That he was brought up in Canterbury, there can be no doubt. But his birth unquestionably occurred in Norwich.

CHAPTER IV.

DR. FITCH ELECTED PRECEPTOR OF THE ACADEMY AT WILLIAMSTOWN — APPLICATION FOR A COLLEGE CHARTER — DR. FITCH ELECTED PRESIDENT — HIS MARRIAGE — HIS FAMILY — DEATH OF HIS SON — DR. FITCH'S LETTER — HIS ORDINATION — PROSPERITY OF THE COLLEGE — LETTER FROM DR. WEST TO DR. SAMUEL HOPKINS — CONTINUED PROSPERITY — TROUBLE IN COLLEGE — HON. C. A. DEWEY'S REMARKS AT THE HALF-CENTURY MEETING IN 1843.

A LITERARY institution having been commenced in Williamstown, Mass., with an expectation that it would become a college, Mr. Fitch was urgently solicited to dissolve his connection with Yale College, and take charge of it. He was elected to the office of Preceptor of the academy in Williamstown, October 27, 1790. It was not without much hesitation and inquiry that he concluded to accept of this appointment. Early the next year, however, he returned an answer of acceptance, and commenced teaching a public school there Oct. 26, 1791. "It consisted of two departments, — an academy or grammar school, and English free school, — and under the direction of Mr. Fitch immediately became prosperous. A considerable number of students resorted to it from Massachusetts and the neighboring States, and some even from Canada."

The reputation and prospective usefulness of the institution strengthened the desire of the trustees and people of Williamstown to effect more perfectly the object in view,—namely, to erect the school into a college. Accordingly a petition, evidently written by President Fitch, and dated at Williamstown, May 22, 1792,—about six months from the opening of the academy,—was signed by William Williams, Theodore Sedgwick, Woodbridge Little, John Bacon, T. J. Skinner, Seth Swift, Daniel Collins, Israel Jones, and David Noble, and presented to the Legislature, praying for an act of incorporation changing the school into a college. This application proved successful, and a college charter was granted by the Legislature June 22, 1793. In August of that year, Mr. Fitch was elected President, and in October following, Williams College was regularly organized by the admission of three small classes. President Fitch now entered upon a theatre of enlarged and responsible action,—one for which, by his learning, talents, and experience in teaching, he was well adapted. In choosing him as the first President of their infant seminary the trustees were eminently united and happy. And that they were neither unwise nor disappointed in their choice cannot be doubted by those who are acquainted with the early history of the college. In his hands, and under his care, it soon acquired celebrity and influence, numbers and usefulness, not surpassed, if equalled, by any sister institution of that period in circumstances no more friendly to success.

In May, 1792, President Fitch was united in marriage to Mrs. Mary Cogswell, the widow of his intimate friend, cousin, and classmate, Samuel Cogswell, Esq., who has been before mentioned. Mrs. Cogswell was the daughter of Major Ebenezer Backus, of Windham, Ct.,—a highly intelligent and amiable woman. Previous to her first marriage, she received a matrimonial offer from Samuel Cogswell, Esq., and President Fitch, about the same time. Neither of them was aware that the other had made her such a proposal. She was, however, united to Mr. Cogswell in marriage. Samuel Cogswell, Esq., was a brother of Dr. Mason Fitch Cogswell, of Hartford, the originator and patron of the American Asylum, in that place, for the education of the deaf and dumb. Mr. Cogswell resided in Lansingburg, N. Y., and was accidentally shot dead, on a gunning party, by a friend and fellow-graduate of Yale College, about the time that President Fitch went to Williamstown.

By his marriage, President Fitch became the father of eleven children, ten of whom were sons.*

* The two children left by Mr. Cogswell — Maria, afterward the wife of Major Jonathan Sloan, and James Fitch Cogswell — President Fitch treated as his own, giving the son a public education. He was graduated at Williams College, in 1808. Three of President Fitch's children were born at a birth, May, 1807, two of whom died the June following, of the whooping-cough. One of the three is still living. The children now liv-

Five died young. The oldest of this number, Ebenezer, had just been admitted a member of college, and died the night preceding commencement, 1807. He was a professor of religion, and a youth of great promise.

After describing some domestic afflictions, in a letter to a relative, Dr. Fitch adds:—

"But a holy God had a still heavier affliction in store for us. Alas, must I tell you that my first-born, my Ebenezer, has gone down to the grave? So, indeed, it is. In the summer of 1806 he obtained a hope that his heart was renewed by divine grace, and he afterwards lived like a sincere and devoted Christian. On the third Sabbath in January, he, with several others, made a public profession of religion. He was unusually gifted in prayer and exhortation, and took a modest but active part in the religious conferences of the young people. Several times in my absence he prayed in the family with propriety, fervor, and solemnity. It was usual for him to pray with his brothers in their chamber before retiring to rest, and immediately after they rose in the morning; and we have evidence that he did not neglect secret prayer. Thus was God, I humbly trust, in infinite mercy preparing him for the great event which was so near at hand. On Saturday, the 29th of August, he and several others of his mates were examined and admitted into college. The next day I preached, and he was present all day. We had all been ill with a severe influenza. He had it lighter than the rest of the family, and appeared to be well over it. Sabbath evening he told his mother that he ing are two sons and the only daughter, Mrs. Lucy Fitch Folsom, whose husband is an efficient chaplain in the army. Two of Dr. Fitch's sons were graduated at Williams College,—Mason Cogswell Fitch, in 1815, who died in 1852 at New Albany, Indiana, a man of wealth and influence; the Rev. Charles Fitch graduated in 1818, and died in 1864, having filled up a life of usefulness.

felt unusually well, and retired to rest. Before sunrise on Monday morning I found him afflicted with chills, which were succeeded by fever. I administered some mild remedies, which seemed to remove his fever, and thought little of any danger in his case. I was in the college till noon, and did not till three o'clock take any alarm. I then found his fever high, and called in a physician, who bled him, and all his strength and senses left him at once, and he appeared to be sinking into the arms of death. My pen will not allow me to describe the distressing scene which followed. He expired just after twelve on Wednesday morning of commencement-day. God enabled me to go through the usual exercises of the day; and on Thursday forenoon we attended the funeral, and committed the dear, darling child to the dust. My heart daily bleeds under this sore affliction. But God be praised, — the dear child, I doubt not, is with his Saviour. There, there may he be. I wish not to recall him. His age was fourteen years, six months, and five days. I have now lost a very obedient, affectionate, pious, and promising child. But my loss is his inestimable gain. All is right. All is well. And may God have all the praise."

"The President," says the Rev. Dr. Robbins, who was present on the occasion, "though deeply afflicted, appeared remarkably well. He performed the official duties of Commencement with great correctness and propriety. The funeral of his son was attended the next day, and most of the students remained to sympathize with their deeply afflicted President and his family. When the corpse was deposited in the grave, the bereaved father in a calm and collected tone remarked: "I do not deposit in this grave silver or gold, but my first-born, the beginning of my strength."

The first Commencement of Williams College was on the first Wednesday in Sept., 1795. On the 17th day of June previous, President Fitch was ordained a minister of the gospel, at Williamstown, by the Berkshire Association, with special reference to his station as head of the college. The Rev. Ephraim Judson, of Sheffield, preached the sermon from 2 Timothy iv. 2. Preach the word. The Rev. Dr. West, of Stockbridge, gave the charge. And the Rev. Mr. Swift, of Williamstown, gave the right hand of fellowship. In this he remarks: "We rejoice at your readiness to engage in the great work of the gospel ministry, and to make preaching your business at college and other places, so far as your study and business at college will permit."

President Fitch received the honorary degree of Doctor in Divinity, from Harvard University, in September, 1800.

Williams College came into existence in a great measure by the wise and persevering efforts of President Fitch, and prospered greatly under his influence and supervision. From an humble beginning it was raised, chiefly by his instrumentality, to a station of high and acknowledged respectability and usefulness. For a series of years it continued to advance with accelerated progress in usefulness and reputation. Such was the rapidity of its growth, and its almost unexampled prosperity, that at one period of Dr. Fitch's presidency it enrolled upon its annual catalogue about one hundred and forty students. It was resorted to from all parts of New England and New York.

The following brief extracts from some of President Fitch's letters will be read, in this connection, with interest:

> "January, 1796. The number of students is increasing so rapidly that we are already in want of another college edifice. We hope to obtain from the State a grant of a township of land in the Province of Maine, which, if obtained, will enable us to erect another building. At present, we have a very likely collection of young men. They are very studious and orderly, and give us scarcely any trouble."

Through the influence of the late Dr. West, of Stockbridge, who was for a number of years Vice President of Williams College, Dr. Hopkins's System of Divinity was for a time one of the textbooks for the senior class. March, 1797, the President writes: "In future we shall read Doddridge's Lectures in lieu of Hopkins's System."

The following letter from Dr. West to Dr. Samuel Hopkins will be read, in this connection, with interest: —

> "STOCKBRIDGE, Sept. 19, 1797.
> "You spoke in your last of our having prohibited your System being recited in Williams College. It is true, the trustees have prohibited it. It was introduced as a classical study without the order of the corporation. The President introduced it because, as he told me, he thought it much exceeded anything of the kind he had seen. But the civilian part of the board, it seems, were

Notes for Thomas Fitch, IV, Gov.:
Thomas Fitch

FITCH, Thomas, governor of Connecticut, born in Norwalk, Connecticut, in June 1699" died there in July 1774. He was graduated at Yale in 1721, studied law, and after middle life filled successively the offices of chancellor, judge of the superior court, and chief justice of his state. His principles were loyal, and, notwithstanding the growing unpopularity of his opinions, he was elected governor in 1754, and held office till 1766. In 1765, Ingersoll, the royal stamp master of Connecticut, put himself under the protection of Governor Fitch, and in the same year, at the general assembly held in Hartford the governor took the oath of office prescribed in the stamp act. Colonel Putnam afterward waited on him to express the sentiments of the people as to this matter, and told him that if he refused to admit the "Sons of Liberty," who were coming to destroy the stamped paper, his house would be leveled to the dust in five minutes. In consequence of persisting in the protection of Ingersoll and holding to his loyalist sentiments, the general assembly of 1766 forced him from public life by electing William Pitkin governor of the state in his stead. Governor Fitch at once retired to private life. A monument, raised by public subscription, which is still standing in the private cemetery of his home in Norwalk, Connecticut, commemorates his "large acquirements, virtuous character, and strict fidelity in discharge of important trusts." His descendants and the collateral branches of his family are still among the most public-spirited citizens of Norwalk. See Van Rensselaer's "Ancestral Sketches" (New York, 1882).

Notes for Thomas Fitch, V, Col.:
Yankee Doodle Dandies

IN 1756 A call went out for volunteers to form a Yankee brigade which would be attached to British forces fighting the troublesome French and Indians in the on-going wilderness war. From the villages and farms of Connecticut, the eager young recruits straggled in to the advertised place of assembly, the Norwalk home of the group's commanding officer, Colonel Thomas Fitch, son of Connecticut Governor Thomas Fitch. As the Nutmeg irregulars finally gathered in Col. Fitch's yard prior to setting out for Fort Crailo, across the Hudson from Albany, New York, to join the British regulars, they were about as unmilitary-looking a group as had ever been seen in America.
Dressed in the clothes they wore when they left their farms, mounted on horses only recently released from plowing duty and armed with muskets designed more for shooting game than Frenchmen and Indians, the ragged little band awaited their marching orders. But before they pulled out, Elizabeth Fitch, Col. Fitch's sixteen-year-old sister, and some other young women who had come to bid them farewell, became appalled by their motley appearance. Crying, "You must have uniforms of some kind," Elizabeth led the girls into the Fitch chicken yard, where they gathered enough feathers for all hands. "Soldiers should wear plumes," insisted Elizabeth as she and her friends distributed the chicken feathers and ordered each rider to put one in his hat band.

When the curious Connecticut cavalry finally swung proudly into Gen. Abercrombie's headquarters at Fort Crailo, the British soldiers were wildly amused. Nothing seemed more ridiculous to the spit-and-polish regulars than the thought of having to fight at the side of these colonials whose only distinguishing uniform item was a chicken feather.

"Dudes! Dandies! Popinjays!" called the fine, red-coated soldiers as they gathered about the new arrivals in camp. Dr. Shuckberg, a British army surgeon, was overheard to exclaim, "Why, stab my vitals, they're macaronis!", sarcastically applying the London slang of the day for fop, or dandy, and even provincial troops from Massachusetts and Rhode Island picked up the refrain: "Macaronis! Macaronis, for certain!" As the lads from Connecticut joined in the general merriment which their arrival had created, they heard young Dr. Shuckberg begin to sing the words to a little jingle he had made up on the spot to celebrate the occasion and set to the tune of an old, familiar folk ditty called "Lucy Locket Lost Her Pocket:" Yankee Doodle came to town Riding on a pony. Stuck a feather in his hat And called it macaroni.

So much for legend. The rest, as they say, is history. The nonsense song caught on like no other in American history. It not only survived the French and Indian War, but became the rallying song for colonial troops during the Revolutionary War and Union Army forces during the Civil War. American soldiers in World Wars I and II carried it to international fame. It helped to disperse the Yankee tradition across the northern section of the nation and ultimately made the term "Yankee" synonymous with "American."

While he might overstate the case a bit, historian W. Storrs Lee has also seen "Yankee Doodle" as a peculiarly representative Connecticut contribution to the field of culture and the arts. "Yankee ingenuity," Lee concluded, "did not flow in the direction of sublime artistry.... The Connecticut creative artist was droll, whimsical, original, but he shied away from the pretty and the elegant as he would from idolatry." In other words, making a "macaroni" out of a rough farm lad with a chicken feather might not have been an act of sublime art, but it may have been a profound expression of the creative spirit of Connecticut. Perhaps some subconscious realization of this inspired the Connecticut General Assembly, after years of petty wrangling, to agree finally in 1979 to make "Yankee Doodle" the official State Song.

ii. Jonathan Fitch, Col.[53,54], born 12 Apr 1727 in Norwalk, Fairfield Co., Conn.; died 22 Sep 1793 in New Haven, New Haven Co., Conn; married (1) Sarah Saltonstall 01 Sep 1757 in New London, Conn; died 19 Aug 1765; married (2) Elizabeth Mary Mix 15 May 1766 in New Haven, New Haven, Conn; born 30 Sep 1746; died 03 Jan 1810.

Notes for Jonathan Fitch, Col.:
Marriage to Sarah Saltonsall, in the "Fitch Family History", by Roscoe Conkling Fitch, lists three children born to this Jonathan, and wife Sarah, namely: Sarah, Thomas Roswell, and Sarah Elizabeth. Confusion fourishes as: "Families of Ancient New Haven", by Jacobus lists five children. Also, "RC" lists marriage date as: 01 September , 1751, Jacobus lists same day/month, yet year as 1757.

Marriage to Elizabeth Mary Mix, in the "The Fitch Family History", by Roscoe Conkling Fitch, lists six UNNAMED children born to this Jonathan, and wife Elizabeth. Confusion continues to fourish as: "Families of Ancient New Haven", by Jacobus lists twelve children, which have been listed.

Take your pick. ALL of the children, listed in the above two references, are included in this genealogy.

SUMMARY:

"RC" states a total of 9 children, by both wives, of which one was Thomas Roswell Fitch.
"Jacobus lists 17 children, by same wives, of which none was Thomas Roswell Fitch.
Therefore, who is to say who is the true parentage of Thomas Rosewell Fitch, born 1755, as listed by Roscoe Conkling Fitch.. kk

Hi there.... The subject of this email is the name of a book that I received in Saturday afternoon's late mail delivery. The sub-title is Memories of Mary FITCH. Yes my dear, another "new" FITCH has surfaced. Mary wrote her manuscript in the vernacular of the time. Really a very interesting 'read'. Published by the Granville Historical Society, Granville, Licking Co., Ohio. in 2007.

The book was sent to me by a 'cousin' in the line of my great-grandfather's wife, Eliza Kerr. Yes, I do forget how we became acquainted. Probably by another 'cousin, on my great-grandfather's side. Simeon'FITCH. Her name is Juliana Mulroy. Julie is a Professor at Denison University in Granville, Ohio. Me thinks she is almost retired, due to health reasons. She's only 68 years old. So young to be so physically impaired. Forget what she has, tho do know she handles it quite admirably. We've met twice, once on each of my cross-country soirees. Lovely home sitting on a huge tree-covered lot. Very peaceful and tranquil there. Could have stayed longer.... You know me, always in a rush to go heaven knows where.

This particular Mary FITCH is the daughter of William and Sarah (Hanford) FITCH. Both born in Norwalk, Fairfield Co., Conn. William is the son of Timothy and Esther (Platt) FITCH. There are ST. JOHN's, LOCKWOOD's and COMSTOCK's in her 'tree', et others yet to be input in to this database.

Mary was married to Orren BRYANT. They had 5 children. Mary was the youngest, b. 1811, in Schodack, Rensselar Co., NY. Her manuscript was written for her son Charles Webster BRYANT. Charles became the founder of the Grandville Historical Society, in 1885. Have yet to research the BRYANT line. Probably will. YOU know how "we" are, when it comes to research ....

Me seems to recall that there is a James FITCH, 2nd, in there somewhere. And, a MERCY LOCKWOOD. Maybe 'they' were married.

Sure found out how long it has been since I tried to do ANY research. Almost had myself convinced that I had TOTALLY lost my ability to do so, especially when trying to find someone in one or the other of the books I have amassed. Next will be to try to locate where I stashed the various and sundry CD's purchased Oh so LONG ago. Actually my nephew moved ever so much, to make a path for the wheel chair after broke my femur. Will find them tomorrow, after I take my truck in to see if the air conditioner has acquired a malady. It works okay. The condensation is wickedly pouring off the durn thing. Before it got HOT here. If you call high 70's HOT. If the ocean breeze would fail to make it to Torrance, it would probably be UP in the mid-80's to mid-90's. So far the tree limbs keep a wiggling, thank goodness.

Anyway, Mary's Descendancy Chart is up to 27 pages. Can send it to you now, or when I think enough has been added, or whatever you want.

I'm fine. The 'girls' are fine. Sorry to take ever so long to send you an email. Maybe waiting until I had something good to write, as little if anything goes on here. Same old, same old.

Take care. This is more than enough, for you to plow through, for this time.

Sooo good to finally hear from a NEW Fitch, even IF from Rev. James line.
You will want to read the email(s) from the bottom up. I put the JT Vol. and page numbers next to that which Grant's father sent. ENJOY. Oh yes, I input Grant, etc., he is my 9th cousin, once removed.

Sent Grant the attached, taking him ALL the way back, well past the James his father mentions being born in 1718.

Have a grand day. kk

Dear Betty:

Enclosed is the results of an almost futile attempt at printing out FITCH Arms Iron-on-Transfer decals. Try as I might, I have been very unsuccessful to get the color printer cartridge to print the yellow, of the chevron, and the leopards heads. Even refilled the darn color cartridge which ignores the colors set for printing. Do whatever you wish with it. Happy Ground Hog Day !!!

Instructions, for ironing, as if you need them, are:

1. Preheat iron to highest setting. Do not use steam. Cut out image leaving 1/4" to 1/2" border. Place transfer paper image side down onto fabric. Be sure that garmet is completely flat and wrinkle free. Iron on flat, hard surface. Do not use ironing board.
2. Iron transfer image for at least 2 minutes, using maximum, even pressure. Be sure to overlap on all corners and edges. Allow printed area to cool. Before peeling, stretch/pull fabric on one corner and with firm, steady pressure remove transfer sheet.
3. Allow one day before washing imaged item. Wash in cool/warm water turning garmet inside out removing as soon as washing cycle is complete. Do not use bleach. Lay flat to dry for best results. Iron on opposite side of image if garmet needs pressing.

If you'd like, I can either email the WORD page, or send it to you on a floppy. Maybe your printer (if color) would do a better job. Also, sending along some odds and ends of stuff, printed from one genealogical CD or another. Been searching for Elizabeth Tinker / John FITCH, so far with less success than printing of the "iron-on".

Yes !!! Southern California Edison is trying to get all of our "goats". Pat was actually disappointed that there was no 'blackout' yesterday. She had set up, several of her beloved candles, in readiness for the tranquil darkness. Me, has a battery operated 'thingie', that receives my favorite TV station. New batteries installed, and channel set for listening.... .. Going back to sitting in the dark, while listening to a 'radio', will bring back fond childhood memories.

Sending off letter(s) to two Pike County Illinois Historical/Genealogy Societies, when this is mailed. Found the addresses on the internet. Checking to see if they might have anything on my great-grandfather Simeon, et fami, that might be missing from my collection. One only knows, if one tries. Beats the heck out of the alternative, which would be serious house cleaning thoughts. I do shudder at that thought !!!

Shall keep plugging along on this 'puter, until "they" decide when "they" wish to try to inconvience me in my dogged pursuit of ancestry.

As ever,

Karen
